STATE'S PACE IS TOO FAST FOR REVENUE SOURCES

Expenditures Voted by People Seen as Disproportionate to Tax System; Collapse Feared

BY KYLE D. PALMER
"Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—Governmental costs in California over which the Governor and the State Legislature have no control, expenditures authorized and voted by the people themselves, are increasing in such disproportion to the increase in available revenue as to indicate the probability of a collapse in the existing methods of taxation for State purposes within the next fifteen years.

These costs, ordinarily designated as "fixed charges," will approximate $68,000,000 for the coming biennium, a total four times greater than the entire annual cost of State government in 1910.

Taking into account all factors relating to increase in population and taxable wealth over a period of years ending in 1943, it is estimated by Ray L. Riley, State Controller, that the fixed charges within eighteen years will absorb every dollar of available revenue as provided under present tax methods.

AUTOMATIC INCREASE

The so-called fixed costs of government in this State are chiefly for education, for interest and for redemption of bonds, for the maintenance of State parks and other recurrent appropriations and are wholly distinct from and in addition to the millions of dollars appropriated biennially by the Legislature for other governmental purposes.

Economy and cost reductions in various State departments made possible by the budget law adopted by the people two years ago and enforced by Gov. Richardson, are accomplished largely through retrenchment in maintenance and administrative expenses; the fixed charges increase automatically and must be provided for under mandates from the people that leave neither the legislative nor the executive branch of government any discretion in the matter.

Students of economics and tax experts profess to be greatly concerned for the future welfare of the State and are prepared, it is said, to engage in an exhaustive investigation of the whole tax question with a view to recommending changes in the present law, which was adopted in 1910.

BASED ON RECEIPTS

State taxes in California are collected from utilities and corporations on a basis of gross receipts, franchise and other assessment forms and are largely charged off as operating expenses by the corporations, which thus become virtually the agent of the State in collecting revenue from those who use gasoline, gas, electricity, or who patronize the electric railways, the steam roads and the insurance and

KELLOGG TO TAKE POST

Receives News in Paris Papers

Negotiated War Claims Pact on Which He Will Pass as Secretary of State

President Turns Attention to Vacancies Made in Diplomatic Corps

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Jan. 11.—Frank B. Kellogg, the American Ambassador to the Court of St. James, will accept the post of Secretary of State tendered him by President Coolidge on the resignation of Charles Evans Hughes.

"I read the news in the morning papers announcing that the President had decided to appoint me Secretary of State, which I accept and appreciate very greatly as a great honor," said Ambassador Kellogg, who is here attending the international financial conference today.

"I am not unmindful of the difficulties and the responsibilities of this great office," Mr Kellogg continued, "following especially such a distinguished and eminent lawyer and statesman as Mr. Hughes. There is nothing more that I can say at this time."

UNAWARE OF HONOR

Mr. Kellogg, tired from his four days of arduous work as chief American delegate to the conference of the Allied Finance Ministers, retired at 11 o'clock Saturday night without being officially aware he would awake as President Coolidge's appointee to be the next Secretary of State. Mr. Kellogg and Myron T. Herrick, the American Ambassador to France, had been at the British Embassy in company with the other heads of the financial delegations, and reached Mr. Herrick's private home, where Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg are guests, before the news of his appointment became known in Paris.

Mr. Herrick's house was subjected to a night-long siege by American newspaper correspondents; but after conferring with Mrs. Kellogg, Ambassador Herrick decided that the newly appointed Secretary of State should not be disturbed.

VISITS LOGAN

Ambassador Kellogg today visited the offices of James A. Logan of the American delegation, and drafted a long cable dispatch to the State Department in Washington containing the solutions reached between the British and Americans on questions of war-damage claims, which he probably will be called upon to pass on as Secretary of State when the protocol comes up for approval by the Washington government some months hence.

The French government was prompt in realizing the importance of having the future American Secretary of State "in their midst." Finance Minister Clementel and Minister of Commerce Reynalds called at Ambassador Herrick's home and left cards for Mr. Kellogg, while Premier Herriot sent M. Bergery, his chief of Cabinet, to congratulate the new appointee. None of them saw Mr. Kellogg, however, as he was engaged with Mr. Logan in preparing the cablegram.

COOLIDGE TURNS TO DIPLOMATIC CORPS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Having accepted the resignation of Secretary of State Hughes and selected Ambassador Kellogg at London as his successor, President Coolidge will give attention now to the task of filling the vacancies in the Diplomatic Corps resulting from these changes in his Cabinet on March 4.

Meanwhile the Senate will give consideration to two appointments by the Chief Executive of equal importance, those of Harlan F. Stone of New York to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court and Charles B. Warren of Michigan, to succeed him as Attorney-General. Favorable action on both is expected.

In line with the promotion of Ambassador Kellogg, the President is understood to have in mind the advancement of Ambassador Houghton at Berlin to the Court of St. James. With such a policy carried to a logical conclusion there would be a general advance-

Believes South America, Not Euphrates, is Cradle of Civilization

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Col. P. H. Fawcett, F.R.G.S., D.S.O., distinguished British explorer, sailed on the Vauban Saturday for Rio de Janeiro to smash through 1500 miles of swamp, jungle and desert to a hidden ancient city in the heart of Brazil, which he believes will give proof that South America, and not the valley of the Euphrates, is the cradle of civilization.

The expedition is sanctioned and aided by the Royal Geographical Society of England, the American Geographical Society of New York, and by the Museum of the American Indian, Heye Foundation. Col. Fawcett goes also as correspondent of the Los Angeles Times and the North American Newspaper Alliance.

It is perhaps the most harzardous and certainly the most spectacular adventure of the kind ever undertaken by a scientist with the backing of conservative scientific bodies. It is the culmination of Col. Fawcett's years of exploration in the South American jungles which have revealed discoveries of such astounding interest that he has guarded them zealously, awaiting an opportunity to bring back final and convincing proof.

ANCIENT CIVILIZATION

He already has gone far toward validation of his contention that there existed in this region a majestic civilization of an unknown white race, perhaps 10,000 years old, antedating Egypt; that it held the secret of a mysterious light, possibly derived from some knowledge of basic atomic forces; that these ancient people knew astronomy and mathematics and that they had perhaps the oldest highly developed indigenous culture in the history of the world. He has so far analyzed and articulated his findings that, as he now says, he is ready to announce his conclusions and risk his scientific reputation upon them.

"We have known of Col. Fawcett for many years as a man of soundest character and the highest integrity," Dr. Isaiah Bowman of the American Geographical Society said today. "We have the highest confidence, both in his capacity and his competence and reliability as a scientist."

The ancient city—and this is not an incredible chapter from "King Solomon's Mines," but a statement by the holder of the Founders' medal of the Royal Geographical Society—is guarded by tribes of desperate ferocity and encompassed by all but impenetrable jungles. Col. Fawcett and his companions must brave arrows, pestilence, giant anacondas, savage black panthers, and all the creeping, crawling, flying creatures bred in the slime of the jungle; they must cross arid desert wastes and ascend to a desolate, blasted volcanic region, where for ages the litter of a once opulent civilization has been walled and guarded by the mountain peaks.

VETERAN EXPLORER

Col. Fawcett has spent the greater part of the last eighteen years in this wilderness. He has seen men impaled by the arrows of the Indians, and has seen a mule crushed by a fifty-foot anaconda. So great are the hazards that he is taking with him only two men, his son, Jack Fawcett, 21 years, and Raleigh Rimell, 23, a young Englishman whom he has known from birth, who for the last three

CALIFORNIA TAX RELIEF IS ASSURED

Shortridge Gets Coolidge Promise in the Community Property Matter

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Senator Shortridge, in a conference with President Coolidge late yesterday afternoon, was assured by the Chief Executive that the California community property matter would be finally disposed of by Treasury regulations before Atty.-Gen. Stone leaves his present office as Attorney-General.

Senator Shortridge said two attorney-generals had wrestled with the subject for over a year, and the California taxpayers had won with both Daugherty and Stone, but thus far the Treasury Department had refused to follow the advice of both attorney-generals. Senator Shortridge wants the new regulation issued at once, so the California taxpayers can take advantage of it on community property tax returns to be filed March 15.

INDIAN KILLS ONE; WOUNDS ONE IN FIGHT

Deputy Sheriff Shot to Death; Agent is Seriously Hurt Near Bishop

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BISHOP, Jan. 11.—Deputy Sheriff L. A. Hazard was shot and killed, and R. P. Parrett, Federal Indian agent, was seriously wounded, when the two attempted to arrest an Indian known as "Jackson" at an encampment north of here today.

Jackson, who was slightly wounded in the affray, was jailed on a murder charge. Witnesses said he wounded Parrett when the latter arrived at the camp in response to reports that he was running amuck. When Hazard came to Barrett's assistance the Indian is asserted to have emptied a shotgun into him, afterward breaking the stock of the gun over the deputy's head.

NEW PLANES DEVELOPED

Army Pilots Jubilant Over Southland and Curtis Built Air Machines

Two Models More Efficient, Speedy Than War-time DeHaviland Ships

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—After five years of effort to develop an airplane to supplant the old wartime DeHaviland with its peacetime improvements, the Army Air Service has found two types of ships far superior to anything ever developed in the observation class which will be capable of not only using up the 9000 Liberty motors produced during the war, but, by changing four bolts in the front, can harbor a more powerful and what is believed a more efficient aviation engine. Los Angeles produced one of these—made by Donald Douglas, builder of the world-flight planes.

The recent development of two types of pursuit planes now leaves the air service deficient in bombardment airplanes—the present Martin bomber, a war product having held up that important activity of military aviation for a number of years but not to the complete satisfaction of the service. Concentration on bombardment therefore soon will begin by the air service now that four types of planes—two observation and two pursuits—can secure these two branches of aviation for at least the next three years.

PILOTS PLEASED

Security in this respect, however, is mostly on paper, for although production has been started on pursuits, the aircraft factories have not yet received orders for the observation ships in quantity.

News of the latest observation planes is received by Army pilots with manifestations of joy. Since the later days of the war they have been flying this original British product in which, however, there have been more than 5000 improvements by Army engineers. All the DeHavilands in service now were produced during the war, but have had to be rebuilt along with the Liberty motors which fly them. Their average maximum flying speed is about 120 miles an hour and their cruising radius—in strictly service ships — about three hours.

Now come two ships that fly 140 and 150 miles an hour with Liberty motors of 400 horsepower and even faster with the Packard "fifteen hundred" motors of 505 horsepower, which, however, has not completely been radicated of the "bug," within it to the extent the Liberty has. In other words, every inch of the motor is not guaranteed to a certain performance and it is only through constant testing that the peculiarities become known.

SUBMIT SAMPLES

Years of research at the engineering division, McCook Fied, Dayton, O., produced results in improvements of types over the DeHaviland, but they were not completely satisfactory. Last March Maj.-Gen. Patrick, chief of the Air Service, called in four aircraft companies and told them to submit "samples" of the best modern observation ship.

In December two new "jobs" as they are called in the experimental stage, put in appearance at the McCook testing field, one an observation plane, designed and built by Donald W. Douglas of Santa Monica, who also designed and built the famous world cruisers, and the other a product of the engineering plant of the Curtis Aircraft Corporation of Garden City, Long Island. The test pilots at the field immediately put them through the rigorous tests and on completion submitted highly illuminating favorable reports. This was followed by a special board of officers who likewise found two wonderful ships and recommended adoption by the Air Service.

RESEMBLES CRUISER

The Douglas observation plane at a glance resembles the world cruiser in type. It has a speed of about 140 miles an hour fully loaded at the weight of 4400 pounds and a service ceiling of about 17,000 feet, meaning it can reach that altitude. It carries a pilot and observer, machine guns, radio, photographic equipment and all other necessary auxiliaries of an observation plane. Pilots who have flown it pronounce it a ship of luxury. One can toss a trunk in the back compartment and with a gas capacity for 900 miles can breeze off on a cross-country trip snubbing landing fields they were required to put down in for fuel, and enjoy the scenery while the ship virtually flies itself.

The other observation plane built by the Curtis Corporation is not such an easy chair. It is more than ten miles faster and in reality is a two-place pursuit ship. It is lighter by 400 pounds and has an absolute ceiling of about 20,000 feet while fully loaded it can reach an altitude of close to 19,000 feet. Its speed with the Liberty motor is slightly in excess of 152 miles an hour, while with the Packard motor it is several miles faster.

"HUSTLER" PLANE

This ship is characterized as a "hustler" and "for strictly business purposes only" because it bears closer relation to a pursuit plane than the less sedate observation brother. In fact, there is a close resemblance to the Custis P.W.-8 or "Hawk," as the new designation

DEATH PLOT BOMB ROCKS JUSTICE HALL IN BAY CITY

Police Chief, Two Aides Narrowly Miss Death as Corridor is Riddled by Shrapnel

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—The main floor of the Hall of Justice was shattered by the blast of a dynamite bomb at 10:05 o'clock this morning in what is believed to have been a fiend's attempt to kill Chief of Police O'Brien, Captain of Detectives Matheson and Police Captain William Quinn.

Just five minutes late for their habitual Sunday morning conference, the three police heads escaped almost certain death in the explosion.

The bomb, made by heavy water pipe six inches long and two inches in diameter, loaded with shrapnel fragments, was planted in a corridor telephone booth in front of which the police officials had to pass to reach their conference room.

CORRIDOR RIDDLED

Exploding with a terrific detonation that shook the huge stone building, the bomb rent the telephone booth to kindling wood, riddled the corridor with a hail of iron and steel, and blew a four-foot hole through the heavy marble wall against which the telephone booth sat.

Suspicion points to but one man, and police vainly combed the city for him today. He was een entering the telephone booth by Police Captain John Lackman, about three minutes before the bomb exploded.

Capt. Lackman described the man as 5 feet 11 inches tall, heavily built, wearing a long black overcoat and a black slouch hat. He carried the bomb under the long coat, the police believe.

BOTTLE IS CLEW

Only one clew was found in the mass of wreckage. It was the fragment of a bottle that bore the label—"Essence of Jamaica ginger, Pacific Drug Company, Third and Folsom."

The bomb was the work of an expert, carefully made and calculated to kill anyone within fifty feet of it in the corridor. The Jamaica ginger bottle is believed to have contained picric acid, so arranged that it slowly ate through a piece of lead and set off a dynamite cap.

So completely was the Kearny-street corridor of the Hall of Justice covered by the rain of death that no one could have survived.

The force of the blast ripped out the iron pipes of the building's heating system, and police and detectives who poured out of their headquarters at the sound of the blast were driven back by clouds of steam. Plunging into the steam, not knowing at what moment a second bomb might explode, the police threw guards around the building and sent squads of reserves to search the halls and corridors of the three main floors.

Two men were cornered in a second-floor washroom, but proved their innocence in the bombing plot. They were Alphonse Zadra and Pedro Costa, lodgers in rooming-houses near the Hall of Justice, who had come into the building to wash.

NARROW ESCAPE

Detective Sergeant Robert Malburg's life was saved because he did not have a nickel. At 10 o'clock he went into the corridor phone booth to ring up his wife. While the bomb at his feet, thrust into a dark corner of the booth, was on the verge of exploding, he frantically searched his pockets for a 5-cent piece to work the phone. Finding none he went back into the detective headquarters. He had just closed the door when the explosion rocked the building.

For several years it has been the custom of Chief O'Brien, Capt. Matheson and Capt. Quinn, their chief clerk, to meet in the chief's room at the Hall of Justice, at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. At that time they review the crime reports of the week, prepare statistical summaries, and talk over plans for the ensuing week.

No one else is ordinarily in the corridors on Sunday mornings. Regular police and detectives enter the building through the Washington-street entrance. Visi-

NEW CHINA REBELLION

Surprise Attack Near Shanghai

Yuan Defies Government; Pillages Cities; Return of Lu is Protested

Defense Units on Guard at Foreign Settlement in City; Marines Land

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

SHANGHAI, Jan. 11.—All the Chinese territory surrounding Shanghai was captured today by Chi Hsieh-Yuan and his ally, Sun Chuan-Fang, and outlying villages were pillaged as a gesture of defiance to the provisional government at Peking.

The attack was aimed particularly to prevent the return to power of Lu Yung-Hsiang, former tuchun of Chekiang Province, who was reported proceeding from Nanking toward Shanghai with Fengtien (Manchurian) troops.

The soldiers of Chi and Sun made a surprise attack this morning. By night they were in complete control of the region surrounding the foreign settlements. Fighting in the Lungwha district has subsided, leaving Sun in undisputed possession of Lungwha and the arsenal there. Chang Yung-Min, the defense commissioner appointed by Peking, has taken refuge with his subordinate commanders in the foreign settlements. Chang's troops made an unsuccessful resistance.

Foreign defense units were guarding the barricaded approaches to the settlements tonight.

Chi Hsieh-Yuan was military governor of Kiangsu Province, in which Shanghai is situated, and a Peking mandate was issued December 12 dismissing him from that post and appointing Lu Yung-Hsiang "pacification commissioner" for Kiangsu and Anhwei Provinces. Sun Chuan-Fang was an adherent of Gen. Wu Pei-Fu, the ousted commander of the Peking military forces. Both Chi and Sun were active in the siege of Shanghai last fall.

At that time they were allied with the Peking regime of President Tsao Kun. Lu Yung-Hsiang, defending Shanghai, was defeated and fled to Nagasaki, Japan, but returned to China after his political friends had come into power.

COUP IS SUCCESS WITHOUT FIRING SHOT

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Shanghai says that Gen. The dispatch adds that Gen. Chi is now expected to again take

Player is Badly Hurt as Sandbag Drops on Stage

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—Miss Ruby Adams, an actress with a local theater, was seriously injured during a performance last night when a 300-pound sandbag dropped from the top of the sets striking her in the back. At a hospital today it was reported that two vertebrae and three ribs were broken. She was in a critical condition. Two other girls, standing near Miss Adams, were slightly injured.

JUNKET QUIZ THREATENED

Wet Congressman Says He Will Back Investigation Into Asserted Liquor-Smuggling Panama Trip

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Congressional junket to Panama in 1921, which has been so widely advertised by Mrs. Frank D. Scott, wife of Representative Scott of Michigan, in her defense against her husband's suit for divorce, may be investigated by the House Judiciary Committee.

Mrs. Scott's charges that her husband and Representatives Tincher of Kansas and Zihlman of Virginia, brought liquor from Panama in defiance and violation of the prohibition laws have given wet members of the House just the opportunity for which they have been waiting.

Representative John Phillip Hill of Maryland, of 2.75 per cent cider fame, yesterday declared that unless the recognized dry leaders in the House take cognizance of the charges which have involved the integrity of Congress, he will initiate action looking toward an investigation of "the serious charge."

WILL TAKE ACTION HIMSELF

Mr. Hill said that Representative Louis C. Cramton of Michigan, recognized leader of the dry forces in the House, should be the first to demand an investigation of statements that certain members of the House have violated not only the prohibition law by illegally transporting liquor, but the customs laws by the importation of liquor.

If Mr. Cramton fails to do this, Mr. Hill said, it becomes incumbent upon Representative William D. Upshaw of Georgia, described by Mr. Hill as the "minority dry leader," to introduce a resolution for an investigation.

"If both Mr. Cramton and Mr. Upshaw, the majority and minority floor leaders of the Anti-Saloon League in Congress, fail to bring about an investigation, I shall feel that it is my duty to introduce a resolution for an investigation by the Judiciary Committee," Mr. Hill said.

Mr. Hill said he would not ask Mrs. Scott to tell what she knows of drinking in Congressional circles.

"That," he said, "would be a presumption on my part. The Judiciary Committee should be left free to call its own witnesses."

Mr. Hill declared that Mrs. Scott's charges that certain members of Congress brought rum into the country from Panama is more serious than charges of drinking in Washington by Senators and Representatives.

"I understand that Mrs. Scott

RADIO HELPS IDENTIFY GIRL

Aunt, Listening in, Hears Missing Niece's Plea for Aid in Establishing Lost Identity

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—A new fashioned appeal shot through space by radio to possible relatives and friends and an old-fashioned bird perched saucily atop her "Aunt Annie's" hat today led to the identification of Chicago's mystery girl and the restoration of her memory.

The girl, who became Chicago's most perplexing enigma on November 19, last, when she was found lying in a faint on the floor of the Union Station, apparently suffering from loss of memory, was identified today as Miss Charlotte Maguire, 20 years of age, of St. Louis, who disappeared from that city November 14, while on her way from her home to the Harris Teachers' College of that city.

The identification was made at the hospital where the girl has been a patient since she was found, by Mrs. Anna Griffiths, her aunt, and Miss Genevieve Sullivan, the girl's cousin, both of St. Louis. They arrived from St. Louis this morning and a few hours after identifying the girl, returned with her to that city and her parents who, they said, did not know their daughter was missing.

"Charlotte," as the girl had come to be known to all Chicago, aroused nation-wide interest through the newspaper stories of her plight. When taken to the hospital she professed a complete loss of memory as to her identity, her home or the names of relatives or friends.

All attempts to elecit information from her failed and for a time she refused to allow newspaper photographers to make pictures of her, explaining that her "mother would not like it." A broadcasting of the description of the young woman brought a deluge of inquiries, and hundreds of relatives of lost girls came here, confident that she was their kin, only to return home disappointed.

Finally a hypnotic test was applied and this, too, proved unsuccessful. Doctors who made the test later said they believed the girl had been feigning hypnotism. During the test she told them her name was Charlotte Norris and that she was a student of Chicago University. Despite the fact that her statements were found to be incorrect she still clung to the belief that her first name was "Charlotte," and Charlotte she became to those who knew her.

Last Friday night, in desperation, the girl tearfully agreed to tors to prisoners in the jail go through a rear entrance.

The main entrance leading off of Kearney street is always open, day and night, however, and lodgers in the small hotels and rooming-houses surrounding the Hall of Justice flow in and out of the main corridor to use the public 'phone booth.

CORRIDOR DESERTED

At 10 o'clock of a week day morning the main corridor is thronged with people, and had the bomb been set for one of those mornings, a dozen persons would have been killed outright and scores badly wounded.

This morning the corridor was deserted. Capt. Lackman passed through it en route to his office and casually noticed the man entering the telephone booth. That was three minutes to 10 o'clock. At 10 o'clock Sergt. Malburg vainly tried to use the phone. A few minutes after 10, William Foley, a janitor, passed by the booth on his way to the basement. He was on the basement stair when the explosion occurred.

Chief O'Brien, Capt. Matheson and Capt. Quinn arrived in the corridor just five minutes late for their conference, as a half-dozen white-faced policemen were groping through the steam and smoke for fragments of the bomb.

Neither O'Brien nor Matheson would put forth an opinion tonight concerning the believed attempt on their lives. Detective Sergeants Jack Canton, William O'Brien, Nicholas Barron and Arthur McQuaid were on the scene of the explosion within a few minutes after it happened, and headed the investigation throughout the day. Tonight they agreed on the theory that a fiend bent on vengeance and knowing the custom of the usual Sunday morning police conference, had made an attempt on the lives of the three.

Immediately after the explosion guards were thrown around the Hall of Justice and a cordon of police stationed at the Kearny and Washington-street doors, in the belief that a second attempt might be made to bomb the place.

During the early stages of the investigation today, Capt Matheson advanced the theory that the bomb plot had not been aimed at the police, but was the work of some maniac intending to wreak revenge on a private enemy

"If the bomber had meant to blow up the Hall of Justice," Capt. Matheson pointed out, "he would not have filled the bomb with shrapnel, but with high explosive. The shrapnel was meant to kill, not damage. It is my opinion that some maniac made an engagement to have his enemy telephone him from the Hall of Justice booth at 10 o'clock and then planted the bomb to explode at that time."

Capt. Matheson dropped this theory, however, later in the day.

The bomb was made by an expert, one who thoroughly understood what he was doing. It was muffled in a pair of cheap black sox, and made of two-inch water pipe, capped at both ends, six inches long. The shranel consisted of about two dozen .32-caliber bullets, some in their shells and some of which had been removed, with a double handful of iron scraps, screws, bolts and nuts crammed in the pipe with them.

The Jamaica ginger bottle full of picric acid evidently had been placed so the acid would slowly eat through a piece of sheet lead that encased the dynamite cap of the bomb. This device had been so arranged that in a scheduled length of time the acid would penetrate to the dynamite cap and explode.

This was the first attempt ever made to bomb the Hall of Justice and the first direct attempt on the lives of Chief O'Brien and Capt. Matheson. It left the police tonight puzzled and shaken, themselves bent on avenging the outrage.

English Prison Rented to Houseless by Council; Rates Low

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The prison at Knutsford isn't what it used to be. Now it's a hotel for the houseless, with apartments for families renting at less than $2 per week, while single cells can be had for as low as 25 cents a week.

The prison was standing empty, and to relieve the housing shortage the Knutsford Council leased the jail from the Prison Commissioners for three years.

will be with the exception of the sweep back wings. The new observation will be designated the "Falcon."

In addition to performing the duties of regulating artillery fire, cutting off pursuit planes, photographing strategic poinas and general reconnaissance, these two planes also can carry about 600 pounds of small bombs. For the present at least the air service will order only the Douglas plane from the plant at Santa Monica, which does not mean, however, that it is superior in every respect to the Curtis "job." Brig.-Gen. Mitchell assistant chief of the air service, pronounced these ships the finest observation types that ever took the air in a statement at Dayton, O., last week while he was inspecting McCook Field. At that time he flew both ships for long periods.

Quiz Ordered in Death of Queen of Underworld

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Violet Phipps, long a queen and a feared figure of Chicago's underworld, is dead.

Tonight, after some of the mysterious circumstances of Mrs. Phipps's death had become known, Coroner Oscar Wolff demanded an investigation into the affair with the object of finding out whether or not the woman had been murdered. A post mortem examination of the body indicated spinal meningitis, the direct cause of death, had resulted after Mrs. Phipps had been beaten and slugged by paid hoodlums six months ago.

"A thorough investigation will be necessary," said Coroner Wolff. "From a preliminary report of the case it is entirely possible that a murder charge may result."

Mrs. Phipps was one of Chicago's most notorious figures. She first gained publicity when she was married to a Pittsburg millionaire. Many times her establishment was raided by police. One chapter of her fame concerned the efforts of the telephone company to prevent her from having a telephone in her house. The effort failed.

CHANGE IN TAX SYSTEM IS SEEN

Fixed Charges of State in Rapid Increase

Costs Expected to Exceed Income in Few Years

other companies doing business here.

Prior to the election of Gov. Richardson in 1922, taxation in California piled up to such an extent as to seriously alarm not only the industrial and business interests of the State, but the average taxpayer, who felt the burden of excessive governmental costs, despite the contention of the Johnson-McCabe politicians that the corporations and not the people were paying for State functions.

The first biennial budget submitted to the Legislature by Gov. Richardson two years ago represented approximately $12,000,000 less in net appropriations than the budget of the Governor's predecessor in 1921. The second Richardson budget, which will be submitted to the Legislature tomorrow afternoon, will show an increase over the 1923 budget of approximately $20,000,000, the greater part of which is represented in the expansion in fixed charges.

COMPILES FIGURES

The disproportionate increase in fixed charges over the other costs of government in this State is shown by a table of statistics compiled by Controller Riley covering the period 1910-1943. This table shows that for the biennium of 1910-11 fixed charges approximated $28,000,000; in 1925-27 the fixed charges will exceed $68,000,000; that the increase alone two years hence will exceed $11,000,000 and that the total in 1943 will exceed $254,000,000—a sum greater than the estimated revenues from all sources for that year.

The Controller's estimates are based on the annual record since 1910 and are believed by him to be both accurate and conservative. His figures and statistics will be submitted to the Governor and the Legislature in his biennial report.

Legislative approval of the new municipal charter adopted by the voters of Los Angeles will be asked in the Senate and Assembly tomorrow by Senator Harry Chamberlin. Because of a mass of legal technicalities it is believed that actual ratification may be deferred until the Legislature reassembles here in March following the constitutional recess.

There have been no indications of serious objection to ratification by any individual or group, although intimations have been made that the supporters and opponents of district representation in the City Council might engage in a controversy calculated to defer action.

One of the most interesting and in many respects important measures to be proposed during the present session will be a bill by Assemblyman Carter of Los Angeles proposing to incorporate the California Bar Association under the name, "State Bar of California," with extensive powers relating to legal practice and ethics.

A self-governing bar, according to its sponsors, who have the support of the Bar Association, will recognize lawyers as a part of the State's judicial system, organize the legal profession as a unit, give the bar disciplinary powers over lawyers guilty of misconduct in their profession and fix legal as well as moral responsibility of its members.

GOV. DAVIS, SON FACING ARREST

the episode published in the newspapers, but Mr. Veale said that Pollman would return to testify for the State.

Pollman is now in Missouri, he said, and could not be reached today.

The filing of formal charges tomorrow will be the first step looking toward investigation or prosecution of the Governor or his son since Friday's expose of the alleged pardon sale.

Friday afternoon young Davis, according to his own story yesterday, took the money to his room in the executive mansion and returned to the hotel with the pardon which his father declared he had already decided to sign. Confronted there by Pollman and a group of newspaper men and officials of the State and Federal government, he handed back the money, returned to his home and related the affair to his father.

SON TAKES BLAME

Both Gov. Davis and Russell, in formal statements to the press, have asserted that the elder Davis knew nothing whatever of the alleged illicit transaction until told of it by his son at 6:20 o'clock on Friday evening. Russell said last night that he regretted, for his parents' sake, letting himself "be caught in a trap," but emphasized that his father was not involved. The Governor, too, professed innocence and lamented that Pollman and "political enemies" had taken advantage of friendship "and the unsophisticated nature of my son to inveigle him into accepting money for pardon."

While talk continued among the Senators who are collecting here for the legislative opening this week, no proposal for a legislative investigation of the pardon records has been made openly.

ment of those in the Diplomatic Service.

Although Ambassador Herrick at Paris might be considered next in line for the London post, the understanding here is that he prefers to remain at the French capital where he has had many years of service. Moreover, his desire for early retirement from the Diplomatic Corps has been reported.

Besides Ambassador Houghton, others whose names are mentioned in connection with the Ambassadorship to Great Britain are Ambassador Fletcher at Rome, Under-Secretary of State Grew, Solicitor-General James M. Beck and Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois, who retires from the Senate on March 4.

Before that date other changes in the Cabinet are in prospect. Secretary of Agriculture Gore must retire on or before March 4 to become Governor of West Virginia, to which office he was elected last November, and Secretary of Labor Davis has asked to be retired at that time, although he may accede to the Executive's request that he remain.

With the retirement of Secretary Hughes there will remain only four of the ten Cabinet officers who began service in the Harding administration. Will H. Hays retired as Postmaster-General and Albert B. Fall as Secretary of the Interior, before the death of President Harding, and since Mr. Coolidge succeeded to the Presidency, Edwin Denby has resigned as Secretary of the Navy; Harry M. Daugherty was forced to resign as Attorney-General, and Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, died in office.

CONFIRMATIONS PENDING

Mr. Stone, whose nomination as a Supreme Court justice is now before the Senate, succeeded Mr. Daugherty. While confirmation of his new appointment is held up pending examination by a Senate judiciary subcommittee of court records submitted by James A. Ownbey of Boulder, Colo., favorable action within a short time is forecast.

Since Mr. Warren is named to the office which Mr. Stone is to vacate, Senate consideration of his nomination is expected to await final action on that of the present Attorney-General. The nomination has been referred to the judiciary committee, at least, but so far as administration leaders have been advised there will be no serious opposition to it, although Mr. Warren was selected over Gov. Groesbeck of Michigan, who had the indorsement of Senator Couzens, Republican, of that State and the Michigan delegation in the House.

BRITAIN REGRETS HUGHES'S RESIGNATION

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, Jan. 12. — General hearty regret at the retirement of Charles E. Hughes, as American Secretary of State, is expressed by the London morning papers, accompanied by cordial wishes for Ambassador Kellogg in his new office.

The Daily Telegraph says:

"In the brief space of four years Mr. Hughes has made a place for himself in history—in the eyes of all the civilized world a place of honor."

The paper dwells lengthily and with admiration on his initiation of the Washington conference and his aid toward solving the reparations problem, and adds:

"He has done work that leaves an immense increment of prestige to be enjoyed by his successor—work for which the world is deeply and gratefully in his debt."

The Morning Post says:

"Great Britain will deeply deplore the resignation of Mr. Hughes. He was a good friend to this country and a fine type of courtous, cultured, well-informed American.

"We offer our best wishes to Mr. Kellogg in the great and responsible task intrusted to him. He has had the advantage of coming into close touch with European statesmen and European problems and thus has an advantage possessed by no Secretary of State since Mr. Lansing."

The Daily Chronicle says:

"With the resignation of Mr. Hughes, the United States Executive loses a remarkable personality. He was no ordinary politician; his knowledge, strong will and disinterestedness peculiarly fitted him for his task. Broadminded and sympathetic in his outlook, he was the sort of American with whom wise Britons could work without friction."

up the Governorship and renew the fighting.

A Reuter dispatch from Shanghai says that Gen. Sun Chuan-Fang, Governor of the Province of Chekiang, is advancing toward Shanghai with the supposed intention of assisting Gen. Chi in expelling Chang Yuen Ming, the military Governor of Shanghai, who was appointed by the Peking government.

Fighting was in progress this morning in the vicinity of Lungwha and Gen. Chang's forces retired to the boundary of the French settlement.

The dispatch adds that French marines have been landed, but that as yet, there is no cause for anxiety for the safety of foreigners.

CHURCH PROTESTS ON SCHOOL DANCES VAIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DES MOINES, Jan. 11.—Demands on the part of Manistee's three active Protestant churches that dances following high-school basketball games there in winter and pavement dances in summer be abolished, fell on deaf ears in the City Commission last night. Discussing the proposal Commissioner Stacy Thompson remarked that every reference to dancing that he has been able to find in the Bible is an approval of the pastime.

THREATENS QUIZ IN PANAMA TRIP

testified that the liquor was smuggled in one trunk or package," Mr. Hill said. "This is quite serious, as it indicates that possibly there was a conspiracy to violate the customs laws.

BRINGING ANOTHER MATTER

"The question of drinking by members of Congress is another matter. Nowadays a man cannot tell whether he is drinking legal or illegal stuff. Perhaps he can tell the next day but there is so much liquor around that at the time of drinking he cannot always be sure whether he is violating the law or whether he is drinking real pre-Volstead beverages."

While Mr. Hill was thus discoursing, Mr. Upshaw hove in sight in the House cloakroom.

Mr. Upshaw indicated he would not please Mr. Hill by urging an investigation of Mrs. Scott's charges, but reiterated his declaration that "Congress is overwhelmingly dry and should not be misjudged by the indiscretions of a few high-rolling Congressmen."

The Georgia Representative did say, however, that before Congress adjourns March 4, he proposed to introduce a resolution stating that it is the sense of Congress that it is law abiding and dry and that members who violate the prohibition laws are "persona non grata" on the floor.

Mrs. Scott's testimony in court in Alpena, Mich, has provided members of Congress with an absorbing topic of conversation.

Among other things, Mrs. Scott declared that aboard the Christobal, the ship that carried the Congressional party to Panama and return in March, 1921, Representative Tincher of Kansas, a dry member, passed around drinks in a pitcher.

TINCHER IN DENIAL

Mr. Tincher immediately denied the allegation.

The Panama trip in 1921 was an unofficial junket. It was not authorized by Congress. Members and their wives and families, who made the trip, made the arrangements through the War Department.

The passenger list of the Christobal, made public yesterday by the Panama Railroad Steamship Company, a government-owned corporation, contains the names of more than two score distinguished members of the Senate and House, most of whom have consistently voted in the dry column.

Among the passengers, as disclosed by the list was Miss Laura Volstead, daughter of the author of the Volstead Act.

The Christobal left Norfolk March 12, 1921, arrived at the Isthmus of Panama about March 18 or 19, began its return voyage March 25, and docked at Norfolk April 2.

Among the names on the passenger list were Senator and Mrs. Ashurst of Arizona, Senator W. B. McKinley of Illinois and H. E. Chadbuck and H. M. Findell; Representative E. E. Denison of Illinois and M. L. Marcy and George Ward; Representative Everett Sanders of Indiana and Mrs. Sanders; Representative Frank D. Scott of Michigan and Mrs. Scott; Representative Fairfield of Indiana, Mrs. Fairfield and daughter and Miss Arline Goodwin; Former Representative E. D. Brooks of Illinois and Mrs. Brooks and son; Representative R. D. Chindblom of Illinois; Representative F. S. Purnell of Indiana, Mrs. Purnell and two sons and F. A. Shoaf and Mrs. W. H. Ross; Former Representative J. C. Kleczka of Wisconsin, Mrs. Kleczka and Miss Pauline Parker; Representative J. M. Tincher of Kansas, Mrs. Tincher and daughter and son; Representative William E. Mason, since deceased, of Illinois, Mrs. Mason and daughter; Former Representative J. S. Benham, Indiana, and Mrs. Benham; Representative Sidney Anderson of Minnesota, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. S. M. Taylor; Miss Laura Volstead; Representative P. C. Michener of Michigan and two children; Miss Dorothy Yates; Representative A. H. Vestal of Indiana, Mrs. Vestal and son and Dr. H. Gente and Mrs. Gente.

Dedication of Gift Organ is Bay City Event

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—A $100,000 concert organ, the gift of John D. Spreckels, San Diego capitalist, was formally dedicated here today at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor, located in Lincoln Park. Following the dedication bronze memorial palms presented by the French government were unveiled.

Before an audience that taxed the capacity of the structure some of the most prominent residents of the city delivered addresses. Consul-General Patrick Copplinger, representative of the French government in San Francisco and Paul Verdier, local business man and chevalier of the Legion of Honor, were the principal speakers. The Legion palace was a gift to the city from Mrs. Alma De Bretteville Spreckels and her late husband, A. B. Spreckels.

Man Charges Wife Refused to Cook Meals

Mrs. Ethel Miller maintained that she could not be bothered with cooking, according to her husband, Sam Miller, in a cross-complaint to her suit for divorce, filed with the County Clerk.

"I'll not waste my time cooking," she declared, Miller related.

This manifesto she backed up with a slap in the eye that left Miller with a "shiner," he said.

In her original suit, Mrs. Miller charged cruelty, asserting that her husband had smacked her in the face, scratched her, twisted her arms, refused to walk in the street with her, and had added insult to injury by hitting her when she proffered a kiss.

HIDDEN CITY IS GOAL OF PARTY

Three to Explore Brazil Ancient City

Danger Lurks from Poison Arrows, Darts

years has been living in Los Angeles.

"Any larger party would stand small chance of surviving," said Col. Fawcett. "Krupp, the German ironmonger, spent £80,000 on a great expedition into this region a few years ago. It was annihilated by pestilence and Indians. With only three men, we have a splendid chance of entering—and returning. I speak the language of the Indian tribes, and I know what to do when they attack me with their bows and arrows—as they have done, many times before. If I took a large expedition, it would surely be wiped out."

BLACK DWARFS, AMAZONS

The site of the ancient city lies on the south watershed of the Amazon, between the Xingu and the Tapojoz rivers. The expedition will visit the country of the black dwarfs, pitdwellers, who live in holes covered over with leaves and sticks; it will skirt the country of the Mundurucus, robust, reddish Indians, between the Topojoz and Paranatinga rivers—having women chiefs; on beyond the ancient city lies the country of the Amazons; to the east is the dwelling place of the Asurinis, or white Indians; farther to the east lies the buried ruins of another ancient city, of majestic Cyclopean architecture, which Col. Fawcett has previously visited and which he hopes some day to excavate.

To the north of the Asurinis are the Roncador Ridges, the land of the "snoring mountain," which rumbles and groans incessantly, in its sleep of centuries, over volcanic fires; far to the west lies the site of the ancient city of Truxillo, where, in the eighteenth century, the Portuguese found the "little fish," a jewelled fetish which sold in Spain for $4,000,000. The records show that the "big fish," still hidden there, might be worth far more. On some future expedition, but not on this one, Col. Fawcett hopes to search for the "big fish."

LARGEST HIDDEN AREA

The country to be penetrated comprises about 2,000,000 square miles of unexplored terrain. It is the last great area of the earth to be explored. But the dangers, and the epic adventure of the enterprise, are actually secondary in interest to the virtual certainty that the expedition will yield archaeological and anthropological discoveries of unparalleled importance.

On his previous expeditions, Col. Fawcett has obtained ancient tablets and inscriptions on lay figures which, while not decipherable by any archaeologists, clearly show what appear to be Sanskrit and Greek characters. He has samples of highly sophisticated art of the ancient people, suggestive of the Egyptian.

Col. Fawcett is convinced that these ancients had a system of lighting their houses other than combustion, possibly based on some principle involving even a knowledge leading toward the ultraviolet ray. On his previous expeditions he found ancient houses with no traces of lamp smoke, which always appears in old stone dwellings where ordinary illumination has been used. He later questioned the natives, at the entrepot of the unexplored region, about this. Everywhere, he found the tradition of the ancient "secret of light." To solve this mystery will be one of the main objectives of the present expedition.

DISTINGUISHED RECORD

Col. Fawcett, who has spent twelve of the last eighteen years in the region he will now re-enter, is 58 years of age. He entered the British army in 1886, serving in Ceylon. Later, he served in Morocco, Malta, Straits Settlements and Hongkong. In 1906, Brazil and Bolivia became involved in a controversy over rubber, in the Acre district in Northwestern Brazil. The matter of boundaries was left to England for arbitration and Col. Fawcett was appointed one of a commission of three to delimit the boundaries. This led to continuous exploration work in South America. In 1914, Col. Fawcett re-entered the British army and was given command of a brigade of field artillery. He was later a counter-battery staff officer. He was mentioned four times in dispatches. He is a distinguished artist and an exhibitor in the Royal Academy.

His son, Jack Fawcett, is also a competent artist. They plan to supplement the photographic record of their expedition with numerous sketches.

HIGH MARKS OF DANGER

Col. Fawcett will add the last items of his equipment at Rio Janeiro and proceed without delay several hundred miles westward by rail to Corumba. He will then proceed northeastward to Cuyaba, where he will obtain mules and Indians for the drive through swamps and jungles to the portals of the forbidden city. On this journey, he expects to pass the high mark of danger, as it is here he will meet the worst of the perils of Indians, jungle creatures and disease, barring possibly the climactic adventure of the passage into the ancient city.

On a previous expedition, Col. Fawcett's life was saved by an electric flashlight, which led the Indians to endow him with certain god-like propensities after they had bombarded him with arrows. Facing the certainty of a repetition of this experience, Col. Fawcett has some specially made "lever lights," which can be adjusted on his head so that they appear as great, bulbous, flashing eyes.

SAW MAN IMPALED

"It is quite possible to get on nicely with the savages, if they don't hit you when they first shoot their arrows at you," said Col. Fawcett. "Their bows are seven or eight feet long, made of the fibrous wood of the Chanta palm. I once saw an arrow pass laterally through the body of a man, piercing his arms and chest and sinking an inch into a hardwood plank, against which he was leaning, on the deck of a river boat. That shows the force of their arrows.

"After you get acquainted with them, you use some silly thing like a flashlight to make them think you are a god, and you get on first rate. My theodolite was very useful for this. They used to think I was talking to the stars.

"Their arrows are tipped with poison and it's all up with a chap if he gets scratched with one of them. Strangely enough, the game killed with these poisoned arrows is edible.

"My firm belief that we shall find an ancient city, hitherto unknown to modern man, is based on many pieces of evidence which I have fitted together during the last eighteen years. There are old records and documents; there is testimony, astonishingly in agreement, from widely separated regions; there is the definite and convincing story of the Indians who occupy the approach to this country. I have obtained from them ancient art, which they said came from the old city. I have found them in deadly fear of the degenerate descendants of the old white race, which they say now occupy the ancient, ruined city.

"There has long been a tradition in Brazil of a people called the 'Orizes Procasas,' inhabiting some fastness in the far interior. During the earlier days of the Portuguese settlement, river exploration produced constant reports of the 'white and clothed' Indians, who disappeared as mysteriously as they appeared. Such reports reach down to half a century ago, when they ceased, except for sporadic stories of isolated settlers.

"There are tribes with women chiefs — tribes of sun worshipers with religious terms almost identical with the Incas names—tribes who know and name the planets—tribes who sing to the sun and have the most beautiful voices. There are the Maxubis, still unknown outside, who worship Vira Vira, the Sun, known to the Incas as Vira Cocha.

"The Amazonas, or Aiheambenanas "the women who live alone"—were not mythical, and the region which they inhabited is still unexplored. The Mariquitas were robust people with women chiefs, whose women fought like the Amazons. The Cambebanas were fair Indians, working in cotton and using rubber. The Ibirajavas, according to the Tapuya tribes, ornamented themselves with plates of gold. Amazons were known with the same name and the same habits, in Assyria and Greece. "Woden," or "Odin" is still worshiped by some Amazon tribes, identical with Scandinavian mythology."

It is expected that the expedition will require about twenty months to complete its investigations. Col. Fawcett will attempt to relay dispatches by Indian runners, up to and from the last outpost of civilization, and later, if possible, from the forbidden city itself. By a special arrangement with Col. Fawcett, through the North American Newspaper Alliance, The Times has arranged for publication of these dispatches, and all news of the expedition will be published exclusively in this newspaper and other members of the Alliance.

FIELD MUSEUM TO CONDUCT RESEARCHES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Distant and secluded corners of the earth, deserts, unpenetrated tropical jungles, little-known mountain regions and the ice fields of the north will be explored this year by the Field Museum in an effort to reconstruct histories of prehistoric people and supplement the world's knowledge of natural history.

The museum's 1925 expeditionary program announced today by D. C. Davis, director, comprises one of the most extensive plans for research undertaken by an American scientific institution in recent years. Fourteen expeditions embracing anthropology, botany, geology and zoology, will be conducted.

MUSSOLINI NOW FIGHTS FOR LIFE

Man of Destiny is Literally Backed Against Wall

All Powers Used to Escape Blow Bringing Oblivion

Opposition Making Most of Matteotti Murder

BY JOHN CLAYTON

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, by the Chicago Tribune]

ROME, Jan. 11.—Menito Mussolini, a year ago Italy's man of destiny, is now fighting for his life and the endurance of the ideals which inspired the foundation of Fascism.

Under the cloud of accusations from which he cannot free himself until the slow machinery of the law has ground out the last details in the trial of Deputy Matteotti's murderers, he is using every means at his command to keep off the hostility of the growing opposition which sees in the time still intervening before the Matteotti trial an opportunity to hurl him from his high position into political oblivion.

If this undoubtedly capable man clears himself of personal responsibility for the crimes charged against his party, and in some quarters even against himself, he will silence a large portion of the opposition and consolidate its position until he appeals to the country in the new elections next fall. If he does not clear himself then the Senate, and eventually the King, must decide what action to take against the country's Premier.

REFUSES TO RETIRE

The opposition feels that it is strong enough to rest its case on the outcome of the trial, but it believes that Signor Mussolini, under this cloud of accusations, should lay aside his power until he is cleared. Signor Mussolini from his almost unassailable position as dictator, in fact, if not in name, refuses to retire under a cloud.

The men accused of the murder of Signor Matteotti cannot be brought to trial before another six weeks have passed. The judicial investigation has not yet been completed, and will not be before the 20th or 25th inst. With completion of the investigation the King's Prosecutor must be granted a month in which to prepare his formulation of the charges in the indictments. After he presents his request the trial will be set according to the condition of the court calendar.

In the meanwhile, the opposition is trying the Fascisti party and Signor Mussolini out of court, and a summary of the arguments for and against the Fascisti leader would not be uninteresting.

CASE FOR MUSSOLINI

Here is the case for Signor Mussolini. One, as the Fascist leader he is called the savior of Italy from Communism. Two, he is credited with having restored internal order and given direction to the internal policies of the government in contrast to what his supporters call the opportunist policies of previous governments. Three, he has inaugurated (by his opponents called Imperialist) foreign policy. Four, he is credited with having stabilized Italian industry on a firm basis and done away with unemployment. Five, he has increased and collected taxes and reduced the cost of government. Six, he settled the long and outstanding question of Fiume in Italy's favor, concluded treaties of friendship with Jugo-Slavia and Switzerland and commercial treaties with seventeen nations.

OTHER SIDE

Here is the case against the Fascisti leader:

One, he is accused of knowledge of and complicity in the Fascisti terrorism and murders. Two, his party and he as the leader, are accused of intimidation at elections, silencing the opposition by violence, setting aside the law to advance party interests, arresting innocent men for political activities, exiling opposition leaders, muzzling the press, inspiring attacks and arson against newspapers and destroying the rights of free speech. Three, he is accused of maintaining a personal and party army at the expense of the government.

There is little possibility of a revolution in Italy. The opposition does not desire it and it is not equipped or armed for such an event. King Victor Emmanuel, who controls the army today as he probably never before controlled it, holds the key to the situation, for the army is the only force that could overcome the militant Fascism.

CIVIL WAR PERIL

An assassin's bomb or revolver shot might throw the country into civil war for the country today is as tinder to a spark, but the chance of such a development is so remote that a gambler could give the greatest odds against it.

In North Italy the people are contented and happy. There is no unemployment in the great industrial centers, and there is more ready cash in the country than there has been since the war. Under such conditions, revolutions seldom break out. Everyone is too busy with his own affairs to bother with the great smoke raised by politicians. It is only those who mingle in political affairs who feel ready to crush the hand of Fascism.

EMPLOYEES WILL RETAIN OLD STATUS

Transferred Federal Men Still Within Retirement Act, Says Work

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. — Although a notice made public today by Secretary Work of the Interior Department, who by law is the administrative head of the retirement service, certain unclassified employees and Presidential appointees in the government service have not lost their classified status as far as the terms of the Retirement Act are concerned.

The result of this notice, which represents an opinion of the Attorney-General to the effect that an employee in the classified civil service under the Retirement Act does not lose such standing by transfer or appointment to an unclassified position, is of far-reaching importance.

Numerous officers and employees upon being transferred from classified to unclassified positions have been given refunds to the amounts they had paid into the retirement fund since the passage of the Retirement Act. These amounts in certain cases will now have to be redeposited with the retirement fund with interest. After classified employees accepted unclassified positions they ceased to pay the regular 2 1-2 per cent of their salary and this amount has not been deducted from their pay. The new opinion makes it mandatory that the officers and employees affected thereby now pay up this back amount also including 4 per cent interest on account of service rendered since March 27, 1922.

Because of the fact that the Retirement Act is administered through the Pension Bureau under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Interior, heads of departments and independent establishments throughout the government have been notified by that bureau to promulgate the new opinion.

Chicago's Loop Fire Loss May Reach Million

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—A spectacular Loop fire raging for more than five hours, despite the combined efforts of nearly one-third of the fire department, early this morning caused damage variously estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000, routed hundreds of guests from downtown hotels and left in its smouldering ruins remnants of one valuable oil paintings and antiques. The blaze broke out in the Hoop Building, an eight-story brick structure at 529 South Wabash avenue. Practically the entire interior of the building was destroyed. One hundred or more guests in the Congress Hotel annex, the rear of which is directly behind the Hoop Building, were awakened by the smoke and fled to the street in panic.

"I am going to our country place and raise horses, dogs and chickens—no more dancing, no more stage, no more cabarets," added Peggy. Capt. Fenwick and his bride expect to visit America in the spring.

IRISH PRESIDENT AGAIN EXPECTED TO RESIGN

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—A rumor is against current of the possible resignation of President William T. Cosgrave due to his prolonged absence from Dublin and the generally reported lack of harmony with his chief colleagues. Mr. Cosgrave, who is now on the continent, probably will be succeeded by Kevin O'Higgins, vice-president, if he resigns, and changes in the executives in that case would be negligible.

EUROPE HAILS DAWES ACCORD

Participation of America Pleases Allies

Envoys Silent on Details of Agreement

Laud Kellogg as Secretary in Cabinet

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Jan. 11.—General satisfaction that the United States, through the agreement reached at the conference of Allied ministers, has become "one of the contracting parties to the Dawes plan and the general reparations question," was expressed by all the European delegations in the informal conversations among the representatives of the powers today. The European statesmen convened here hold that from mere unofficial observers the Americans have become "interested actors" in the solution of the reparation problem.

The experts' committee spent the entire day unraveling the mass of figures bearing on the Ruhr occupation, the Belgian priority payments and the total German deliveries in kind. The committee must prepare resolutions which will be presented for ratification by the plenary session of the conference Tuesday.

Ambassador Kellogg was busy receiving congratulations on his appointment as Secretary of State.

DETAILS LEAK OUT

Despite the screen of secrecy behind which the delegates are working, details of the terms of the agreement are gradually leaking out from sources worthy of credence. The delegates find it difficult to smother their exultation or hide their disappointment, according to the success or failure of their efforts to have their point of view accepted by their colleagues. Thus from British sources it was learned today that by the Anglo-American agreement the army cost payments will spread out over a period of twenty years, dating from the Wadsworth agreement of May, 1923.

This seems to be considered a success for the British. The payment of the American reparations claim will extend over the whole period of the Dawes annuities in the form of a fixed percentage—the figure not being disclosed pending the receipt of Washington's approval—beginning of the extinction of Belgian priority late in 1926.

The American figures of $350,000,000 for the total American war damage were not accepted by the British and the compromise agreement is said to provide for an annual percentage of the Dawes annuities, the capital value of which is less than the original figure demanded by the Americans.

AMERICANS SILENT

The American delegation, when requested either to confirm or deny these details emanating from British sources, remarked that the entire matter was up to Washington. The delegates in Paris, they added, were bound to keep the character of the solutions a secret until they had been approved by Washington.

The British attach the greatest importance to the agreement, which brings the United States officially into the reparation pool, with the right to a percentage, like the Allies.

Belgium will receive her full 8 per cent reparations payments during the first Dawes year, and possibly during the second, if necessary, to extinguish her priority. The exact amount due Belgium has not been ascertained and the experts are at work on the figures.

FRENCH SATISFIED

The French delegation appeared satisfied when it was found, according to the work of the experts thus far concluded, that after deducting all payments enjoying priority from the sums Germany must pay under the Dawes plan, France's share of the first three or four years of the annuities will be equivalent to about 500,000,000 gold marks.

Premier Herriot is likely to meet considerable difficulty also, according to the opposition, in obtaining ratification of the conference's protocol by Parliament.

Dr. Souza Dantas, the Brazilian Ambassador to France, was heard by the experts committee today relative to the German ships sequestrated in Brazilian ports. This is interpreted as meaning that the status of the German tonnage confiscated by the American government and not operated by the United States, is being discussed.

FRANCE, ENGLAND RECEIVE PAYMENTS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—German reparation payments during the four months the Dawes plan has been in operation reached the cumulative total of 286,263,447 gold marks, of which Great Britain received 65,800,000 and France 113,600,000.

The collections levied by Great Britain under the Recovery Act during December amounted to 4,300,000 and France was charged with 179,000 marks out of the same source. Germany delivered dyestuffs to the value of 117,800,000 marks to Japan during December.

The report of Seymour Parker Gilbert, agent-general for reparation payments, for December includes the reimbursement to Germany of 26,500,000 gold marks out of amounts collected by the French and Belgians in occupied territory.

Clemenceau as Young as Ever, Churchill Says

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Jan. 11.—"I hadn't seen him in a year, but he is just as young as ever," said Winston Churchill, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, referring to M. Clemenceau, upon leaving the modest little lair of the "Tiger" in the Rue Franklin after nearly an hour's conversation with the former Premier this afternoon.

Mr. Churchill said that M. Clemenceau had requested him to keep the subject of their talk secret and he added: "It is my custom whenever in Paris to visit the great man, whom I admire and whom I have known under tragic circumstances."

KLAN TO LOSE LINEN

Texas Legislature to Relegate Pillowcase and Sheet to Bed; May Pass Stringent Law

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 11.—With the object of curbing the activities of the Ku Klux Klan in Texas several bills directed at that organization will be introduced in the Legislature soon after the regular session is convened Tuesday. One of the proposed measures will be offered by Representative Luke Mankin of Georgetown. The bill, which will provide penalties for appearing in a mask, and will probably require the publication of membership lists, may be adopted as the administration measure, as carrying out the platform demand of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Governor-elect. Non-Klan and anti-Klan members will have a majority in the House.

Mankin, in whose district a noted flogging case occurred, and in which Dan Moody, now Attorney-General-elect, secured the conviction of several persons connected with the flogging, is anti-Klan, and was elected by an anti-Klan majority. He is a new member of the Legislature.

Those who have carefully polled the strength of Klan and anti-Klan factions in the House, in connection with the race for speaker, say the Klan will lack fourteen members of having a majority when the lower House convenes. The Senate will again be anti-Klan by a majority of more than 3 to 1. This is taken as meaning that the administration program of a stringent anti-mask law, and of requiring the membership of the Klan to be recorded with County Clerks or otherwise, will be adopted.

It cannot be foretold how much fighting spirit the Klan adherents in the Legislature may show. It is indicated at this time, however, that no great effort will be made to block the proposed legislation of the anti-Klan element. It is stated that the Klan issue may not come to the front to a marked degree, either in the House or Senate, unless Mrs. Ferguson, as Governor, puts it forward in the selection of her official family and seeks to remove from office men who belong to the Klan.

HUMAN HAND AND EAR ARE LEFT ON LOT

Boys Make Grewsome Find and Bay City Police Seek Rest of Body

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—A human ear in a cigar box, wrapped with a newspaper, and a human hand lying near-by were the grewsome find today of two brothers while frolicking their dog in the vacant lot on Rivera street, between Nineteenth and Twentieth avenues.

The boys are Harry, 11 years of age, and Jack, 9, sons of Detective Sergeant Gus Tompkins of 2227 Nineteenth avenue, to whom they at once reported their discovery. The Tompkins home is but one door removed from the vacant lot.

Following a report made by Tompkins to Capt. Matheson of the detective bureau, Detective Sergeants Jessie and John McKenna were ordered to make a thorough search of all vacant lots in the vicinity for other parts of a body.

Police are not inclined to accept the view of Dr. Shelby P. Strange, autopsy surgeon of the Coroner's office, that because the hand bears evidence of preservation it was thrown there by medical students.

The attention of the Tompkins boys was directed to the spot where lay the ear and hand when their dog ran barking from the brush. The boys looked to see what had aroused their dog and, behind a cluster of brush, they found the cigar box with its contents. As they were about to leave they spied the hand.

M. R. Schwartz, a realty man and builder of 2040 Sixteenth avenue, who for the last sixty days has been building a row of houses on Twentieth avenue, said that some of his workmen had reported to him the frequent visits of a woman, whose habit it was to walk over the lot.

Schwartz said he was unable to recall whether his workmen had ever described the woman or said she had carried any bundles.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The governors of forty-eight States have been asked by the American Peace Award Foundation to induce their respective State Legislatures to adopt joint resolutions "urging the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to present to the full Senate at the earliest possible moment the question of our adherence to the World Court on the Harding-Hughes terms," it was announced today.

In a letter to all governors whose Legislatures now are in session the peace foundation expresses the belief that "a clear and forceful expression of opinion from the various communities will induce the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to submit our participation in the court on the Harding-Hughes terms to the full Senate for a vote before March 4, next."

EXPORTING OF FARM MACHINERY BOOMING

LAST YEAR SHOWS HEAVY DEMAND FOR TRACTORS IN FRANCE, CANADA

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—American agricultural machinery came into a great world demand during 1924, after three years of considerable depression.

For the eleven months, including November, 1924, the Commerce Department announced today, the United States exported agricultural machinery to a value of $56,431,000, or about $9,500,000 in excess of the value of such exports during the same period of 1923 and more than twice the total for the entire year of 1922.

Wheel tractors were the principal article of export in the agricultural machinery list during 1924, with 22,747, valued at $12,386,000, delivered to foreign purchasers up to December 1. Argentina, France and Canada were the leading purchasers.

PERSHING IS MAKING SOUTHERN CHILE TRIP

He was accompanied to the railway station by members of the government, prominent Chileans and Americans. After his visit in the South, the American general will return to Santiago the 16th inst., and will then cross the Andes to Buenos Aires.

INQUIRY ON CUSTOMS UNDER WAY

Several Officers Being Investigated as Result of Hawaiian Disclosure

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Indications were given at the Treasury today that an investigation into conditions in several customs offices in different sections of the country is under way as a result of disclosures in the secret inquiry into conditions among the agents in the Hawaiian customs office. One agent has been convicted there and four others indicted on charges of conspiracy. The Treasury's advices indicated that the government had been defrauded of thousands of dollars in duties.

Officials declined to discuss the new inquiry, but it was said in some quarters that information received in the Hawaiian investigation had furnished reasons for looking into conditions elsewhere. The belief prevailed that evidence gathered in Hawaii may lead back to the continental United States, inasmuch as most of the big importing firms have their head offices and executive officials in this country. Whether there was ground for belief that indictments could be obtained here, however, was not disclosed.

Information at the Treasury was to the effect that the Hawaiian conspiracy has been proving highly profitable to importing firms and that the practices employed in some instances at least had amounted almost to smuggling because of the connivance asserted to have taken place between some of the agents and the importers.

Klan Ouster in Kansas Upheld by High Court

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Jan. 11.—Enjoined by the District Court, ousted by the Supreme Court, the Ku Klux Klan finds itself without a home in Kansas. The decision of the State Supreme Court yesterday holding the Klan was a corporation organized for profit and as such could not operate in Kansas without a charter, delivered victory to the State in the suit brought in the high court twenty-six months ago.

Members of the hooded order found little solace in the thought that they might seek the sanction of the State charter board.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MORRIS (Ill.) Jan. 11.—Ten head of blue-ribbon horses and ponies, entrants of Harris Gorham of this city in the forthcoming stock shows of Denver, and San Francisco, were burned to death in a fire on the Gorham farm today, a few hours before they were to have been shipped to the western cities. A team of ponies valued at $5000 also was lost.

The fire destroyed the barn where the horses were kept and the loss was estimated at $75,000.

Pollution Ban for Navigable Waters Asked

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—David E. Neuberger, president of the National Coast Anti-Pollution League today made public a letter he had sent to Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., calling attention to the outbreak of typhoid fever in the city and asking that legislation be introduced in Congress to prevent pollution of the navigable waters about the city, which Mr. Neuberger blames for the present occurrence of the disease.

GERMAN COLONIZING PROJECT IS PLANNED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Plans for colonizing German farmers in Arkansas and Southern California were announced today by Walter Schade, for many years immigration agent for the Louisville and Nashville Railway, on his return aboard the liner Cleveland, from Germany. "We will bring over fifty families in April, and fifty more during the latter part of 1925," he said. "The first group will settle upon farms near Texarkana, Ark., paying for the land as they develop it. Only selected families will be brought over."

MARKETING MAY BE REPORT TOPIC

Farm Commission Expected to Offer Suggestions

Co-operation Will be Studied After First Survey

Extra Congressional Session Seen as Unnecessary

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Notwithstanding the setback given co-operative marketing legislation by the co-operatives who, in annual meeting in Washington during the last week, declared opposition to any action by Congress, President Coolidge's Agricultural Commission is expected to offer some suggestions on the subject in its final report. The co-operative problem will be taken up by the commission immediately after it makes its preliminary report to the President this week, in which recommendations will be made for amendment sto the Intermediate Credit Act to facilitate financing of cattle-raising and probably also for a duty on hides.

The preliminary report is likely to reach the President on Tuesday and will be transmitted to Congress before the end of the week. The later report on the subject of co-operative marketing will be designed to furnish a basis for action in the next session of Congress.

AID TO SMALL GROUPS

Those favoring co-operative marketing legislation point out that the associations represented at the recent meeting were the larger and more successful groups, and that, while they do not need legislation, there is reason to set up governmental machinery to assist in the formation and supervision of co-operatives among various other less powerful groups.

It is quite likely that the Agricultural Commission will not attempt to indorse specifically either the Capper-Williams bill which creates a national commission to encourage and supervise co-operatives or the Curtis-Aswell bill, which deals with the situation in a somewhat different manner. The commission's report is expected to point out ways in which legislation will be helpful and let Congress plan the details of the measure.

It is the general consensus of opinion that there will be no occasion for a special session of Congress so far as the agricultural situation is concerned.

Senator Capper of Kansas, head of the Senate farm bloc, declared himself today against a special session.

"With two-thirds of its time yet before the present session, there is no valid reason for an extra session—if Congress will keep to essential business and refrain from hot air marathons and partisan and factional contests," said Senator Capper.

"In his message the President expressed hope his commission to study the agricultural situation might present its findings and such recommendations as it may evolve in time for consideration by the present session. If this hope is realized, the farm problem will scarcely present a valid reason for an extra session.

EXTRA SESSION CLAMOR

"This clamor for an extra session, in part at least, results from the zeal of certain well-meaning folks, obsessed with the notion that legislation is a sort of magic wand; that all that's necessary is to manipulate this conjurer's baton and troubles will vanish, all rough places be made smooth and all smarts soothed.

"The country needs no elaborate program of legislation. On the whole, the country wants more, perhaps, than any other thing the government can give it, a legislative holiday—and from March to December, or at least until well into next autumn—isn't any too long a season for such a holiday. That is, a holiday subject to unforeseen emergency involving foreign relations or home concerns requiring immediate attention—such an emergency as could not be handled by executive action without legislative sanction."

Weevil to Play Part in Nation's Defense Scheme

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The part of the boll weevil in the scheme of national defense is assuming some degree of importance in Army circles.

Secretary Weeks has been informed that an Ogdensburg (N. Y.) company is being organized to equip airplanes to spread poison over infested fields, and such a new outlet for production is held to be of benefit in supplying a new commercial aircraft market.

Ninety-five per cent of the airplane orders in the United States at present, Secretary Weeks said he had been informed, come from the government and either outside patronage or increased government purchases are necessary to permit the industry to survive in a general way.

Fire Threatens Art Treasures in Rome Casino

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ROME, Jan. 11.—Fire which broke out in the apartments of Princess Raspigliosi this morning threatened the famous Raspigliosi Casino, which houses some of the world's greatest art treasures, and the apartments of the American Ambassador, Mr. Fletcher, who occupied the first floor of the Raspigliosi Palace. After a two-hour battle the Rome fire brigade succeeding in confining the flames to the rooms occupied by the Princess, who formerly was Mary E. Parkhurst of New York.

The Raspigliosi palace is directly opposite the Quirinal, the residence of the King, who, with the Crown Prince, was one of the first on the scene of the fire. There was no fire or water damage to the art gallery, which houses some of the finest works of Signorelli, Guidoreno, Reni and Reubens. Mr. Fletcher's apartment was not damaged.

A squad of armed policemen accompanied the cash pushed through busy thoroughfares on small trucks.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

POTTSVILLE (Pa.) Jan. 11.—Fourteen-year-old William C. Cavalier was found guilty today of murder in the first degree for the killing of his grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Cavalier, 62, last July. The jury had deliberated nearly twenty-four hours.

Cavalier was remanded to prison to await disposition of an appeal for a new trial. He showed no emotion when the verdict was delivered.

Attorneys for the commonwealth introduced testimony tending to prove that Cavalier had shot his grandmother seven times and then stole $58 from her stocking as she lay dying on the floor. Counsel for the defense pleaded moral insanity and four physicians testified that the boy was insane.

Viscount Kato Nails Lies of Firebrand Journals

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, Jan. 11.—Ever since the Chinese civil war a section of the Japanese press has been insistently printing articles to the effect that both Great Britain and America were not observing strict neutrality in the warfare of China's tuchuns. All of them have proved to be pure fabrications, a portion of them being invented with a purpose that, after due lapse of time, has turned out to be not merely canard, but malicious distortion of the truth.

Today Viscount Kato, Premier of Japan, while talking to his constituents, nailed these lies. Neither Great Britain nor the United States, he said in effect, ever budged one jot or tittle either from the letter or the spirit of the agreement reached between Japan, America and Great Britain to keep their hands off Chinese disturbances.

ATTITUDE EXEMPLARY

"The Anglo-American attitude toward China's internal troubles," he said, "was perfectly fair and aboveboard. When the Chihli-Mukden hostilities broke out, Japan, Great Britain and the United States agreed not to favor either of the combatants. On September 11 and 13, the representatives of Great Britain and the United States in Tokio called on Baron Shidehara, Foreign Minister, and a perfect concert of action between the three powers was established. All concerned consistently and faithfully adhered to the policy of noninterference."

Premier Kato then went on to say that the relations of Japan with America and the British Empire, in so far as concerned the Chinese question, were perfectly friendly and that a common course of action, accepted by all, has been formulated and agreed to. He laid emphasis on the statement that Japan would be first consulted by the two Anglo-Saxon powers before either took any action in China.

"Mr. MacDonald, former Premier of Great Britain," said Viscount Kato, "publicly declared that England would wait for Japan's initiative before taking any action in China, should this become necessary. Austen Chamberlain, the Foreign Minister in the new Conservative Cabinet, has also given Baron Hayashi, Japan's Ambassador to the Court of St. James, assurances to that effect, while here in Tokio, the British Ambassador, Sir Charles Eliot, called on our Foreign Office and conveyed the same intimation to Baron Shidehara."

PREDICTS FAILURE

Viscount Kato then declared that the Tuan government is, in his opinion, a temporary one. It has set out to accomplish great things, he added, but the task before the would-be framers of the destinies of the New China was a very difficult one.

"We must consolidate our position in China," the Premier said in conclusion, "and we must do this in concert and harmony with the other powers having interests in that country, at the same time retaining the good will, trust and friendship of the Chinese people. To steal a march over others, as some people have been urging Japan to do (this has largely been the jingoistic element of the press) will only be to invite failure and prejudice Japan's future. Co-operation and harmony is the royal road to success, and so far as the Chinese problem is concerned, Japan is in perfect harmony with Great Britain and the United States."

Freak Fog Halts Title Football Game in London

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A freak fog today played tricks on thousands of London football enthusiasts gathering for the city championship of Westham.

A wandering fog moved about the suburbs early in the day, holding up train traffic and finally settled inside the enclosure obscuring the field. The referee announced that the game was off, while crowds entering the bleachers from the outside where the weather was perfectly clear, were clamoring for admittance. It was with great difficulty that the police persuaded them to turn back.

MAINE FRESHMEN DO THEIR OWN HAZING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ORONO (Me.) Jan. 11.—Freshmen at the University of Maine, where hazing has been abolished, are punished by their own class when they transgress the rules. A committee of ten known as the Freshmen Eagles is held responsible for the behavior of the class by the Sophomore Owls, a similar committee of the second-year men.

The Eagles and the Owls meet in regular sessions at which matters pertaining to the freshmen are passed on to the Eagles for action. The suggestions of the Owls are strictly carried out and the plan is working well.

DECLARES BOBBING INFERIORITY MARK

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A score of women and girls heard H. J. Harper Roberts, lecturing at the London College of Physiology, declare that bobbing and shingling dated from the Stone Age. He added that bobbing had always been a sign of social inferiority, a badge of servitude and a mark of servility. "Today, however, it is one of the signs of emancipation of woman, part of her reluctance to conform to conventional standards," he continued.

Architect Says Skyscrapers Not Suited to London

BY JOHN STEELE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Skyscrapers for London were condemned "as traffic complicators" by Alfred C. Bossom, a New York architect, in a paper before the Royal Society yesterday. He said that concentration of population resulting from the construction of great buildings would, with London's narrow streets, create impossible conditions.

"Such a building as the Equitable Building in New York, which houses nearly 20,000 office workers, in the British capital would probably tie up traffic for five miles around it, if as in America, all owned cars," he said. "A few of these buildings in London with traffic problems as serious as they are at present would undoubtedly keep the main arteries permanently jammed."

VICTORIA (B. C.) Jan. 11.—The first eight-hour-day law ever passed by a Canadian Province has gone into effect in British Columbia. While certain industries, like agriculture and fishing, are exempt from the law, it applies generally to industrial operations.

The chief industries affected by the new regulations are the big sawmills of the Coast, which have thus been put on a basis of equality with their nearest competitors, the mills of Washington State.

Woman Pastor Asks Court Ban on Scandal Talk

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Ethel McKee, 23 years of age, of Oak Park, known as "the little minister" in the free Methodist Church where she is an ordained preacher, today asked the Court of Domestic Relations to restrain Mrs. Emma Sturdivant from linking her name with the Rev. Charles Sturdivant.

Mrs. Sturdivant recently filed charges that Miss McKee and her husband had occupied a "love nest" in the basement of a church at Pillsbury, S. D., during a revival there.

Because of this and several other affairs with women, Rev. Mr. Sturdivant was suspended by the authorities. The revivalist says his wife is responsible for these scandals, which have ruined his career and driven him out of the church.

Judge Morgan told the girl preacher that if Mrs. Sturdivant molested her any further he would issue a warrant for her arrest. "While I have not the slightest doubt of your innocence," he said. "I am going to order you not to see Mr. Sturdivant, even in a professional manner."

The judge also urged the Sturdivants to get together and adjust their difficulties.

FURNACE DEATH TOPIC IN PULPIT

Sheatsley Finally Discusses Tragedy at Church

Anonymous Letters Cause Him to Take Step

Fellow Clergyman Comes to His Defense

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

COLUMBUS (O.) Jan. 11.—Anonymous letters, purporting to have been written by members of his congregation, today caused Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church of Bexley, to discuss before his congregation the mysterious cremation of his wife in the furnace of the parsonage on November 17, 1924.

It was the first time the pastor had mentioned the tragedy since resuming his pulpit.

"Several anonymous letters, purporting to have been written by members of my congregation," Mr. Sheatsley said, "have asked why we have not mentioned the tragedy that took place in our home."

This statement brought Rev. Edward Pfeiffer, professor at Capital University, where Mr. Sheatsley is professor of religion, to his feet with an appeal for the pastor to discontinue his remarks.

"This congregation has gone on record as expressing absolute confidence in the innocence of our pastor, and of every member of his family. I, personally, was dissuaded with difficulty from offering a reward of $1000 for information leading to the conviction of any person or persons guilty in this affair. What do the people want? Did our resolution carry no weight?" Dr. Pfeiffer declared.

Columbus newspapers have printed a number of letters bearing on the Sheatsley furnace mystery, many of them denouncing the pastor and members of his family for not offering a reward for a solution of the mystery.

Rev. Mr. Sheatsley stood silently, while Dr. Pfeiffer talked, then answered.

"Dr. Pfeiffer has misunderstood me. It is me, not the congregation, who has been questioned. I wish to ask my congregation to wait in patience until the rigid and thorough investigation now being conducted by the regularly constituted authorities is completed and their findings made public, and I wish all of you to rest easy in the confidence that when findings are made public, neither I nor any member of my family will be in any way criminally implicated."

The pastor's last remarks were directed toward stories in local papers that County Prosecutor King had submitted evidence gathered by his investigators before a grand jury.

Man Accused of Pulling Gun Shot in Legs by Police

A man identified by papers found in his clothing as Frank Silva, about 24 years of age, was shot three times through both legs late Saturday night by Officer Rasmussen at Jackson and Vignes streets.

According to Rasmussen, Silva was in an intoxicated condition and when he stopped to search him, the man pulled a gun and fired at the officer. Rasmussen returned the fire, one of the bullets striking Silva's thigh and breaking the bone. Silva was booked at the prison ward of the General Hospital for investigation, after first treatment at the Receiving Hospital from Police Surgeon Saverien.

Highland Park Couple Wedded for 64 Years

The sixty-fourth wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Bishop of Highland Park was celebrated by more than 100 guests at a reception and tea Saturday afternoon and evening, at their home. A unique feature of the occasion was a "radio party." A special number was given by Art Hickman's orchestra and a violin solo was given by 13-year-old Betty Moore. Uncle John of The Times made some appropriate remarks over the radio.

ALTER IN SALT MINE IN RICH SETTING

In a quiet corner of the huge salt mines of Akna Slatina, a small town on the frontier of Ruthenia and Rumania, one comes unexpectedly upon a tiny altar.

The setting is one of strange beauty. Walls of glistening salt, lifting their Gothic arches to dim obscurity, form its background. Electric lamps on high standards light these walls with magic touch and they glitter and scintillate, each facet of the salt reflecting the light until the whole seems an edifice of jewels.

Morning and night, as the miners begin and finish the day's toil, the altar is thronged. Fresh flowers are brought from the world above, and so great is considered the favor of arranging them that lots are drawn, the fortunate man retaining his office for a week—[Montreal Gazette.

Status of Samoans is Unique, Wards, Not Citizens

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The American flag flies over more than 7000 islands out in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. This is a figurative statement, for, of course, a good many of the islands are small, insignificant affairs without houses, people or flag poles. But the fact remains that the United States is responsible for out houses, people or flagpoles. welfare of 7083 islands of the Philippines, American Samoa, Guam, the Virgin Islands and Porto Rico.

The 14,000,000 or more inhabitants of these insular possessions are very much interested in the United States. The children learn at school about George Washington and other American heroes. The people take an interest in the affairs of the United States and in its progress. But they are sometimes surprised and disappointed to discover that Americans know so much less about them than they know about the Americans.

For instance, how many are following the present situation in the Virgin Islands, where the Volstead Prohibition Act has meant a great deal more than a shortage in drinks?

NAVY GUARDS VIRGINS

The Virgin Islands are part of the West Indies. They lie in the Atlantic Ocean to the east of Cuba and Porto Rico. The United States bought the islands from Denmark for $25,000,000 because of the fact that they easily command the east entrance to the Panama Canal. The Navy Department was put in charge of them.

Most Americans probably thought that we were picking up another bargain like Alaska and that gold mines and profitable industries would immediately be discovered, for our national luck along that line is proverbial.

But the Virgin Islands are not very fertile. They are inhabited by about 25,000 West Indian natives and about 1000 white residents. Sugar cane is grown on St. Croix, which is one of the three large islands. But the industry has no advantages which would help it to compete with cane from more fertile plantations, the sugar-cane industry needs a plentiful water supply, and the Virgin Islands still depend on wells for water. The United States is planning to establish a water-supply system with conduits and reservoirs, which will greatly help the sugar industry. One hundred and twenty-five million dollars has been requested for this purpose in the annual budget bill before Congress.

ST. THOMAS BAY RUM

But to return to the present difficulty, St. Thomas, the largest of the Virgin Islands, had one steady and profitable crop, and that was the bay leaves which grow in profusion there. St. Thomas bay rum was famous and held its own in any market.

When prohibition put a stop to the manufacture of preparations containing pure alcohol, St. Thomas was hard hit. It has continued to make bay rum, using such materials as the prohibition law would permit, but the British islands of the West Indies have seized the opportunity to stress the point that their bay rum is made from pure alcohol, and consequently the Virgin Islands are seriously handicapped in marketing their product.

Just a step from these islands is Porto Rico, which has a population of 1,300,000. When the United States took over Porto Rico in 1898, it had been under Spanish rule for four centuries. There was no established public-school system, only private institutions.

In 1898, 80 per cent of the people could not read or write. Only 8 per cent of the children between five and seventeen years of age went to school. By 1920 illiteracy was reduced to 55 per cent and more than 45 per cent of the children were attending school.

Porto Rico is making progress in agriculture and industry, but it has its problems.

WAGE SCALE TOO LOW

The Governor of the island says that no one who has carefully observed the labor situation in Porto Rico can be fully satisfied with existing conditions, even though they are certainly improving. The wage scale is far below that in any of the States, and is too small, the Governor says, to permit the wage-earner with a family to live in comfort and educate his children.

Unemployment is a constant condition. The sugar workers have less than six months' work during the year, and the coffee workers have a still shorter season. It is rare to find a workman who can say that he has a steady job all the year around. Yet the efforts of agricultural agents are gradually bringing about better conditions. People are being taught to improve their live stock, to rotate corps, and to raise friut and truck gardens.

Porto Rico has its own Legislature and its own officials, with the exception of the Governor, who is appointed by the President of the United States. The island is under the supervision of the War Department.

The status of some of the island possessions of the United States is hard to define. The United States has charge of a group of six of the Samoan Islands in the South Seas. We have had these islands since 1900, but their exact political status has never been determined by Congress.

Government officials do business on the principle that the Samoans are not citizens of the United States, but that they owe allegiance to the flag. The Constitution and laws of the United States do not apply to them.

They are typical South Sea Islands with all that the name implies in the way of beauty, color, luxuriant plant growth and indolent amiable people. These tropic islands mean a good deal to the United States because of their strategic position at a crossroads of the Pacific.

FISH EATERS UNABLE TO GIVE PRIZE

Palates Refuse to Act After Seventeen Dishes of Filet of Sole

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Jan. 11.—Their palates deadened and numbed and stalled after eating seventeen different "filet de sole of a la bonne femme," a jury of epicures and gourmands were unable to decide which was the best dish and award an annual medal for the leading French chef, so they adjourned.

An elimination test reduced the field of competing chefs to seventeen and the jury decided unanimously that the test would be filet de sole a la bonne femme.

Within twenty minutes the first sole, with a marvelous rich sauce, appeared and then steadily came sixteen more as each chef concluded his piece de resistance.

Some of the judges were unable to gobble any more after the tenth sole, but Chairman Montagne stuck it out valiantly for the entire seventeen.

Copious draughts of the best Burgundy and white wines slaked the thirsts as the fish dinner proceeded. The final judgment of the jury was that there was too much sole, and the test was adjourned until tomorrow, when something easier to eat will be selected.

Coleman of Indianapolis, for a woman's hospital to be used principally for lying-in patients was announced by officials of the university. The new hospital will be located on the medical school campus at Indianapolis.

POLITICS
THE WATCHMAN
Trend of Political Thought and Action

—BY THE SENTRY ON HIS BEAT—

President Lacy of the Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated upon his efforts to divorce the civic center and new City Hall controversy from politics. Some of the Councilmen may be jealous of the county government, others of the Council may not like this plan or that architect, and some of the supervisors may have been more considerate of the city's rights in the City Hall site, but these differences can be ironed out and President Lacy is the man to do it. The people have said that they wanted a civic center and they have provided $7,500,000 for a City Hall to be located in that civic center. President Lacy has called a conference to be held at the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow noon, and it is hoped that the different points of views will be set forth and real progress made toward securing an agreement that will mean a beautiful, accessible City Hall in a civic center that will be the pride of Los Angeles for generations to come.

The City Council is expected to get busy this week on preparing the map dividing the city into fifteen councilmanic districts, under the Supreme Court decision which held that district representation in the Council had been approved by the voters. The Legislature on the 23rd inst. will take a recess for one month and City Attorney Stephens has rushed to the State printer at Sacramento to obtain copies of the new city charter for the Legislature. This is one of several requirements that must be met before the Legislature can ratify the charter. The City Attorney is rushing things at top speed. The Councilmen realize that the time is short and that to await ratification before starting work on the map would be impracticable.

Under the terms of the charter the map must be completed and approved by the Council not later than March 5. City Clerk Dominguez has in readiness complete maps and election data for the use of the Council map-makers. The districts must be based upon the vote cast for Governor in 1922, which would give each district a voting strength then of about 10,000 as compared with a present voting population now of about 50,000 each. It seems evident already that the long desired wish of the people of the Wilmington Harbor district to have a councilman and of the same desire of the residents of the San Fernando Valley section will not be granted when the first map is prepared, as it will be necessary to extend the San Fernando Valley district into West Hollywood and the Harbor-Wilmington district eastward through the "Shoestring" strip to possibly Manchester avenue in order to make districts that will have had 10,000 votes in 1922 and be approximately equal to the other districts.

Edwin Baker, member of the present City Council and former Assemblyman, has formally announced his candidacy for the Council at the May primaries from the district which is to include Eagle Rock, Annandale, Highland Park and Garvanza sections of the city, and such adjacent territory as will be added when the Council makes the map. So far as is known, Councilman Baker is the first member of the present Council to take the field in his district for re-election as a ward councilman. In his statement to the voters of the district, he said that he purchased a home in Eagle Rock one year ago, and as a permanent resident of the district was vitally concerned in the development of that section. He said that his purpose in making an early announcement of his candidacy was to give the voters of the district an opportunity to examine his record in the Council and during his four terms in the Legislature. He said that he felt confident that his record would show constructive accomplishments for the promotion of the general welfare and the growth and development of the city. THE WATCHMAN.

PLANS LAW TO CURB SPEEDERS

Justice Blake Prepares Bill for License Revocation

Jailing and Fining of Drivers of Autos Held Futile

Clearing Roads of Reckless Ones is Seen as Result

As a result of a month handling traffic cases in the County Speeders' Court, Justice Blake announced yesterday he will offer to the Legislature a new method for curbing reckless driving, which he believes will gradually eliminate from the highways careless and incompetent motor vehicle operators.

Justice Blake

His plan is to have a conviction for reckless driving suspend automatically the driver's license. To get it back, the driver must appear before an examining board and convince them he is capable of handling a car in a careful and skillful manner.

Present methods, Justice Blake says, are useless and ineffective. Jail sentences and heavy fines accomplish some temporary benefit, but it does not last. The court does not have time to go into each individual case and the system results in injustice.

BLAKE'S BELIEF

"It is my belief," said Justice Blake, "that the law enacted did not intend we should fix a definite speed limit. The intent of the law seems to be that all persons must drive in a careful and prudent manner and when we interpret it otherwise we are not offering an effective remedy. Everyone knows that a good driver may go on the highway and not endanger anyone if he has a clear road and drives his automobile at a speed more than thirty-five miles an hour. Some other person may drive the same machine at the same speed on the same highway and endanger every vehicle or person upon that highway. The difference is one of individuality. Until we have a method of segregating careless or incompetent drivers we will not get very far."

Driving a motor car should be considered a privilege, not a right, and should be denied those who are not competent or who abuse it, he said.

SUSPEND LICENSE

"I propose," said he, "that when a defendant is brought into court when the element of recklessness or carelessness or incapability is involved, the magistrate be empowered to suspend his license if found guilty. If he passes a real examination in driving ability and physical capacity, his license may be restored. Those who do not take or who fail to pass such an examination should be required under heavy penalty to refrain from operating an automobile. A fee for taking the examination would make such an examining board self-supporting.

"This method would strike directly at the reckless and careless motor vehicle operator and eventually eliminate him from the highway. If we take such drivers from the road we will make a great advance toward the solution of one of our most serious problems. The system might be a beginning for a system of examining all persons who in future apply for driver's licenses."

MISER DIES IN SQUALOR AMID GOLD

Nebraska Recluse's Safe Discloses Hoard; Family Deserts Skinflint

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BROKEN BOW (Neb.) Jan. 11. Officers acting under orders of the Probate Court uncovered a miser's hoard when they burned into a small steel safe found among the effects of John W. Conley, an eccentric character, who has lived alone for years in a little shack on the outskirts of the city. The existence of the safe has never been disclosed to any of the few who had visited Conley in recent years.

The search revealed $2000 in gold, $4600 in ragged currency and $500 in Liberty bonds.

The man also left a valuable farm near Ashley and a seven-acre suburban tract adjoining this city. It was while searching for the will, supposed to have been made, that the safe and the money were uncovered.

Conley had lived in the county for years, quitting farm life fifteen years ago and locating in the shack, where he lived in squalor. He fed himself on food the ordinary person would scorn, never buying any luxuries and seldom necessities. The only time he mingled with his fellows was when tax-paying time came and he could engage in a good grumble.

His wife died years ago and the three sons and one daughter long ago refused to live in the kind of home he provided. Two of the sons are reported to be in the State Home for Feeble-Minded, the daughter is a nurse in Omaha, and the whereabouts of the other son is unknown.

The man's shack was filled with books, magazines and newspapers he had collected, and whose contents he had devoured. The few who ever talked with him found him to be a man of unusual learning and well posted on current affairs as well.

Banks Notified Bond Bids Will be Opened Soon

City Clerk Dominguez is broadcasting the news to banks and investment houses all over the country that on the 20th inst., the City Council will open bids and sell Los Angeles municipal bonds amounting, in par value, to $11,500,000. Some of the Councilmen are opposed to receiving "split" bids under which varying rates of interest are to be paid on parts of the block of bonds.

The Council majority took the position that any and all kinds of bids would be received and that the bid which offered the best price be accepted, whether the bidder offers to pay par and a premium and a uniform rate of interest for the bonds, or whether the profit to the city is represented by low rates of interest. Under the Council's resolution, the city will not pay more than 4 3-4 per cent interest on the bonds. The securities to be sold are as follows: $3,000,000 water, $3,500,000 power, $4,000,000 outfall sewer, $500,000 viaducts and $500,000 street openings and widenings.

The Council may decide to lay to add to the list $3,500,000 power bonds now in the city's sinking fund, and if this is done the total to be sold on the 20th inst., will be $15,000,000.

Last Appeal on Christmas Seal Fund is Issued

A final appeal to those who have not yet sent in their dollars for the Christmas Seals sent them through the mails has been issued by the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association in a last effort to complete its $50,000 budget for its humanitarian work during the coming year.

Unless the response is more prompt and the payments for the seals are forthcoming the association will be seriously handicapped in its fight here against the white plague, it was stated. The work will be greatly curtailed unless the entire quota is raised and many of the children and adults suffering from tuberculosis will be left to fight alone.

City Health Commissioner Parrish has come to the association's aid in its effort to raise the $50,000 quota. The total must be obtained, he declared, because the city draws an overwhelming percentage of the physically debilitated, many suffering from tuberculosis, and necessary precautions must be taken to guard against the spread of the dread disease. The association, he pointed out, is the principal agency in its work and must therefore receive the whole-hearted support of the public.

"GHOST" IS SOUGHT IN OKLAHOMA

Elusive Bandit Acquires Title by Rumored Death; Banks Rue Resurrection

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 11.—To capture Jeff Duree, "the Ghost," is the aim of a thousand officers in Oklahoma today. As daring a bandit as ever buckled on six-guns in this bandit-ridden State, Duree is suspected of possessing the master mind behind the startling series of daylight bank robberies in the last few months.

"The Ghost" is a former member of "Phantom Al" Spencer's gang and his successor as a bandit leader when Al was shot by Federal officers. He has the same rendezvous that Al kept, the impregnable Osage Hills, which hold the secrets of nine-tenths of the bandit raids of Oklahoma.

Duree won his moniker of "The Ghost" only lately, but his reputation as a bandit is of long standing. He was convicted of robbing a Santa Fe mail train near Oklahoma City four years ago and made bond pending appeal. A year ago a man was killed in a gun battle at Elgin, Kan., following a bank robbery. Officers identified the dead man as Duree, and sent him to his folks. The kin said, however, that the corpse was none of their flesh. So opinion became divided, but the last six months have erased every doubt of Jeff's being alive. He has been seen by many and talked to by some.

The latest robbery to be charged against "The Ghost" is that at Chandler. The Sheriff and his entire force were sent to Stroud by a false tip that a bank there was to be robbed. In their absence four masked men looted the Farmers' National Bank of $5900.

Duree has a flashing character, with sufficient versatility to pass in good company as a gentleman or to rule a gang of bandits with the butt of his revolver.

BUILDERS' BANQUET DATE SET

Joint Committee Event to be Given February 10 at Biltmore

The first annual banquet of the Construction Industries Joint Committee will be given on February 10, according to an announcement yesterday of Lynn S. Atkinson, the committee chairman. The banquet will be in the main ballroom of the Biltmore and more than 700 persons will be in attendance.

Invitations and applications for reservations were mailed to persons affiliated with the building industry as soon as the banquet date was set and more than 500 reservations already have been made, according to the committee in charge. The committee includes representatives of the Southern California Chapter, General Contractors of America; Contractors' Association of California, Los Angeles Exchange, Electrical Dealers' and Contractors Association; Contracting Plasterers' Association; Heating and Piping Contractors' Association; Merchant Plumbers' Association; Master Housepainters' and Decorators' Association, and the Surety Association of America.

While the program for the banquet has not been made, among those mentioned for places are Herbert Hoover, who is expected in Los Angeles during February, Gov. Richardson, Arthur S. Bent, past president of the National Association of General Contractors of America, and public officials.

WIFE TAKES WINE; LETS HUSBAND GO

Prefers 180,000 Gallons in Warehouse, So Mate is Granted Freedom

Freedom comes high sometimes. Joseph Di Giuseppi, for instance, appraised his own personal freedom from the chains of matrimony as worth 180,000 gallons of bonded wine.

Opinions vary as to the value of a husband, but Mrs. Maria Di Giuseppi thought 180,000 gallons of wine a fair recompense for hers.

And so a bargain was struck. Mrs. Di Giuseppi took the wine, and Di Giuseppi took his freedom. The terms of this transaction were announced yesterday by Attorney S. S. Hahn, who drew the papers in the case.

Several months ago Di Giuseppi executed what Hahn characterized as "a fast one." Mrs. Di Giuseppi was in New York. During her absence, according to Hahn, Di Giuseppi revived a moribund annulment suit—moribund, he said, because they had lived together after the suit was filed—and obtained a decree voiding the marriage. Mrs. Di Giuseppi came back and had Hahn enter a motion to dismiss the decree. The motion was to have been heard by Judge Walton J. Wood today.

But there will be no hearing, it was announced. Di Giuseppi is the owner of a bonded warehouse in which is stored a vast quantity of wine—180,000 gallons of it. He agreed to turn it all over to his wife, and she agreed to withdraw her motion, Hahn said.

SEEKS CLEAN LOVE SLATE

Woman Would Wipe All Her Matrimonial Ventures Away and Resume Maiden Name

Matrimony, for Anna Elizabeth Sommerholder, has been a comedy of legal errors. Now she wants to wipe the whole affair off the slate and start life anew under the name she bore before she first tried marriage. She told about it in a complaint for divorce from Adolp Sommerholder, filed with the County Clerk.

She married Sommerholder twice. The first wedding took place in Switzerland in 1897, and was followed five years later by a divorce in the same country. Then, both having meantime crossed the sea, they remarried in Passaic, N. J., in 1903.

This second venture proved no more satisfactory than the first, and in 1912 Mrs. Sommerholder, having come to California, filed suit for divorce here. In preparing for this action, her attorney wrote to the New Jersey authorities for a record of the second marriage, and was advised there had been none. So Mrs. Sommerholder accepted this information at its face value, and contracted new nuptials with one Mark Bouvien in 1915.

And after that she found out that there was a record in New Jersey of her second marriage to Sommerholder. So back to court she went again to have the Bouvien marriage annulled.

All of this was related in her complaint for divorce from Sommerholder in explanation of why she had to go clear back to 1908 to recite cause of action against him. For she left him after he had struck her so violent a blow that year that she had to go to a hospital to recuperate. That is given as the basis of a cruelty charge. Her intervening litigation accounted for the hiatus between cause of action and institution of suit.

In her complaint she asked restoration of her maiden name of Anne Elizabeth Mason.

FOUR ARE ROBBED IN HOLD-UPS

Two Oil Stations, Pair of Pedestrians Are Victims; One Man Shot

Four hold-ups were committed in Los Angeles late Saturday night and early Sunday morning, according to the police.

John H. March of 607 Mound avenue, South Pasadena said that he accepted a ride with an unknown autoist in Lincoln Park, and the automobile was driven toward South Pasadena until El Serrano street was reached. The car was then driven up a dark street and stopped alongside another car in which five men were sitting. One of the five produced a revolver, while Marsh's erstwhile friend robbed him of $1.65, made him take off his overcoat and hand over passes on the Pacific Electric and Southern Pacific. Then he was told to get out and walk.

Two bandits entered the Shell Oil station at 732 South Figueroa and took $50 from F. R. Ward, the attendant.

Carl Schultz, 23 years of age, was stopped on the Fourth-street bridge by two robbers who relieved him of $125 and took a shot at him. The bullet went through his left hand, missing the bone.

An hour after the Schultz robbery, Patrolman E. C. Johnson and Henry arrested Augustine Hernandez, 21 years of age, and Joseph Campos, 22, near the scene, and lodged them in the City Jail on suspicion that they had committed the crime.

One robber pointed his revolver at R. C. Eaton, the attendant, while another rifled the till in the Shell Oil station at Mateo and Violet streets.

SCHOOL IS BANKRUPT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 11.—More than a hundred pupils of the Riverview-South High School at Beloit are faced with the prospect of a long vacation because the school is bankrupt. The school is located in a district which is partly in Illinois territory and school officials say the taxable property is wholly inadequate to raise enough money to pay the four teachers and a janitor.

London Gives to Save Crumbling Cathedral Dome

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Private funds for the preservation of St. Paul's Cathedral, whose mighty dome is threatened with collapse from structural weakness are being subscribed by the British people, who regard the dome as the nation's symbol.

After a three-day campaign a fund of $155,000 has been collected by newspaper publicity and broadcasting appeals. As a result of one wireless appeal to all listeners-in to send a shilling, $16,450 was collected.

The Times, commenting today, regrets the decision to make repairs which will only be effective temporarily advocating that the nation provide $2,850,000, which it is impossible to get from the private fund and reconstruct the crumbling monument.

Familiarity With Waiters Cited in Plea for Divorce

Sometimes a husband who knows the headwaiter is an asset. Sometimes he is a liability.

Mrs. Katherine Clark found that Dudley Clark's familiarity with the waiters only served to keep her from revels she might otherwise have attended, she declared in an amended complaint for divorce from him on file in the office of the County Clerk.

Clark, she said, feared to take her to certain cafes for fear that the waiters would recognize him and remember his previous appearances with other women. He told this to a friend of hers in explanation of his failure to take her there, she related.

In original complaint, Mrs. Clark set forth her husband had sworn to an insanity complaint against her as a result of which she was haled before the Lunacy Commission and found sane. Recently she was awarded $30 a week for the support of herself and her little daughter, Betty, pending trial of her suit. Clark is the owner of valuable Hollywood real estate.

TEX RICKARD'S INTERNATIONAL RANKING LIST OF BOXERS ANNOUNCED

MITCHELL AND DUNCAN ON TOP

[illegible] Pros Defeat Smith and Espinosa, 6 and 4

[illegible] Brilliant Golf in San Francisco Match

[illegible] Teamwork Features Play of Conquerors

BY HAY CHAPMAN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—[illegible] Duncan and Abe Mitchell, the British professionals, defeated Macdonald Smith and Abe Espinosa, the California golfers, at the [illegible] second hole, 6 and 4, in the exhibition match played over the [illegible] Merced Golf and Country [illegible] course today. It was a perfect demonstration on the part of the Britishers of how a four-ball [illegible] should be played, while the [illegible] men did not team together to the best advantage.

Duncan and Mitchell, individually, played firmer and better golf than either Mac or our local Abe. The California open champion [illegible] was not at his best. His [illegible] were not so steady as usual, [illegible] not covering the pin with [illegible] as is his wont, and he [illegible] confidence in his putting. [illegible] was straining at the [illegible] from the tee and several [illegible] found trouble, and also [illegible] some good chances on the [illegible].

[illegible] Duncan and Mitchell's decisive victory was won more by [illegible] own positive skill than by [illegible] opponent's errors.

QUITE STEADY

[illegible] was as steady as the [illegible] of Gibraltar, or at least was [illegible]; Duncan would come in [illegible] frequent brilliancy. But one [illegible] secrets of their victory was [illegible] perfect understanding between [illegible] the ideal way to play a four-[illegible].

[illegible] putting was as smooth [illegible], keeping a faultless line [illegible] distance. Duncan's putting, like the rest of his game, is [illegible] inspirational.

[illegible] more interest in watching [illegible] stars in trouble than even [illegible] colossal tee shots. The [illegible] ball he drove was 310 [illegible] leaving him only an iron to [illegible]-yard hole, and on the last [illegible] of the match he let fly once [illegible] getting a distance of 320 [illegible] straight down the alley.

[illegible] golfer experienced delight in watching both Duncan [illegible] Mitchell get out of the few [illegible] in which they found themselves. Duncan did not start [illegible] the fairway till the ninth of [illegible] morning round, when he [illegible] his second into a trap on [illegible].

[illegible] not play the normal full [illegible] shot, but with a half [illegible] cut it clean out—distinctly [illegible] shot, and Mitchell played [illegible] much the same shot.

KEEPING AN EYE ON THE BALL AT MIDWICK POLO MATCH

STARS PICKED BY PROMOTER

"First Ten" in Each of Nine Divisions named

Recognized Champions Head Tex's Selections

Sensational Climb of Tiger Flowers Feature

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—For the first time in the history of boxing in this country, an international ranking list of the "first ten" in each of the nine divisions has been compiled. The selections have been made by Tex Rickard, internationally known promoter, in a copyrighted article for the February issue of The Ring, national boxing publication. It is intended to make Rickard's ranking list an annual feature along the lines of all-star selections already made annually in baseball, football, golf and tennis.

Recognized champions head all Rickard's selections, except the light-heavyweight division, in which Mike McTigue, world's title-holder, is rated only fourth. Top position is given to Gene Tunney, American 175-pound king, with Young Stribling, sensational Georgia schoolboy, second, and Kid Norfolk, New York negro, third.

FLOWERS FEATURED

The sensational climb of Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro, who is ranked next to Champion Harry Greb in the middleweight division, is an outstanding feature of the list, while other important developments of 1924 are listed by Rickard as follows:

(1.) The collapse of Firpo through defeats by Wills and Weinert and the rise of Romero and the further development of Gibbons in the heavyweight class.

(2.) The success of Young Stribling, who may have a lot to say in boxing during 1925.

(3.) The rise of Sid Terris as a runner-up in the lightweight class.

(4.) The decline of Johnny Dundee and his resignation of the world's featherweight championship, due to inability to make the weight.

COMPLIMENTARY POSITION

Rickard gives only complimentary positions to Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard, at the top of the heavyweight and lightweight divisions, respectively, because of their inactivity during 1924. Dempsey did not defend his title at all, while Leonard was injured in his only important match, a bout at Cleveland with Pal Moran. Rickard makes it plain his rankings are based on last year's actual performances and, on this basis, puts Harry Wills at the top of the heavyweights and Terris first among the lightweights.

Rickard ranks Tom Gibbons next to Wills among the heavyweights because he feels that Gibbons's money-making powers are in that division rather than the light-heavyweight ranks, where he has done considerable fighting.

Latin-Americans' bid for pugilistic fame is reflected in the assignment of five Central and South Americans to place on the list. Luis Firpo, who was considered Dempsey's closest rival at the end of 1923, drops to seventh place in

Flowers and Delaney Mix Friday Night

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Tiger Flowers, Atlanta (Ga.) negro middleweight, and Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Ct., conqueror of Paul Berlenbach, will meet at Madison Square Garden Friday night in a fifteen-round match. Flowers, who recently beat Johnny Wilson, former middleweight champion, is one of the most promising middleweights in the game and for the past three months his rise has been rapid.

Delaney, polished boxer and a clever and hard puncher, sprang into pugilistic prominence by knocking out Paul Berlenbach when the latter was riding on a wave of success.

Because of his record-breaking exploit of last Sunday, when he established a new track mark for one and one-half miles, Buckhorn II was installed favorite today. Senator Donlan, at 7 to 1, took the second race. The results:

CRESCENT POLOISTS DEFEATED

DuBrock Squad Scores 6-to-1 Victory Over Rivals at Hollywood

Despite the fact that they put up a hard fight to the end, the Crescent Polo Club went down to a 6-to-1 defeat at the hands of the DuBrock four yesterday afternoon on the Crescent field at Hollywood. More than 3000 persons witnessed the fray, and the consensus was that the match was the best that has been put on by the Hollywood club.

Earl Barger starred for the winners by scoring five of the six goals and generally being in the middle of things. His defensive playing was excellent and his hard riding and long drives were the chief cause of the DuBrock victory. W. C. DuBrock, captain and veteran player on the squad, played a brilliant game, too. His play in the backfield saved the score several times.

George Shaeffer, back player for the Crescents, surprised the large audience by his brilliant play. He has hitherto been classed as a rather green player, but yesterday's playing placed him among the stars of his team. He scored the only goal made by his team in the fourth chukker, after dribbling the ball the length of the field and then slashing it through a mass of players and horses.

Warren Jennings, leader of the team, gave the crowds a thrill by trying to stand on his head when his horse stumbled and fell. After passing out of the picture for a few minutes he came back to earth and finished the game, little worse for the spill.

The line-up follows:

Crescents (1)—John Feys, Bert Rogers, Hugh Mann, Warren Jennings, George Shaeffer.

Du Brock (6)—Frank Foster, Earl Barger, Joe Erbs, W. C. Du Brock.

MIDWICK TRIMMED AGAIN

Santa Barbara Poloists Score Fourth Straight Victory Over Locals; Boeseke Star of 16-to-6 Win

BY BRAVEN DYER

Led by the redoubtable Elmer Boeseke the visiting Santa Barbara polo squad made it four straight victories over the Midwick Country Club riders by scoring an easy 16-to-6 win in yesterday's match at the Alhambra field. The Santa Barbarans were out in front at the very start yesterday and stayed there, much to the discomfiture of the locals, who seemed unable to get going at any stage of the battle.

Boeseke, who scored seven goals in Friday's 13-to-11 victory of the visitors, was a riot yesterday. The doughty rider drove the ball through the posts from practically any angle on the field. He hit 'em from the side, from underneath his speedy mounts, from out in front and from behind until the Midwick poloists got dizzy trying to figure out what he was going to do next. Spectators expected to see Elmer come out riding backward on his mount at any time, so skillful was he in swinging a mallet from the saddle. If he had been astride a mule or an ox the rangy rider would probably have scored a few goals even then, so powerful are his drives. As it was, Elmer tallied just exactly half of his team's points, which was an enjoyable afternoon's amusement for him. Hearts of many feminine spectators fluttered considerably whenever the tall horseman rode near the grand stand.

ALWAYS BEHIND

The locals were always behind yesterday. In the opening chukker there was a mix-up in front of the Santa Barbara goal and Carleton Burke's pony, evidently wishing to be generous to the visitors, kicked the ball through for the first score. Later in the game another of Burke's horses added another point via this same route so the Midwicks really had more than four players opposing them. Lack of teamwork was plainly noticeable, yesterday's squad never having played together before. What the Midwick regulars—Burke, Miller, Pedley and Perkins—would have done to the visitors is problematical, but it is safe to say that Boeseke or anyone else would never have shot eight goals.

Edgar Parks was in the game almost every bit as much as Boeseke, tallying four times, several of his shots being of a decidedly sensational variety. Both he and Boeseke repeatedly scored on backhand drives or spectacular shots from the side.

Burke and Teddy Miller rode like wild men in an effort to keep the score down but their defensive rallies were not enough to offset the splendid team play of the victors.

FOLLOWED BALL

RE-ELECT CLUB OFFICIALS

Proving beyond doubt that Hollywood Athletic Club members are satisfied with the way their organization has been handled in the past year, which has been the first in the life of the club, Hollywood members re-elected their entire board of directors to a second term in office. The elections were held Saturday, the present board, and an equal number of others being on the ballot. The present officers were returned victors by an overwhelming majority.

The re-elected men are: Frank Galloway, Fred Smith, George L. Eastman, C. E. Toberman, F. A. Hartwell, J. S. Irsfield, Bob Dexter, G. G. Greenwood, Norman McMillan and Joe McClellan.

Strides made in the athletic field by the club during the past year, have been remarkable, and the officers plan even greater accomplishments during the coming season.

SOCCERITES UNABLE TO BREAK TIE

L.A.A.C. and Hollywood Club Elevens Play 1-to-1 Game at Loyola Gridiron

L.A.A.C. and Hollywood A.C. failed to break their tie for the leadership of the city soccer league in the game at Loyola soccer park yesterday afternoon, the match resulting in a division of the points. Each squad scored one goal. It was without doubt the best played game seen in Los Angeles for a long time, and it drew the largest crowd of the present season.

On the run of the play a split of the points was a fair result. L.A.A.C. held the advantage in the opening period, but relinquished it to their opponents in the second half.

That the score was held to one goal for each team was due to the exceptionally fine defense work of the respective backfields. In the first half, Tunicliffe, Lyons and Milford covered themselves with glory when they succeeded in turning aside dangerous raids by the Hollywood sharpshooters. In this period, Brown and Teed constituted a Rock of Gibraltar against Andy Davidson and Downie, both of whom were testing the Hollywood defenders with hard shots.

First blood went to L.A.A.C. early in the first half, when Robertson beat McKenzie with a long shot which had plenty of steam behind it and sufficient spin on it to render its handling a difficult task. As it was, McKenzie got his hands on the ball, but it skimmed through his hands into the net. It was a tough break for Hollywood, and for a time looked like it might cost the Moviemen the game.

The fast pace which was set at the outset was maintained throughout the entire half, and even in the second forty-five there was little if any

Lane's Purchase of Vernon Club May Be Announced at Coast League Confab Tod

MOGULS MEET AT BILTMORE

Rumor Former Bee Boss Has Purchased Bengals

Quiet Meeting is Predicted by Loop President

Schedule for Coming Season Will be Ratified

BY ROBERT E. RAY

When baseball magnates convene at 10 o'clock this morning at the Biltmore Hotel in the annual spring meeting of the Pacific Coast League, the chief topic of interest will be as to whether or not Bill Lane has purchased the Vernon franchise from Ed R. Maier. Lane, who recently sold his Salt Lake baseball holdings to a group of business men at the Utah city for $100,000, has already bought the Tigers and will announce that he has done so at today's meeting, it is believed by a majority of baseball wiseacres.

CALM AND PEACEFUL

Aside from the settling of the question as to the ownership of the Tiger club, today's meeting should be a fairly tame one. President Harry A. Williams predicts that everything will be calm and peaceful, as everything should be at league meetings. However, Harry may be wrong, but if he is it will be quite a surprise to most everyone.

The initial business that will come up before the magnates will be the ratification of the schedule for the coming season. Herbie McFarlin, secretary of the Oakland club, has drawn up the plan for this year's play and it will take only a moment for the moguls to okay McFarlin's work of figures and art. Making out a twenty-eight-week schedule for a league in which the jumps must be all worked out so as to save as much expense as possible is even harder than making seven cross-word puzzles simultaneously, but McFarlin has handled this work for the league for, lo, these many years, and is one of the best in the country at it.

NEW PLAYER LIMIT

After the schedule is adopted, the magnates will probably decide whether they want to change the league player limit or not. It is planned to limit each club to eighteen veterans and seven rookies, instead of twenty vets and five rookies, as it is now. This player limit, those in favor of it contend, would bring about the development of more youngsters in the league. It is thought that the new measure has a good chance of passing.

While the owners are closeted at the league meeting, the managers of the various clubs will be secretly gathered in corners, nooks and crannies of the Biltmore putting over or trying to put over trades for purchases. Several pilots plan to strengthen their squad by trades and purchases at today's gathering, but whether their plans will materialize or not is something that will not be known until the meeting is over.

REALTORS, 6; KAHN, 5

Southwest Realty Board baseball squad won from Kahn-Beck yesterday at the Salt Lake playgrounds. Home runs by Blume and C. Coleman featured the brawl. Blume and Coleman were the heavy hitter for the winners, while Orter starred at bat for the cracker packers. The score:

LONG BEACH, 7; TIGERS, 2

Long Beach won over Hannah's Tigers in the opening game of a double-header at Washington Park yesterday. Beck starred for the winners at bat and in the field, while Griffin was the star fielder for the losers. Scott's bat work was also commendable.

TIGERS, 3; LONG BEACH, 1

Hannah's Tigers defeated Long Beach in the second game of a twin-bill at Washington Park yesterday. Carroll, Ferguson and Reese were the heavy hitters of the contest. Scott and Beck, besides doing some nifty stick-work gave the fans a treat with their splendid fielding.

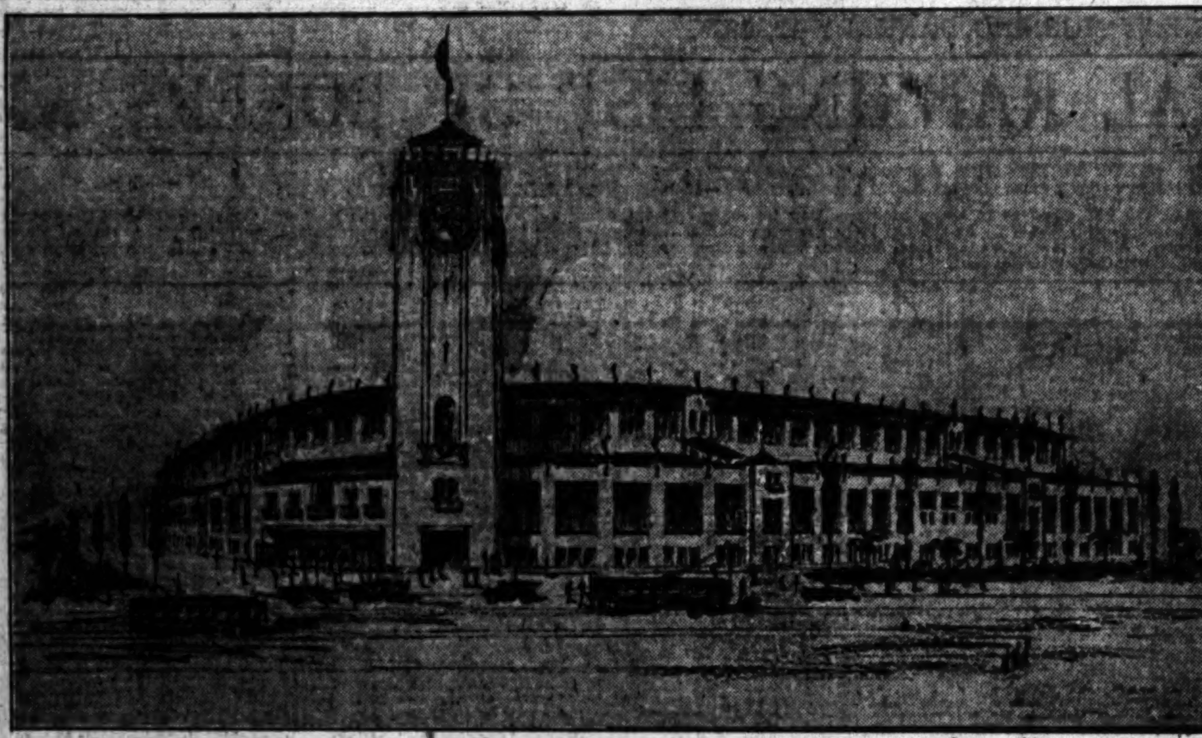
NOT CITY HALL, NEW ANGEL BALL PARK

Here we have the first picture to be printed of the Angel City Baseball Association's new plant which will be built at Thirty-eighth and South Park. Zachary T. Davis, famous Chicago architect, who drew the plans for the model baseball park, arrived in town yesterday for a conference with William Wrigley and Joe Patrick, Seraph bosses. The plant will be the greatest minor league park in the country, seating 30,000 fans. There will be a double-decker stand which will alone cost $500,000. The tower, something new in ball parks, will be dedicated to the soldiers of the World War. There will be 3000 box seats while the stand will have a depth of 120 feet. Another feature will be an electric scoreboard in center field. Work on the plant will start in two weeks and it is planned to have the park finished by May 1st.



ALL-BLACKS IN ANOTHER RUGBY WIN

Great New Zealand Team Trims French by Score of 37 to 8

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Jan. 11.—New Zealand's all-black rugby football team continued its victorious European tour today by beating France, 37 to 8. The Frenchmen were outweighed, outgeneralled and outkicked. Sixty thousand saw the game.

Rene Lassere, the veteran captain of the French rugby team, who has played both against the New Zealanders and the American Olympic teams, when asked his opinion of the relative strength of these two teams, said:

"Man for Man, I think the Americans would hold their own with the New Zealanders, but the combination work of the all-blacks is more nearly perfect and their teamwork is better than that of the Americans. The Americans, however, are superior at kicking. The teams would be well balanced as to weight, and a clash between the forward lines in scrimmage would bring about some terrific battling.

"I surely would like to see Babe Slater of the American team tackling Cyril Brownlie, the big Maori, who scored three touchdowns today."

ECHOS, 11; SNYDER, 1

Echo Park defeated the Ross Snyder on the former's diamond yesterday. Hamley, pitcher on the victorious squad, fanned fifteen out of twenty-one men who faced him. Hamley, Shay and Jones starred with the willow. The score:

NURMI TO GO AFTER RECORDS

Finlander Eager to Better Joie Ray's Time for Three Races in One Evening

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—At the request of Paavo Nurmi, the great Finn runner, who will meet Joie Ray and Willie Ritola in a special match race in the feature of the annual indoor handicap track and field games of the Illinois Athletic Club in the Coliseum on Friday night, the distance of the race will be one and three-quarter miles as previously announced.

The reason for lengthening the distance is Nurmi's desire to break not only the one and one-quarter-mile indoor record, but the ones for one and one-half and one and three-quarter miles as well. The world's indoor record for one and one-quarter miles is 5m. 23 3-5s., and was made by Ray of the I.A.C. in New York City in 1922. Ray also holds the world's indoor one and one-half mile record at 6m. 41 4-5s. This record was established by Ray in New York City in 1923. The I.A.C. flyer also holds the one and three-quarter mile indoor mark at 7m. 59 4-5s., which was made in Brooklyn in 1923. When Charles Dean, chairman of the athletic committee of the I.A.C. saw Nurmi in New York last week the Finlander set the distance at one and one-quarter miles.

In order that there be no mistake about the distance Dean had Nurmi fill the distance on a card. Today Dean received the request from Nurmi for a longer distance and the chairman of the local club's athletic committee readily consented to the longer race.

PALMS, 6; CUBS, 1

Playing their usual fine brand of ball the Palms Merchants administered Cullen Landis's Cubs a decisive defeat in their game at Palms, thus strengthening their claim to first place in their circuit.

M'LARNIN AND LA BARBA READY

Clash Tomorrow Night in Main Event at Vernon

Little Fellows Not Troubled by Making Weight

George Blake Trains Protege on Punching Bag

Making weight for the opening show at the Vernon arena tomorrow night is one thing that isn't bothering Jimmy McLarnin, Irish midget, who meets Fidel La Barba in the first ten-round main event to be staged at Jack Doyle's cradle of boxing. McLarnin, who is booked to scale 118 pounds at 2 o'clock on the day of the fuss, jumped on the platform at the Vernon gymnasium yesterday and tipped the beam at 114½, three and one-half pounds under the required notch.

La Barba, who is training under the careful scrutiny of George Blake, former referee and boxing instructor at the L.A.A.C., has not weighed in public and there are rumors that he will have considerable trouble in making the figure. Report has it that he will be compelled to do considerable drying out before he can make the grade. Of course, all this is denied in toto by Blake and La Barba, both of whom claim the Olympic champ can still make the flyweight limit, if necessary. However, most critics are agreed that in making the flyweight figure, Fidel would show up with a leg or two shy.

TRAINS DIFFERENTLY

La Barba's training for this event has been vastly different from anything that Blake has put the youngster through in the years the L.A.A.C. boxing master has guided him. Until a few weeks ago La Barba had never used a punching bag as a regular part of his training. Now Blake has speeded him up and he claims to have developed a left-hand jab that will surprise the Irishman when they get together in this battle. He has also hit the road regularly and training partners say he is tough as nails.

While interest is high in the ten-round main event, the semi-wind-up of six frames between Johnny Lamar and Julius Jessick is attracting plenty of attention and promises to be far from the worst battle of the night. The Mexican is improving fast and the former L.A.A.C. star wants to make his initial appearance before the biggest club in California as impressive as possible. Their last battle over the four-round route was a wow of a melee and there is no reason to believe that a couple of extra rounds should not bring out a decisive winner.

For the other six-round mill President Jack Doyle has carded Ernie Owens and Young George, both terrific punchers, with Owens a little better boxer. Several years ago Young George packed them in at Vernon and was known as a "knock-'em dead" battler. He has been doing something similar in recent appearances around the State, and the battle has all the earmarks of a real test of both boys.

STARTS OVER

Sailor Ashmore, who was a main-eventer of the four-round game until a few months ago, is starting all over again in the new order of things and is taking on Bobby Bridges in one of the four-round preliminary bouts. Bridges is a long, lanky youth who knows something about the fight game and who has won several starts at Vernon.

SOX, KINGS SPLIT

The Los Angeles White Sox and the White Kings split their double-header at the White Sox Park yesterday, the Soapsters taking the opener, 19 to 5, and dropping the afterpiece, 6 to 2. Arlett got five hits, two of them home runs in the first game, while Carr of the Sox also slammed a couple out of the lot in the twilight tilt. Scores:

OBSERVATIONS
BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

Tomorrow's session of the California Boxing Commission is likely to look like a Fourth of July celebration if everybody who proposes to ask for a license really does so. If Chairman Strelinger sticks to his convictions—and he looks to us like that kind of a guy—those who propose to start fight clubs are going to have to 'show cause' as our barrister friends have it. Sterlinger isn't in favor of a boxing trust by any means but neither is he in favor of indiscriminately giving everybody a chance to promote who feels like promoting.

Mr. Strelinger is right when he says that the newcomers should be carefully looked over before they are licensed to stage boxing. He is protecting the public from stock-selling propositions which may or may not be good and he is also preventing unscrupulous promoters from advertising attractions which they cannot get. It is our personal opinion that there are several persons proposing to open new clubs who would be an asset to the boxing business but the average will be about one out of every ten who applies.

Strelinger proposes to see to it that boxers are properly matched as to weight, experience and skill. He proposes to see to it that they are in shape for their fights so that there will be small possibility of forfeitures, substitutions and other obnoxious features of the fight game as it is sometimes conducted. He seems to be in favor of good fights and plenty of 'em and if he makes mistakes—as we all do — it's a ten-to-nothing shot that it will do more good than harm anyway.

The impression is being given out now that "Big" Munn's victory over Strangler Lewis was absolutely on the level and was a genuine surprise package for all concerned. If such is the case it is a good thing for wrestling because it has been so long since there was a real surprise in the wrestling business that even Ed O'Malley can't remember it and Ed distinctly remembers rowing the stroke oar for Noah when the Ark was heading for Mt. Ararat.

If Munn did beat Lewis on the level it probably means that the "trusts" got quite a wallop in the eye but on the other hand, if he did the chances are that half a dozen other members of the trust can beat him and get the title back in among the "boys." Apparently the only asset Mr. Munn has is a lot of muscle and a mean disposition. If that's his limit Joe Stecher or Stanislaus Zbyszko can beat him. If the bout was on the level those not in the trust ought to let Marin Plestina take the title from Munn and then the other boys would have an awful time getting it back.

There is more genuine excitement stirred up in this village over tomorrow night's combat at Jack Doyle's arena than has prevailed over any battle since professional boxing took the count ten years ago. Fidel La Barba and Jimmy McLarnin are two of the classiest little scrappers that ever tossed a mitt in Southern California and in addition to the interest in the battle itself it is a cinch that a lot of people are going to be anxious to see what Jack has done to his pavilion in the meanwhile.

Unless our recollection is all wrong tomorrow's battle will be witnessed by the biggest crowd that has seen a fight in the West in over ten years. The new arena will actually seat about 10,000 people and there will probably be more than that present to see these two classy little boxers swap swats.

BUCKY HARRIS DISCUSSES BASEBALL IN HARD SCHOOL

[Copyright, 1925, in United States and Canada by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved]

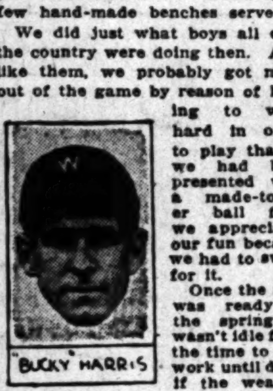
This is the eighth installment of the autobiography of Stanley Harris, youngest major league baseball manager in the history of the game, the victorious strategist and one of the outstanding players in the 1924 World Series, in which his Washington club won the pennant for the first time. The rise of Harris from colliery boy to big league manager in eight years is one of the most remarkable life stories America has ever produced.

CHAPTER VIII.

BY STANLEY (BUCKY) HARRIS

After the trips to Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, our Suburban League ball fields appeared cheap and small. They were the product of the labor of our hands. Each year we would slave in the spring to put the diamonds in shape. A slab of stone or a rock would serve as home plate. The bases were made by filling burlap feed bags with sand. A few hand-made benches served as a grand stand.

We did just what boys all over the country were doing then. And, like them, we probably got more out of the game by reason of having to work hard in order to play than if we had been presented with a made-to-order ball field. we appreciated our fun because we had to sweat for it.



BUCKY HARRIS

Once the field was ready in the spring, it wasn't idle from the time to quit work until dark, if the weather was good. We played until it was almost impossible to see a batted or thrown ball. I marvel now that some of us were not seriously hurt by being hit. I can't recall of one of us ever being knocked out.

The Sunday games were red-letter events in the mine district. They served the useful purpose of giving men who worked hard all week a bit of recreation in the sunshine. Miners don't get much of it. After a week in the bowels of the earth they enjoyed a chance to watch a ball game. It was almost their only chance for outdoor entertainment.

Consequently the weather reports were closely studied every Saturday night. The chief topic of conversation, wherever the men gathered the day before a game, dealt with the prospects for sunshine or rain on the morrow. The sky would be scanned many times, the direction of the wind noted and the old-timers questioned on the probabilities of baseball weather. It was counted a disaster when the games had to be called off.

They were bitterly fought contests, all of them. Partisan spirit ran high. There was intense rivalry among Hamtown, Browntown, Sebastapool, Avoca, Duryea and Exeter, the towns in the league. What the teams lacked in skill they made up for in spirit. This was a hard baseball school. Thanks to Tony Walsh's advice, I learned you couldn't say quit and get anywhere.

APPLAUSE WITH BANANA

An incident in Browntown on a Labor Day will illustrate how intense was the feeling among players and spectators. We had the home club a run down when they staged a batting rally. I accepted an easy chance and started a double play that retired the side without a score. Someone in the crowd hit me with a banana. It struck me on the ear and made me fighting mad. I wanted to pitch into the whole bunch. Luckily for me, the Hamtown players grabbed me. Otherwise, I'd probably have been a hospital case.

Browntown tied the score later. We went into the ninth inning with the game deadlocked. I led off with a walk, was sacrificed to second, and took third on an infield out. We had a weak hitter up. The Browntown pitcher had him in a hole. I had read of Ty Cobb pulling the unexpected and decided to try some inside stuff myself, disregarding the rules.

I picked up the feed bag which served as third base and tore for home while the pitcher was winding up. He hurried his throw to the catcher. I figured the ball would beat me to the plate. I was prepared for such an emergency. As Natsie Loftus, the catcher, made ready to tag me, I struck him in the face with the home-made third base.

He dropped the ball and I was safe. Then the riot started. Natsie got to his feet, spitting sand and shaking it out of his hair, eyes and ears. All this didn't prevent him diving for me. We rolled over and over on the ground. The other players and some of the spectators were mixing it up, too. Cooler heads in the crowd finally separated the belligerents. I came out of the affray with a cut lip, a bleeding nose and a black eye.

A few weeks later I received my first serious injury in baseball. We couldn't afford sliding pads in the mine district. Because of this my baseball career was nearly ended before it really began. I scraped a big piece of skin off my hip in sliding over a rough stone home plate and used the accepted treatment of our locality. This consisted of covering the wound with tissue paper so as to help form a scab.

HOW TO CONQUER FEAR

The injury festered badly. Mother called a doctor. He ordered me to bed immediately. I stayed there three weeks. Blood poisoning threatened and I just escaped a case of lockjaw. Before playing again I made myself sliding pads, using a couple of bath towels and string. They were crude but effective.

When my hip was fully healed and I got back in the game, I was a bit timid in sliding. After I had been thrown out several times because of this, Tony Walsh took me in hand.

"Stanley, forget that hip," he ordered. "If you lose your nerve because of that injury, kiss yourself good-by as a ball player. You'll get worse knocks if you ever make the big time."

He stood over me and made me slide repeatedly. The first few times I had to call on all my will power to throw myself at a bag without hesitancy. After that it was easy. I learned then that self-fear is one of the hardest enemies a man has to conquer, but that, like most other troubles, it is largely imaginary. Firmly met, it soon vanishes.

Tomorrow: Learning Good Lessons.

SOCCER TEAMS BATTLE TIE

perceptible let up, a tribute to the stamina of the two elevens. Despite this fact there was no further scoring in the first period, both sides finding all their efforts being turned to naught by sterling defense play.

With the changeover, however, Hollywood began to seek more of the picture. Their attacks were better executed and required more skill in clearing. Time and again they were turned aside only at the expense of corners. In taking these Lakey was dropping the ball right in goal mouth but Hollywood simply could not score. The fighting spirit which has carried the moviemen to their present position was always in evidence, however, and they simply would not be denied. They returned to the attack with renewed vigor, and gave the club defenders many anxious moments. Milford was peppered with shots of varying degree, and he pulled off many remarkable saves.

Just when the Mercurians seemed to have the game safely tucked away, Hollywood executed a brilliant rally, and forced the club to concede a corner. Again Lakey took the kick, and again he sent the ball into the goal mouth. This time, however, better luck attended the moviemen. Jimmie Teed, who was playing left back, had gone up for the play, and a second after he got his toe to the ball, the sphere was resting in the net. Hollywood had earned a well-deserved partial victory.

Vikes defeated the Sons of St. George, 2 to 0, in a keenly contested game, that for action crowded the feature closely for honors. The winners were at all times masters of the situation and were well worthy of the game. Scorers were Cleve and Brix. One goal was scored in each half.

KAHN BECK, 1; ZELZAH, 0

Kahn-Beck managed to beat out Zelzah in a game that was a pitchers' battle between Johnson and Parker. Clever fielding on the part of both teams featured the contest. The game was played at Zelzah.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Kahn-Beck	1	3	1
Zelzah	0	3	1

Batteries: Johnson and Kelps, Parker and Whaling.

GLENDALE SEEKS TITLE

Hopes to Annex Basketball Championship; Pierce Builds Team Around Three Veterans

With Glendale's brilliant football season a thing of the past the coaching staff is striving to round the Dynamiters into shape so that Glendale's basketball season will be another banner winner.

Coach "Jumbo" Pierce, who has been given the reins over the heavyweight casaba tossers, is working hard building up the team around three lettermen. Those back from last year are Louis Dotson, forward; Francis Hardey, star forward and captain, and Cecil Zaun, guard and next year's gridiron captain.

Francis Hardey is working as hard as ever and has his forward position practically cinched. Bill (Fuzz) Bradbury, who did some nice line playing and punting for Glendale's football team, and Louis Dotson are fighting it out for the other forward berth. Both men have the weight and speed and should fit into a flashy forward trio. Ervin Jensen, Harold Falter, Marion Morrison and Raber Beaman are those out for center. None have had much previous basketball experience. Cecil Zaun is fairly sure of one guard position, while Carl Denney and Johnny Hiedman are foremost among those out for the other guard.

Others on the basketball squad are: Droopy Phillips, football all-'round man, Paul Argobast, substitute backfield man, Bud Elliott, star quarterback, Dick Ryan, stellar half, Porter Thompson, flashy lightweight and substitute heavyweight back, Ellsworth de Parcy, end, Dixon Fannon, guard; Read Stearman, letterman on last year's lightweight basketball team, Roland Hodder, Jack Booker, substitute heavyweight back, Harry Fish and John Moulder.

Coach Howard L. Butterfield who is coaching the 130-pounders reports that he anticipates an excellent season for his proteges. Archie Neel, Elmer Muff, Johnny Lovell Jack Alvord, and Wilbur Harrison are on Butterfield's first quintet and are showing up in fine form.

Coach Harry Hicks is drilling the class C bunch and already thirty-five have turned out for practice. Jerry Osler and Monte Killinger are showing up well and will probably be listed in the first squad before long.

MRS. HURT RESTING IN SOUTHLAND

Vice-Chairman Republican National Committee Spurns Offer to Make Statement

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Alvin T. Hurt, vice-chairman of the National Republican Committee and who has charge of the women's work in this relation, is now a Southern California visitor spending a short vacation at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. S. Bogy, 1810 North Fair Oaks avenue, this city.

Mrs. Hurt arrived here early in the week and expects to remain in Pasadena for a two weeks' rest. During the recent Presidential campaign she was a leading figure in women's politics. She is, and has been, doing the work of the chairman of the women's work committee, although she holds the title of vice-chairman.

"We have just completed a very harmonious campaign," said Mrs. Hurt today, "and everyone is forgetting politics and we who have been the most active participants in it are resting up. I am here on a very unofficial visit, just to see my mother and sister."

During her stay in Southern California, Mrs. Hurt will take a number of motor trips about the Southland and visit some of her numerous California friends. She will then return to Kentucky.

Huntington Park to Cast Vote on Charter Today

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 11. After a strenuous campaign for the past several weeks the voters of the city will cast their ballots tomorrow to decide whether this city shall continue to operate under its present form of city government, that of a city of the sixth class, or whether it will operate under the proposed charter form of government which is being submitted to the voters.

The proposed charter was presented to the City Trustees several weeks ago and the date, January 12, was set for the election. During the past two weeks a great amount of literature has been distributed among the voters by the two organizations, one for and the other against the proposed charter.

While this will be the first special election here during the present year, another is scheduled for the following day, Tuesday, when the voters of Tract 2599 will cast their ballots to decide whether they wish a bond issue for their section in the sum of $55,000. If carried, this issue will be used for the purchasing of the water plant in that section and for improvements to be made to the plant. This section was recently annexed by vote to this city.

GIRL STUDENTS WATCH BUTCHER CUT UP BEEF

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Jan. 11.—Seventeen girls in the home economics class of the Van Nuys High School yesterday visited the Market of Johnson Bros. & Craddock and saw Fred Johnson of the firm cut up the side of a beef as a demonstration to aid them in their studies.

While the beef was cut into various parts, Mrs. H. C. Ralston, the class instructor, stood at Johnson's elbow and explained the edible qualities of each cut. After the side of beef had been dismembered into probably two-score of pieces, from soup bones to a loin roast, Mrs. Ralston went in review over the demonstration, quizzing the girls on their observations.

The seventeen girls in the class were Misses Anna Waddell, Maxine Stevens, Zelma Hanson, Fannie Goodstein, Betty Farquharson, Virginia Stewart, Alice Lorenz, Ina May Durr, Julia McCracken, Geraldine Chamberlain, Olive Witmer, Florence Merryman, Roberta Murrell, Zelma Roberts, Mary Dick, Virginia Keller and Lillie Withers.

VAN NUYS TO GET NEW SCHOOL UNIT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Jan. 11.—The continued growth of the Van Nuys elementary school, despite the fact that buildings have been erected and schools opened in other parts of the community, is taxing the capacity of the present structure. As a means to remedy this condition, the Board of Education is proposing to erect another unit on the school grounds, for which bids will be opened on the 16th inst. The general school housing problem in the Van Nuys community is now having the attention of the Board of Education and civic organizations here. Today a conference was held by the Chamber of Commerce school committee with J. B. Monlux of the Board of Education, the purpose of which was to outline a definite working program for future housing requirements.

LANDMARK CLUB TO MEET

Seventy-eighth Anniversary of Cahuenga Treaty to be Celebrated at Lankershim on Tuesday

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Jan. 11.—The California History and Landmark Club will hold its regular January meeting at the Fremont-Pico Memorial and Museum on Lankershim Boulevard, opposite the Universal studios, on Tuesday, beginning at 2 p.m.

As this is the seventy-eighth anniversary of the signing of the Treaty of Cahuenga by Lieut.-Col. John C. Fremont and Gen. Andreas Pico, wherein California became a United States province, the club has arranged an appropriate program.

Biographical sketches of American members of the treaty will be given by members of the club. Mrs. W. W. Fouke will give data on Maj. Pierson B. Reading. Mrs. Ellen R. Strickland of Los Angeles, Mrs. Kingsley Pease of Universal City and Mrs. A. S. Forbes will read sketches on Col. William H. Russell, Maj. Louis McLane, Jr., and Col. Fremont.

The occasion will commemorate the most important event in the history of the State, and leading citizens of the Southland have been invited.

The property on Lankershim Boulevard, now known as the Fremont-Pico Memorial and Museum, was purchased about a year ago as a memorial to the signers of the treaty. It was on this ground that the famous document was written and signed. It was written by Jose Antonio Carillo and after being signed on the porch of the house then on the property the document was given to Fremont and Col. Russell with instructions to deliver it to either Gen. Kearney or Commodore Stockton, both of whom were in Los Angeles at the time.

Both claimed to be in command of affairs at the pueblo. To Col. Russell was intrusted the duty of watching the warring situations in the valley and then report to Fremont, who with his army, was camped north of Los Angeles River near the boulevard bridge in the Lankershim district.

Arcadians in Fight for Own High School

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ARCADIA, Jan. 11.—Arcadia is preparing to take legal steps toward accomplishing withdrawal from the Monrovia high school district and to secure a high school district of its own.

Such action is necessary to secure a separate school district following the refusal of Mark Keppel, County Superintendent of schools, to indorse the petition of Arcadia people to call an election to establish a city high school district in Arcadia.

The Arcadians now will ask for the necessary writ of mandamus for the Court of Appeals. A. N. Multer, City Councilman and member of the Citizens' Committee, of Thirty-five appointed to act in the school matter, states that the legal steps will be taken as soon as the necessary money for the court proceedings is raised by popular subscription. The sum of $350 is being solicited for this purpose.

The Citizens' Committee of Thirty-five will meet Tuesday night at the City Hall to take definite action in the matter. George W. Ackermann is chairman of the committee and has asked every member of the committee to be present or to send a capable proxy.

Due to doubling the assessed valuation of property in Arcadia, the city is now paying more than Monrovia and Duarte combined for the maintenance of the high school, which is located in Monrovia, according to the members of the citizens' committee. According to the tax figures of 1924-25, it is pointed out that the city could maintain its own high school for less money than it now pays toward the support of Monrovia High School.

TWO SENTENCED ON PAY CHECK CHARGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, Jan. 11.—L. F. Lewis and Jose Uriate, farming partners, each received a suspended sentence of thirty days in jail from Justice of the Peace Market as a result of the first prosecution recorded in this county of the State pay-check law. Complaint was made against the men by Stanley M. Gue, State labor officer of this district, following the filing of a claim by Ygnacio Huerta, a farm laborer. It was shown that Lewis and Uriate gave Huerta their note for $264 in payment of wages and when the note became due failed to pay it. The State law forbids giving notes or checks to laborers unless the paper is negotiable and payable on demand. The employers in this case came in to the State labor officer and paid the amount of the note and then pleaded guilty to violating the pay-check law. Trial of five complaints against Barry Lyon of Seeley for refusal to pay wages, has been continued to February 10. The case is prosecuted by the labor officer and a jury trial has been demanded. The complainants are Mexican laborers.

HANFORD INSURANCE CASE COMPROMISED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Jan. 11.—The claim of Mrs. Sadie Hawks of Hanford for $10,000 against the Travelers' Insurance Company has been compromised. The husband of Mrs. Hawks was killed, while riding on the State highway near Tulare, delivering telegraph messages, through the negligence, it was alleged, of Daniel E. Collins of San Francisco, on driving his auto into Hawks's motorcycle. Hawks was insured in the Travelers' Insurance Company. Suit was instituted for $10,000 damages. Mrs. Hawks has collected $5000 of California State accident insurance and her application to reduce the sum sued for from the insurance company to $3750, was approved by the Superior Court here.

Another Dam in Liquor Flow Across Border

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CALEXICO, Jan. 11.—United States customs officers have determined to break up a practice of residents of Imperial county obtaining liquor by purchasing it in Mexicali and having it delivered by smugglers. A complaint has been filed against T. Ryan and W. T. Thomas, charging them with smuggling. Both have been held by United States Commissioner D. L. Ault to appear before the Federal District Court in San Diego.

In the complaint Thomas is asserted to have made a purchase of liquor at a Mexicali bar, paying the usual price, plus a fee for delivery. Ryan is charged with bringing the bottles across the border for delivery to Thomas. The complaint also names the proprietor of the barroom where the whisky was sold, but he has not been apprehended.

PUPILS AT OXNARD ARE VACCINATED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OXNARD, Jan. 11.—Following the advice of local physicians and Health Officer Gavin J. Telfer that they be vaccinated, scores of Oxnard school children have taken this precaution against smallpox, which is prevalent in this city. Although the situation is rapidly improving, last reports stated that there were twenty homes quarantined for smallpox. It is said there are other cases which the authorities do not know of.

Principal R. B. Haydock of the Haydock Grammar School, who is overseer for the grammar schools of the city, said that last week between 90 and 100 children were absent from their classes. They were either ill with the disease or were kept home because some member of the family was sick.

A new advisory committee for the library has been named, consisting of Mrs. Howard S. Trotter, chairman; Charles A. Bevis, secretary, and Carter R. Bishop.

Mr. Troth died Friday of heart disease. He came to Los Angeles a month ago from Denver, where he had lived twenty-five years; he was a native of Philadelphia. He leaves his widow, three sons, Walter Troth of Long Beach, Henry Troth and William Troth of Los Angeles, and two daughters, Mrs. Ariel Newhart of Los Angeles and Mrs. Wharton Baker of Merchantville, N. J.

NEW TROJAN CAPTAIN IS OWENSMOUTH BOY

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

OWENSMOUTH, Jan. 11.—Fay Thomas, one of the outstanding stars on the strong U.S.C. football team, who recently was elected to the captaincy of the 1925 squad, is an Owensmouth boy, who started his athletic career with the Owensmouth High School. Young Thomas was a member of the football team which won the San Fernando Valley championship two or three years ago. Thomas is also one of the leading baseball pitchers on the college team.

Average time of crossing the Atlantic by airplane will be two days, says a Zeppelin builder.

FAVOR GAS TAX BOOST IF DIVIDED

Riverside Supervisors Ask Share of Levy for South End of State

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 11.—Supervisors C. P. Hancock, Jack McGregor, T. C. Jameson and probably Chairman C. D. Hamilton, will leave Tuesday evening for Sacramento, where they will attend the annual convention of county supervisors of the State, which meets Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Several proposed legislative matters are to come up for discussion during the session, among them the proposed increase in the gasoline tax, and the proposed automobile license increase.

The Riverside Supervisors will favor an increase of 1 cent a gallon in the gasoline tax, providing some guarantee of an equitable division of the funds is made for Southern California. Otherwise, they will oppose it, as the Supervisors feel that during the last year Northern California has been getting the lion's share of the proceeds for road-building purposes. They are prepared to oppose an increase in the license fee in any event.

Other legislation, the nature of which has not been stated, will also be brought up for consideration, and while in Sacramento the Supervisors will watch the proceedings of the State Legislature, now in session.

ONE HURT, ANOTHER JARRED IN TRAFFIC

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ONTARIO, Jan. 11.—Mrs. O. W. Wedgewood was confined to her bed this evening at her ranch home in West Fourth street suffering from severe cuts about the face and ears, a badly bruised right side and possible internal injuries as the result of an accident this morning in which a motor car, driven by her husband, was struck broadside at Vine avenue and G street by a machine driven by C. D. Albright of 2222 South Euclid avenue. Mrs. Wedgewood was taken to her home following the crash and Dr. F. F. Abbott called to attend her. Miss Bessie Strange, who occupied the rear seat of the Wedgewood car, sustained a blackened right eye. Mr. Wedgewood and occupants of the Albright car escaped injury.

Edgar L. (Bud) Thomason of 325 West Grove street, sustained deep cuts over the eyes and his motor car was badly wrecked when it turned turtle after throwing a front tire early today at Bon View avenue and A street.

BANQUET PLANNED AT HUNDRED DOLLARS PER

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Jan. 11.—A banquet that will cost the diners $100 per plate is being planned here by the Federated Brotherhood of Long Beach, it was announced today. The affair is being planned by the organization to raise funds for the erection of two homes, one for "problem" boys, and the second for "problem" girls. A building committee, headed by Dr. A. F. Hamman, has completed arrangements with the city for leases on municipal property north of Signal Hill which have been tentatively chosen as sites for the new homes. Articles of incorporation for a holding company to back the brotherhood's enterprise and finance the homes where authorized to be drawn up and Attorney E. C. Denio was assigned the task. The two homes, it is said, will fill a long-standing need in Long Beach for places to commit boys and girls who are delinquent or who become first offenders against the law.

ASSERTED BOOTLEG BARON IS ARRESTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 11.—Harry Watts, who is known by several aliases, and is said by the authorities to be the bootleg baron sought in the city and county, has been arrested by Charles L. Cass, Federal prohibition agent, and is held under $5000 bail. The arrest of Watts, it is declared, will be a serious blow to an asserted liquor ring which is credited with having kept the local market supplied with moonshine whisky for many months. Leaders of the ring, according to Cass, hired men in different parts of the county to conduct illicit distilling and bootleg operations, supplying them with the ingredients, and paying them "$10 a day." Several of these accused accomplices have fallen into Cass's hands, but until the arrest of Watts the prohibition enforcement officers said they had not been able to take any of the supposed leaders.

WISH PUTS PARTNER IN COUNTY JAIL CELL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 11.—The wish of W. M. Chrislow, expressed in Justice Hibbard's court Saturday, that his partner in alleged moonshining operations in the Santa Rosa Mountains, might also grace a cell in the County Jail, was fulfilled today when Undersheriff Carl Rayburn brought in A. V. Wilson.

Wilson, who is past 60 years of age, had little to say when he arrived at the County Jail, where it is expected he will remain pending trial on a charge of manufacturing liquor. Additional evidence was found by Undersheriff Rayburn when he visited Wilson's ranch about fifty feet this side of the San Diego county line, in the Santa Rosas.

According to Chrislow's statement, the two were in partnership in moonshining operations, in an effort, according to Chrislow, to get money to "pay off the mortgage." Chrislow was arrested by Sheriff Clem Sweeters last Monday after he had received a tip through a letter that Chrislow was making "poison liquor."

GROWERS OF BABY LIMAS TO GET CENT

Valley Bean Men Likely to Obtain $10.75 a Hundred for Their 1924 Crop

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Jan. 11.—Another payment of 1 cent a pound will be made next week by the California Lima Bean Growers' Association to the growers of baby lima beans in the Van Nuys and Owensmouth Association. This will bring the total paid to the valley growers this season to 9 cents a pound.

President W. J. Petit of the Van Nuys Association, who has just returned from the meeting of the parent association at Oxnard, states that another payment of a cent will be made before the second installment of taxes is due in April.

J. H. Walters, Reseda, secretary-manager of the Van Nuys and Owensmouth growers associations, was in Van Nuys today, and stated the payment would be made next Friday. He said that when all payments have been made, the growers will have received approximately $10.75 per hundred for their crops. This will be net, after all expenses for operation have been deducted.

In the season just closed 80 per cent of the growers were affiliated with the association. Mr. Walters pointed out results had been so successful, that in the coming season it was not expected that any of the members would drop from the association, and that new grower members will be obtained easily to increase the percentage in the valley.

San Diego Plans Annexation of Adjacent Cities

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 11.—A movement inaugurated last year to bring into the city of San Diego all of the adjacent communities which are now separated only by boundary lines, has gained impetus by the filing of petitions with the City Council, asking for an election to be held in Normal Heights and Teralta to vote on the question of annexation.

Normal Heights voted on the matter several months ago, but as the proposition did not contain a provision for that district to assume a share of San Diego's bonded indebtedness, it was defeated. The new petitions provide that Normal Heights and Teralta shall be taxed for an equitable share of the city's outstanding indebtedness, and it is declared by sponsors of the annexation movement that this clause will insure the success of the proposed election. The City Council probably will act on the petitions Monday.

The two districts have a combined population of about 6000.

MAKES THIRTY-NINTH MT. WILSON TRIP

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Jan. 11.—F. C. Bradley, 76 years of age, has just completed his thirty-ninth trip to the summit of Mt. Wilson. He makes the trip every year and intends to do so until he dies. In spite of his age he made the last trip up the eight-mile incline in three hours and four minutes.

NEW BUILDINGS AT LONG BEACH

Two Proposed Structures to Cost $2,000,000

One Covers Plans of Marine Bank Corporation

Means New Height-Limit Office Edifice

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Jan. 11.—Announcement was made here today of two building projects for Long Beach that will involve the expenditure of more than $2,000,000. One covers the plans of the Marine Trust and Savings Bank for the construction of a height-limit bank and office building at the site of the present Marine Bank Building at the northwest corner of Broadway and Pine avenue. The property has a frontage on Pine avenue of 150 feet and a frontage of fifty feet on Broadway. The Marine Holding Corporation, an organization affiliated with the bank, has secured a ninety-nine-year lease on adjoining property on Broadway just west of the bank proper, with a frontage of fifty feet and a depth of 150 feet. This property combined with the existing bank site will give the new bank building a frontage on the Broadway side of 100 feet.

Lease of the fifty feet on Broadway was secured from the Cash Store Company, Incorporated, a large dry goods concern, which plans to erect a new Class A store building on Broadway just east of Pine avenue on the site formerly occupied by the Long Beach Press. This property has a Broadway frontage of seventy-five feet and extends 150 feet north.

A total consideration of $2,616,000 is involved in the leases, it was announced. W. H. Wise, manager of the Cash Store, announced today that the company intends to confer with local architects at once on plans for the proposed new store structure, and that the project will be rushed to early completion.

Whether or not the present Marine Bank Building will be wrecked at once to make way for the proposed new banking structure has not been determined, according to E. J. Wightman, president of the financial institution. It is possible that the present building will be permitted to stand while contractors begin the work on the unit to be erected on the site now occupied by the Cash Store.

NEW LONG BEACH SCIENTIST CHURCH

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Jan. 11.—The Second Church of Christ, Scientist, this city's newest religious edifice, opened its doors to its congregation today for the first time. The public was invited to attend three services, one at 11 a.m., one at 3 p.m., and the third at 8 o'clock this evening with First Reader John M. Orchard, in charge.

The structure, located at the southwest corner of Seventh street and Cedar avenue, is one of the most imposing and beautiful churches in Long Beach and has just been completed at a cost of nearly $500,000. Fisher & Lake, Los Angeles architects, designed the building.

OIL PRODUCTION IN MEXICO GAINS

Total Output Second Only to That of United States

Nineteen Wells Completed in November Alone

First Eleven Months of 1924 Added 268 in All

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY (Mex.) Jan. 11.—During November nineteen oil wells were completed in Mexico with a combined initial production of 91,856 barrels per day. This will result in a heavy additional production for the present year. It also demonstrates the fact that Mexico's oil production is on the increase.

During 1923 238 producing wells were drilled which yielded an average of 327,009 barrels per day. The first eleven months of 1924 there were 268 producing wells brought in with a total daily production of 903,175 barrels.

FIELD FIGURES

By districts or oil fields the list of new wells for the first eleven months of 1924 is as follows: Ebano, thirteen wells; El Limon, two; Panuco, 205; Topila, 6; San Jeronimo, 1; San Miguel, 2; Zacamixtle, 12; Toteco or Cerro Azul, 13; Tierra Blanca, 13; Cerro Viejo, 1; Filisola, 1, making 268. These added to the former number of wells gave a total of 1037 producing oil wells in Mexico, November 30, 1924.

With the exception of the United States, Mexico leads the world in oil output and her production is rapidly increasing. New fields are being opened up in various parts of the republic and oil deposits developed.

PERMITS ISSUED

Drilling permits issued by the Secretary of Industry and Commerce in 1923, numbered 855, and 1245 permits were issued to various individuals and syndicates in 1924. This shows 390 more permits issued in 1924 than during the previous year.

Since 1901 Mexico has been prominent in the production of oil, the banner year being 1921 when the yield amounted to 189,000,000 barrels. There was a slight decrease in 1922 and 1923 due to excessive production in the United States and other oil-producing countries.

From the investment of 700,000,000 pesos in the Mexican oil industry 1,200,000,000 barrels of oil has been produced. During the World War much of this oil sold for as high as $3 per barrel.

Oil Showings Found in Test Hole in Nevada

Reports received from Illipah, Nev., say that casing is being lowered to the 1572-foot depth of the oil prospect well being drilled in that field by the Illipah Petroleum Syndicate. According to J. E. Amenda, president of the company, the limestone capping was encountered at 1151 feet, and in this structure the drill continued until it was stopped to lower the casing. Three streaks of decomposed limestone carried good showings of a yellow petroleum-base oil. Drilling will be continued after the casing has been strung. The first well drilled by this company was lost in 1922 at 929 feet when an attempt to case the well and cement off the water met with failure. Good showings were said to have been encountered in this hole, which is 400 feet distant from the present one.

An associated concern, the White Pine Oil and Gas Company, which, with the Illipah syndicate, controls more than 5000 acres covering the basin, is drilling a sixteen-inch well now down 104 feet.

Armstrongs to Dredge Famous Placer Diggings

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WICKENBURG (Ariz.) Jan. 11.—The Armstrong syndicate of Los Angeles is installing dredging equipment at the famous Weaver placer diggings, north of here, and eleven miles east of Congress Junction. Water is to be brought from a point near Antelope in a four-inch pipe line.

In the vicinity are several thousand acres of gravel and sand washed down from the slopes of the southern Bradshaw Mountains, from one of the richest gold fields of the Southwest, and near-by is the hill where Pauline Weaver's party in 1863-64 took nuggets valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The Walnut Grove dam was built especially for provision of water through which this gravel could be worked by hydraulic giants. For forty years the district has been washed by Mexican placeros.

Company Starts Redrilling and Deepening Wells

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Jan. 11.—The Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company has started its long-expected program of deepening and redrilling which was postponed until after the holidays.

The Midway field is the scene for the campaign and dozens of wells will be put down to a deeper sand with the idea of increasing the production of holes which have been declining at their present depth.

There are a number of other companies following the lead of the Standard Oil Company, which some time ago started a thorough test of the deeper sands in the Midway field where the production is larger and the oil of a lighter gravity than is found at the shallower depths.

RARE MINERALS. METALLURGY. CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analyses will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Rare Minerals

HILLSIDE (Ariz.) Dec. 21.—Question: In the package accompanying this letter find two samples of rock. No. 1 the three blackish and yellowish pieces, at the bottom of the box are Triphylite and Lithiophyllite that you requested me to send you at the time you classified these rare minerals and published results in The Times. No. 2 the light colored rocks, are from a Pegmatyte dyke in the same locality; they occur always coated with that kind of chloride, either pink, greenish, and pearly. I first thought it was only feldspar, but I happened to put a piece in the furnace and the way it did decrepitate proved to me that it was not feldspar alone; beside it is rather heavy, and I barely can scratch it with a knife, may it not be of lithium in process of alteration? lithium minerals being very common in all pegmatytes in this vicinity. I tried to get some crystallized specimens, and failed. Always the soft grayish matter appears as coating. I call it chloride, not knowing what it really is.

SUBSCRIBER.

Answer: Please accept the thanks of the writer for the samples. They are worthy of space in any collection.

This department of The Times has identified quite a number of rare minerals occurring in your locality, including handsome tabular Ilmenite crystals submitted by you with many other minerals, in years gone by. All of commercial value. Recently very handsome, crystallized Voltaite has been identified from near Congress, Ariz.

Your samples show as follows: The base of them all is feldspathic rock; lithia in low percentage, with Fluorite, and Amethyst coating on one sample. The feldspar present is probably oligoclase. The coating referred to by you reacts for soda, sericite, and altered fluorite mixture.

Mixed Minerals

BISHOP, Dec. 22.—Q.: Being a very constant reader of The Times I am sending you a sample of mineral that has stumped us all around these parts. It occurs in the Andalusite of the White Mountains near Spark Plug mine. The mineral I refer to is the dark slate colored crystal flat and shiny which shows in the small sample inclosed.

SUBSCRIBER.

A.: The sample is a mixture of Corundum, emery, quartz, traces of pyrite, and trace of bluish silicified Phlogopite. Iron oxides present.

Silicate and Carbonate

ARDEN (Nev.) Dec. 23.—Q.: I am sending you under separate cover two samples. What are they? Do they indicate ore?

D.

A.: The smooth, glassy-lustered and yellowish-brown crystal is calcite (lime carbonate, impure.) Zinc traces. The greenish-yellow specimen is actinolite, acicular, radiated, and mixed with calcite. Silver ores are often found near, and present in calcite.

Chiefly Lime Carbonate

BLYTHE, Dec. 23.—Q.: Inclosed, in separate package, you will find a rock which I would like to have tested for potash. I think it contains a large per cent of potash.

O.

A.: The sample contains no available (water soluble) potash. A slight reaction for soda was noticed in analysis.

A Mixture

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Dec. 24.—Q.: Under separate cover I am sending you a sample of what I am told is high-grade manganese ore. I would like you to analyze same and let me know what it is, also of what value and if you know of a market for it. Will kindly send check covering your charges on hearing from you. Obliging.

O.

A.: There are no charges made to correspondents for services given by this department of The Times, and it is a difficult task to give a report on ores occurring on any mining property when one is confined to a small sample for determination.

The particular specimen sent in by you is not high-grade manganese ore. Here and there, throughout the mass traces of high-grade manganite are found, but the bulk of the sample is a mixture of manganese, silicate, with manganese-lime carbonate, iron oxides, silica, traces of wad (bog manganese) and traces of copper. Mineral represented by the sample might find favor among buyers of paint mixtures, such as umber, and "metallic paint;" even that possibility is doubtful unless the ore was treated for commercial sales.

Platinum Absent

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 24.—Q.: I wish you would please tell me if the sample is granite, quartz, or what? Does it contain platinum? Is the formation that in which platinum occurs? The ore comes from San Bernardino county.

G.

A.: Many believe that such rock runs up into thousands of dollars platinum to the ton ore. These "assays"(?) so often returned as reliable nowadays are, writing bluntly, but pipe dreams.

The sample shows hornblende and epidote present. Magnetite and other iron oxides, zinc traces, free gold absent, and quartz found. No reaction for platinum. Doubtful platinum formation.

Botryoidal Kaolin

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24.—Q.: Please classify the sample.

V.

A.: The sample is Kaolin of good grade for commercial uses.

Nickel Traces

GARLOCK, Dec. 25.—Q.: I am sending you a sample of mineral for your determination. I understand it is magnetic and malleable and called "magnetic pyrite," or pyrrhotite. Kindly test for nickel and oblige.

S.

A.: The samples carry pyrrhotite, pyrite, and and arsenopyrite in very low percentages of mixed sulphides, each. It would require approximately 2000 tons of the rock to obtain one ton of concentrates of mixed sulphides. Pyrrhotite is not malleable.

Mostly Silica

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—Q.: Kindly advise what the sample consists of and give the market value of such when shipped in carload lots?

H.

A.: The sample represents mineral that would hardly pay the freight charges in carload lots. Iron oxides, diatomaceous earth, silica, and aluminum silicate, each, more or less present.

HEMET, Dec. 26.—Q.: I saw in your mining column something about Rhodonite of rose color. Is it like the two rocks I am sending you? Both from San Jacinto Hills.

L.

A.: The white specimen is quartz carrying a little pyrite. The reddish samples are iron-bearing (ferruginous) quartz. Both samples when panned together yielded one very small color of gold.

Two Samples

INDEPENDENCE, Dec. 27.—Q.: Under separate cover please find two samples. Would you be kind enough to sample them and see if they carry free gold, or what are they? The samples come off the same ledge. Thanking you for past favors and wishing you a Happy New Year.

"SUBSCRIBER."

A.: The analyses made by this department of The Times (in many instances) are so hard to determine that it calls for very careful work. We have not forgotten you and the many other mining boys in the hills by omitting the usual Christmas and New Year greetings. To you, and the boys in the Far West, the West, the North, and the Southeast. May you all have a prosperous, happy, peaceful, healthful and successful New Year.

Your two samples show up as follows: No. 1 contains greenish magnesium silicate with epidote, iron oxides. Zinc-lead traces; manganese found. No. 2 is decidedly a very much altered rock, as many rocks are when occurring in the White Mountains. Copper is absent. Altered Chrysolite present. Sillimanite and Andalusite are both absent. Corundum not found.

The samples were tested for free gold and platinum, with negative reactions from both specimens.

It is the hope of the writer to fully test, and report on the hardest bunch of specimens received, for lo, these many moons! Meanwhile be patient, please. Our object is to give you, one and all, the best services at our command.

MORE INTEREST IN PROVEN AREA

This is Feature of Kern's New Year Activities

Bonus Demands Stiffen and Royalties Increase

Swing Strengthens Positions of Companies There

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 11.—Increased interest in oil properties in the proven area of Kern county is an outstanding feature of activity here since the first of the year. Leases being recorded for lands held in fee and for government permits show a stiffening in bonus demands and larger oil royalties than could be obtained last year.

In 1924 the widespread leasing of areas far removed from proven structures, in which thousands of acres on the valley floor were taken over by the companies, indicated a spirit of extreme optimism. But the cash consideration usually was small and oil royalties were limited to one-eighth. In recent leases as high as 25 per cent of the oil is to be paid to the landholder in semiproven areas.

LARGE BONUSES

Some big bonuses are also a feature, as has been shown in recent leases. The swing back to an active demand for producing and undeveloped oil properties in the structural areas of the Kern oilfields has strengthened the position of companies, big and little, operating in these areas.

The Main Oil Company test southwest of Wasco was 4190 feet deep Friday with the drill in hard shale formation.

Pan American test on Kern Bluffs is reported to be 4490 feet deep and shows no changes, according to scouts.

The situation on the Marland Section 16, 28-27, twelve miles northwest of Bakersfield, is encouraging. Cauley No. 3, drilled into the deeper oil structure, is being tested for a water shutoff today.

CAMPAIGN INDICATED

Indications are that with the successful completion of this well an intensive drilling campaign will take place on the lease.

An important strike is reported in the Southwest Petroleum Company's No. 2, section 35, 31-24, Buena Vista Valley test. The well is being brought in as a pumper, with the expectation that it will develop into a flowing well. Superintendent Kirwin is optimistic, expressing keen satisfaction over the new strike.

Promising Find is Reported in Old Kern Mine

Frank Wyman, Sr., of Los Angeles, superintendent for the Kern River Mining Company, operating the old Keyes mine, five miles from Isabella, Kern county, writes the local office of the company that in an upraise on the footwall vein on the company's property, forty feet above the cross-cut level, he has exposed a six-inch streak of ore that runs from $250 to $300 in gold to the ton, while in the drift on the vein the face shows three feet of ore assaying from $50 to $100 to the ton.

President A. Reis, who returned to Los Angeles from the mine a few days ago, says that in milling operations more satisfactory results are being obtained, and that it is hoped to improve milling practice to such an extent that the recovery of values will be such that the higher grades of ore from the mine can be successfully treated, as only the low-grade product is now being handled. The plant, it is stated, is treating about forty tons daily.

The old Keyes mine, it is said, was a wonderful producer of gold bullion in its early history, and the recent reported discovery of high-grade ore in virgin ground and in new territory, has been greatly welcomed by company officials and stockholders.

TWO TEJON DISTRICT LOTS BRING $10,000

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 11.—In consideration of $10,000 Robert M. Lindsay and Isabelle L. Greig have sold to James Leovy lots 1 and 2, consisting of 165.97 acres in fractional northwest quarter of Section 7, 32-29. The deed was placed on record in Kern county yesterday. The land is in the Tejon district.

IRON IS GATHERED FOR COPPER PRECIPITATION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PATAGONIA (Ariz.) Jan. 11.—Old iron scrap is being accumulated by the lessees of the World's Fair mine, for precipitation of copper from the water of the deeper workings. The mine at higher levels was one of the phenomenal silver producers of the Southwest.

DRILLING DELAYED

Lack of Water Hinders Work Near Benson; Espee Gives Aid

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 11.—Lack of water has delayed drilling of the Colglazier well west of Benson. Combining the supply from a number of wells has not been effective and now the Southern Pacific Company has come to the rescue.

A two-inch line is being laid to the well from the company's 240,000-gallon tank at Whetstone siding, a distance of three and a half miles. About 300 barrels of water a day is needed for steam and for the operation of the rotary drill that now has penetrated over 500 feet.

Three miles from Bowie, drilling is to start February 1, according to announcement made by a syndicate in which the leading figure appears to be Frank L. Copening of Los Angeles.

Late Reports From California's Great Petroleum Pools

NEW OIL GUSHER HIT IN PACIENCIA

Well is Latest Addition to Cacalilao Field

Production is Estimated at 25,000 Barrels

Keen Eye is Being Kept on Panuco River

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAMPICO (Mex.) Jan. 11.—On a direct line between the Mexican Petroleum Company's important new oil strike at Mendes and the Mexican Gulf's production in the latest addition to the Cacalilao field, the Transcontinental (Standard) has just completed a 25,000-barrel gusher in Paciencia.

This virtually unites Cacalilao and Mendes and proves the Cacalilao field to be one of the most extensive as well as most productive in history. With new additions to the field being proved steadily by discovery wells with initial production ranging from 25,000 to 40,000 barrels daily, Cacalilao truly is something to cackle about.

While Tampico interest now centers on Cacalilao, the wise ones are keeping keen eyes on wildcat operations 100 miles south of that field, which lies along the Panuco River and the northern boundary of the State of Vera Cruz.

The International and Aguila companies, probably with an idea of reserves for future use, are drilling prospect wells south of the Tuxpam River. At present there is no important production south of the Tuxpam River except at Alamo, where the Penn-Mex (Standard) has been getting good production for several years.

None of the scattered wildcats south of Alamo has yet struck the structure which makes Alamo rich, but geologists believe it continues straight through the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

Mining Experts on Program at Section Meeting

Tomorrow evening the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, Southern California section, will hold its first meeting of the year at 2200 West Seventh street, opposite Westlake Park, at 6:30 p.m.

Mr. William L. Honnold will speak on personal experiences in the South African diamond mines. Among his accomplishments, he was instrumental in forming the Anglo-American Corporation of South Africa, which controls the Consolidated Diamond Mines of Southwest Africa, as well as in other localities. During the war he served as a director of the commission for the relief of Belgium.

Mr. Edwin Higgins, executive secretary of the Chamber of Mines and Oil, and president of the California Metal Producers' Association, will speak on "Gold Mining in California."

Mr. L. D. Davenport, formerly chief engineer of large iron mines in Minnesota, later appointed by Judge Gary to take charge of opening up coal mining districts in Manchuria, will speak on "China and the Coal Mines of Manchuria."

Drilling of New Well to Start on Signal Hill

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONG BEACH, Jan. 11.—The Bess & Hughes Company has announced its intention to drill a well on Walnut avenue, north of Willow street, in the Signal Hill field. The men behind this project are E. J. Bess, drilling superintendent for the Bush & Voorhis interests, and A. Hughes, president of the Hughes Drilling Company.

The Dabney-Delaney Oil Company is reported to have secured small production in the Dabney No. 1 well, which was recently completed at a depth of 4800 feet.

The Henderson Petroleum Syndicate has abandoned its Fackler No. 1 well, on the south slope of Signal Hill proper. The hole was drilled 5000 feet deep, but it failed to develop into a commercial producer.

MINE FIRING RESULT MAY BE KNOWN SOON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOMBSTONE (Ariz.) Jan. 11.—There is only conjecture in regard to the results of firing the Shannon Company's mine at Gleeson. After several attempts, the ore body finally was ignited and large volumes of smoke for months indicated continuing combustion of the sulphur and consequent liberation of copper contents. The smoke now is reported lessening and exploration may be attempted before long to determine the degree of success of the novel underground smelting idea.

TO SUE GOVERNMENT

OSHKOSH (Wis.) Jan. 11.—Damage claims aggregating more than $5,000,000 are in the hands of the Association for Relief of High Water, in preparation for a contemplated suit against the United States for loss by flood in the Fox River Valley in recent years, according to Alan H. Tripp, president, here.

WORK BEGINS ON REFINING PLANT

Mutual-Continental Pushes Farmington Structure

Original Plans Altered So as to Double Capacity

Cold Halts Drilling in Well on Ute Reservation

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FARMINGTON (N. M.) Jan. 11. Work has been started on the Mutual-Continental Oil Company refinery and is being pushed with all possible speed. With the starting of work announcement was made that the plant would be constructed of double the capacity that was first announced and would have a daily capacity of 500 barrels per day instead of 250 barrels. It has been learned that the company plans to increase this to 1000 barrels by the end of the year.

The intention is to have the plant producing by not later than April 1, next. G. R. Simons and F. L. Hutton of Denver are in charge of the work, and they say that they have great faith in the productivity of the basin fields.

The Gypsy Oil Company, which has been drilling on its lease on the Ute reservation, reached the top of the oil sand just when the recent severe cold wave struck this section. It had cased and cemented in and sent for the head officers to come on from Denver and see the well drilled in. When the officers reached Durango, Colo., from which point the drillers had been operating, the cold was so intense that they decided to return to Denver and wait a few weeks before drilling the well in.

This well is located about sixteen miles northwest of Farmington and just northwest of the big gas wells brought in by both the Midwest Refining Company and the Producers and Refiners. The oil sand is reported to be at approximately 2300 feet.

PRODUCTION TEST

The Bloomfield Oil and Gas Company, operating twelve miles east of Farmington, is arranging to test for production in its two finished wells, at the same time starting the No. 3. This well is located about 600 feet east of the No. 2. It is expected that each well under the pump will produce from ten to twenty-five barrels daily.

As these wells are shallow, being less than 900 feet deep, it is believed that they will be profitable, because the oil is about 85 per cent gasoline.

The Navajo Oil Company, which is drilling on the beautiful mountain structure, has reached a depth of 2800 feet and will push the hole down to the 3000 feet before it quits or strikes production. So far the hole is not promising, reports say.

The pipe for the Mutual Oil Company line from the refinery site at Farmington to the Rattlesnake structure is being delivered, and welding will start as soon as the cold weather is over. The first work will be to lay fourteen miles of pipe from the Rattlesnake structure to the Midwest Refining Company wells on the Hogback Dome. After that a line will be laid from the Midwest Refining Company tank farm at Farmington to the refinery site, a distance of about one mile.

CONTRACT CLOSED

W. H. Graham of this place, with a number of California associates, closed a contract with Charles Catron of Santa Fe for a lease on the Ojo des Espiritu grant following geological survey by Dean E. Winchester of Denver, who located the first producing well on the Rattlesnake structure for the Santa Fe Company. A new National No. 3 rig is to be used in connection with a Slater turnbuckle rig.

According to geological reports the Pennsylvania sand should be reached with a 1500-feet hole on the first location, which will be about twelve miles northwest of San Isidro, and directly on the road between Farmington and Albuquerque. On this grant, it is said, has been found the only cropping of Pennsylvania sand located in that part of New Mexico. Mr. Graham is about ready to complete a well nine miles east of Farmington.

MAKING DEEP VALLEY

Steam Shovels Busy Where Once Stood United Verde Offices

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

JEROME (Ariz.) Jan. 11.—Steam shoveling at the top of the United Verde mine is being continued at the rate of about 150,000 yards a month, making a deep valley where the company's smelter, offices and shaft heads once stood. It is understood that now a much larger proportion of the material removed is available for smelting.

The next United Verde development is to be erection of a concentrating mill, the first in this section. In the mining operations, down to 2400 feet in depth, enormous quantities of chalcopyrite have been developed of character suited to handling by flotation. The company also is making some very interesting explorations of new ground into the Venture claims by means of an extension of the Calumet and Jerome tunnel.

KERN OIL PACTS DELAYED

Reports from Bakersfield to the effect that members of the Independent Oil Producers' Agency in the Kern River fields have not yet signed new contracts for their output of oil during the forthcoming year make it appear not at all improbable that higher prices may be paid for San Joaquin Valley oil during the next few weeks.

Agency officials in Bakersfield have declined to discuss the question of a 1925 contract for the crude produced by its members, and it is reported that some of the members are reticent to sign the contract which has been under discussion for some time, it being asserted that they are going to insist on being paid a higher price for their heavy crude this year.

At the present time there are several large marketing companies paying from 10 to 20 cents per barrel bonus over the posted field price for California crude oil, and it is expected by many producers that before many days some of the companies will post a new field price which will meet the bonus on terms of equality, so far as marketing is concerned.

ROSECRANS FIELD BOOMING

Skyline Dotted With Derricks, and Daily Production Now Totals 7500 Barrels

With approximately seventy-five wells producing and drilling, and a total daily production of 7500 barrels, new derricks continue to spring up in the Rosecrans field, with the rapidity of a fairy forest. The skyline which a few months ago was cut by nothing loftier than a strawberry patch or an occasional clump of trees, now presents the aspect of a real oil field, with scores of derricks in every direction.

The Athens district in the northern part of the field is the principal center of new activity, in consequence of the discovery of a deeper zone in the Athens No. 1, of E. J. Miley, which at 5179 feet continued to show the oil sand which began at 5089 feet. The fact that this part of the field is subdivided into town lots, and blocks, most of which are held by individuals, or by small companies, is largely responsible for the intensive development which is occurring.

SENTINEL HAVING TROUBLE

At present there is but one well producing in that area. The Marine Corporation's No. 31 well, offsetting the Union Oil Company's Howard Park lease on the north, is making about 1250 barrels a day, which is the result of a steady increase since it was completed a week ago as a gas well.

In the extreme northwestern part of the Athens area, the Sentinel Oil Company is having considerable trouble with its Brown No. 1, the pioneer project of that area. This hole found an oil sand at about 5175 feet, and set six-inch pipe at 5187 feet. When the water test was made the well blew in and had to be recemented. At present the crew is attempting to extract a core barrel, which so far has defied all efforts, and may have to be dynamited out. Bottom is at 5243 feet.

Still farther to the northwest, on what the Shell believes may be another uprise of the Rosecrans structure, the Shell Company's Leonis well is drilling at 4800 feet, without showings to date. In view of the unusual depths which have been penetrated in the Rosecrans field, the Shell refuses to be discouraged until a depth of at least 5000 feet is reached.

INTEREST IN TRUST NO. 1

In the southeastern area, the Superior Oil Company is trying to bring its Maxwell No. 1 back on production. This well was the first producer in that district, coming in at the rate of 1100 barrels per day of 44 deg. gravity oil. Operators think that this well has probably come as near paying for itself as any well in the field excepting the Union's original Potter well. The Maxwell No. 1 cost about $100,000 to drill, and is estimated to have made approximately 50,000 barrels of oil, which commanded a market price of $1.80 per barrel and likely a substantial bonus in addition.

Maxwell No. 1 is the Superior's only active project in Rosecrans at present. This well is sidetracking four-inch casing at 4364 feet, Maxwell No. 2 and No. 4 and Van Nuys No. 1 being idle. Maxwell No. 3 is making about 500 barrels per day of high gravity oil. The uncertainties of production in this field seem to have determined the Superior to suspend further activity pending the time when more definite results may reasonably be expected.

Much interest attaches to the Union Oil Company's efforts to bring in its Trust No. 1 in the far western part of the field. Careful work on the hole continuing over a week, has failed to show production. The well was swabbed for a while, and when that was not productive of results, tubing was pulled, and the bailer was run in. Officials of the company announced, when two days of bailing failed to get action, that pumping would be tried.

In the meantime the fluid level which was swabbed down to 3200 feet has risen to 2500 feet, which may be either a good or a bad indication. Rising of the fluid level might be the result of gas pressure lifting the column from below, or it might be caused by water breaking into the well, field men assert.

Promotion of Tide Water Oil Man Announced

F. M. Rowles, western manager for the Tide Water Oil Sales Corporation, which maintains offices in this city, has announced the appointment of W. C. Pettingell as western sales manager of that organization.

Mr. Pettingell joined the Tide Water forces in 1920, taking charge of territory between San Luis Obispo and San Francisco. In 1922 he was made sales supervisor of the Central Pacific district in this State, and in the following year he was made assistant manager for the twelve Western States.

ST. HELENS IS SEEKING DEEP SAND

Well in Midway is Down 3600 Feet; Reported Ready to Test Lake Bed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Jan. 11.—The No. 4 well of the St. Helens Petroleum Company, located on Section 16, 32-24, in the Midway fields, has reached a depth of about 3600 feet in its redrilling job. This well was started on the redrilling process November 1, and has been drilled 1600 feet deeper in the hopes of securing an especially productive sand within the next few hundred feet of hole. Other wells drilled into the deep sand in the immediate vicinity have proven to be excellent wells and the St. Helens is going after the same strata in this well.

It has been reported that St. Helens is preparing to spud in a well on its recently acquired property on the old Buena Vista Lake bed. St. Helens, in securing the above lease, took over a large amount of acreage and if successful with the first well, plans to drill up the territory as rapidly as possible. It was planned to drill the new section with an electric rotary drilling outfit.

The Southwest Petroleum Corporation is still testing for a water shut-off in its No. 2 well on Section 28, 31-24, on the Buena Vista flats at a depth of 5010 feet, where six and one-fourth-inch casing was cemented. To date the shut-off has not quite met with the approval of the State Mining Bureau.

It is reported that the No. 1 well on the same section, which was redrilled to a depth of 4947 feet by Hall & Early, was placed on production several days ago, but the production was so small as to be negligible, so the operators are going deper in an effort to bring in a paying producer.

Fight on Cotton Pest Developing Air War Tactics

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The boll weevil may be the means of helping the government in case of another war. Secretary of War Weeks, in discussing a conference held yesterday between the Secretaries of War and Navy and representatives of eighteen aircraft factories, said that the experiments in fighting the boll weevil by airplane last summer had been so successful that the aircraft manufacturers were being called upon for the manufacture of a special type of airplane.

If aerial warfare on the weevil continues successful it is certain to result in the manufacture of several more airplanes, and this will mean more work for the aircraft industry. At the present time the airplane manufacturers have to depend on the government for something like 95 per cent of its business, and additional orders would help to keep the industry alive.

Chemicals developed in the War Department were scattered on the cotton fields by airplanes last summer in an attempt to kill the boll weevil before the crops were damaged. According to reports which have reached the Secretary of War one company has been organized to carry on this kind of work this coming year. It is said that the cost of treating the cotton fields has been reduced to as low as $7 an acre.

New Petition on Midway to be Offered Soon

The Greater Washington Boulevard Association is expected to file this week with the City Council a new petition asking for the starting of proceedings to establish a street to be known as Washington Midway. The original petition called for the street to start at the junction of Washington and Hoover streets and stop at a point near Fourteenth and Figueroa streets.

The new petition will call for a complete street from Washington and Hoover streets to Maple avenue. From Figueroa street to Maple avenue, Washington Midway will be parallel with Pico street and will be located approximately at what would be Fourteenth street. From Hoover street to Figueroa street, Washington Midway will be on a diagonal line. Washington Midway is to be 150 feet wide and is expected to be an important traffic artery leading into the central congested business district.

OIL MEN AWAIT TORRANCE TEST

Jameson Company Will Try Lora J. Well

Shell Company to Abandon Dolores No. 1

Marine Corporation Active at Harbor City

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TORRANCE, Jan. 11.—Operators in the Torrance field are anxiously awaiting the production test which will be made by the Jameson Oil Company in the Lora J. well, which was drilled in quest of a second productive formation in the Lomita district.

The Jameson organization is now convinced that the water has been shut out of the hole and is waiting only for cement to harden before conducting the crucial test.

The crew last week plugged back the hole almost 100 feet. The bottom is now at the 4670-foot level. After the hole was plugged a leak was discovered in the six-inch casing at 4120 feet, where a cement job was accomplished. The well is now idle, waiting for the cement to harden.

TEST THIS WEEK

Early this week the hole will be tested for production from the oil-bearing formation between 4200 and 4600 feet.

Meanwhile Jameson is drilling ahead in its second deep test—the Rogers No. 1, near Pennsylvania avenue and Acacia streets in Lomita. Yesterday the drill was rotating at about 3350 feet. The Rogers is about a half a mile west of the Lora J.

The Shell Company has decided to abandon the Dolores No. 1, the most easterly drilling well in the field. The Dolores was located several months ago, east of Harbor Boulevard, near Watson Junction, in the belief that the Torrance field extended due east along Camino Real. Clean production was never obtained from the Dolores, and recent developments have revealed that the structure swings south instead of continuing eastward.

FRANCIS NO. 1

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company is giving the Francis No. 1 a test for production from the 4300-foot level before finally abandoning the hole. At this level a showing of oil and gas was picked up while the well was being drilled. Last week the hole was shot out between the 4400 and the 4300-foot levels.

The Marine Corporation's No. 50, which offsets the General Petroleum Corporation's Poggi lease near Harbor City, in the southeastern extension, is being drilled ahead into the oil formation. Considerable interest is attracted by this well, which is west of the Poggi property. Production from the Marine well would start considerable development on small leases west of the Poggi tract, it is believed.

Activity Starts Again at Coyote Mine Property

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RANDSBURG, Jan. 11.—Activity has been resumed in the Coyote mine and on the Fox lease on telegraphic advice from New York interests, which have an option to purchase the majority stock of the California Rand Silver, Inc. According to advices received here, the same interests have taken an option on the two pieces of property named, and on Monday morning the workmen were at the collars of each shaft where operations were discontinued some months ago.

It is known here that E. L. Blanck, a large owner in the Coyote property, went to New York with intent to interest people there who are seeking to purchase the California Rand stock in the Coyote property, and that he was in a measure successful is indicated by the following telegram.

"Start crew in bottom Fox shaft drifting south and north on antimony vein. Also start crew on Coyote shaft to drift westerly to pick up Williams ledge. Interests which have the option on the Kelly mine also have option on Coyote. This work is to be done at the expense of the people who hold options on California Rand Silver."

The work to be resumed on the Coyote is under the direction of Superintendent Harry Alderson.

ANGELENO GETS LEASE

J. C. Noel Acquires Bakersfield Tract of Eighty Acres

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 11.—An oil lease has been obtained by F. C. Noel of Los Angeles to an eighty-acre holding belonging to the Merritt heirs, for property in the Connor district, described as the north half of northwest quarter of Section 34, 32-26.

Under the terms of the agreement five years are given in which to drill eight wells to a depth of 4500 feet. One-eighth oil royalty is to be paid. The cash bonus was not stated. Lands in the district have been leased at from $50 to $100 an acre cash bonus.

THOUSAND-BARREL WELL IN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FULLERTON, Jan. 11.—Persistent reports of unusually good showings since the 3600-foot level was reached, were confirmed yesterday when a new Brea Canyon Oil Company well came in with a 1000-barrel flow from a depth of 4000 feet, with 800 pounds casing-head pressure, adding one more to the long list of good producers in the Fullerton fields.

A. F. White, superintendent of the company, and Clyde Chambers, drilling foreman, are reported to have hung up a record for making hole in the Brea Canyon territory, by the use of a new "hole straightener."

Further development dependent on the success of this well will now go forward, according to reports from Brea. A new derrick is already being erected by the same company in a location adjacent to the new producer.

Other new work going on in the canyon will include new wells by the Fullerton Oil Company, the Shell Company and the Tonner Oil Company, with indications that the Birch Oil Company may soon resume active work on its Brea holdings.

Constructive Financing
BY
JOHN W. KEMP
Vice-President and General Counsel, Credit Finance Corporation
Member of firm of Kemp, Partridge & Kemp, Director of Chamber of Commerce, President of Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Vice-President of City Club

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has for several years recognized the necessity of some large, ably managed Finance Corporation to assist in carrying the credit load of the many industries and commercial enterprises that have been crowding into the Los Angeles industrial district.

The business of providing and supervising institutions which will fill in the gap between the present Commercial banking facilities and the manufacturer and merchant will not only be a most powerful stimulus to general business here, but in itself, will be very profitable.

When approached a short time ago with a concrete proposition to become interested in such a corporation, I felt that here was an opportunity to accomplish that which would inure to the benefit of the community and at the same time be profitable to the investor.

I found substantial business men of the community who were willing to pledge themselves to give freely of their time and thought to insure the success of the enterprise, and to back their faith with their own money.

The Directors and Board of Governors of Credit Finance Corporation have been selected with the greatest care, and represent the diversified business and manufacturing interests of the community. Each of these men was selected because he could do at least one thing better for the good of the corporation than any other man.

They have pledged to the corporation the best service of which they are capable. Every man has a substantial investment in the stock of the corporation and is enthusiastic in his determination to make the business a success.

John W. Kemp.

Going on record! That is a thing which small men fear. They fear it because they are not just sure enough, or perhaps, sincere enough, in what they say they believe. They might, you know, want to back out on their present opinion and substitute another later on. The strong man expresses an opinion only after he is as sure of it, as you or I are as to the innate goodness and future of our country. Today in the space above, John W. Kemp is talking. He says what he believes, and in a manner that the world may know, whether today, next year, or a decade hence.

NINE WELLS STARTED IN KERN FIELD

Pacific Oil Drilling Four New Holes, Three of Them in Midway

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 11.—Nine new oil wells were started in Kern county last week, swinging the new year off with a good record for a successful development campaign throughout the year. Nine tests for water shutoff were reported and five repair jobs were started.

The Pacific Oil Company is credited with beginning four new holes, three of which are in the Midway and one in the Elk Hills. The Midway wells are the No. 51, Section 5, 32-24; No. 236, Section 31, 31-24; No. 65, Section 25, 31-23. The Elk Hills well is the No. 103, Section 35, 30-24.

The Universal Consolidated Oil Company has spudded in its No. 44 in the Lost Hills, while at McKittrick the Northern Counties Oil Company has put a crew of drillers at work on its first well. Another No. 1 well is that of the Painted Hills Oil Association on Section 19, 31-22.

Donald W. Whittier has entered the Kern county fields and has begun a well on the Nichols Fried lease, Section 5, 11-24.

ANGELENO PLANNING TO WORK LEAN ORE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) Jan. 11.—Machinery is being installed at the old Blaine or Silver Clip mine on the California side of the Colorado River, north of here, for working 25,000 tons of mill tailings, said to sample about eight ounces silver to the ton. The mine is held under option by C. Henry Thompson of Los Angeles, who is reported preparing to work large bodies of lean ore that were left by earlier operators.

MARLAND PROGRESS REPORTED

Company's Drilling Upon Balfour Lease Points to Large Operations

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 11.—Excellent progress is being made by the Marland Oil Company in its No. 1 well on the Balfour lease on Section 19, 31-23, between Fellows and McKittrick. The well was started about ten days ago.

The well is listed as Calidon No. 1. The company moved the rotary equipment from the Cauley lease on Section 16, 28-27, in the west front extension of the Kren River oil fields.

This makes the third string of tools the Marland Oil Company is running in the San Joaquin Valley, with L. T. Edwards in charge of drilling operations, which include work on the Midway, Kern and Kettleman Hills leases.

The Calidon marks the latest development started by Marland and forecasts extensive operations planned by the company which has acquired leases on approximately 40,000 acres in the San Joaquin Valley, including acreage in the Kern, Midway, Santa Maria and Ventura fields. The company has holdings in the Blackwell's corner area, west of Lost Hills and also acreage northeast of Lost Hills; also in the Weed Patch, Edison, Comanche Point, Rio Bravo and west front extension of the Kern River fields.

Altogether the Marland Oil Company of California has acquired about 50,000 acres in the State since the first of the year, much of it leased on long-time drilling provisions, which makes the acquisition of such large holdings doubly valuable.

SHUT-OFF PATENT GRANTED

Patent for an invention to be used in making a water shut-off in drilling for oil has been granted to F. A. Feather, an operator in the Kern River oil fields.

Last-Minute News From Petroleum Fields and Marts of Trade

JUMP LIKELY IN DOMINGUEZ

Five Wells Near Completion in Gusher Area

Shell Has Two Ventures in Line for Production

Fifteen-Foot Sand Found in North Part of Field

Production in the Dominguez field, which has been mounting rapidly during the past two months, is due for another jump in the next week or ten days, if present indications are worth anything.

Four or five wells are near the point of completion, and as these are in the southeastern part of the field where 4000-barrel wells have become commonplace, the result is likely to be from 15,000 to 20,000 barrels of new production.

The Shell company has two wells on its Manuel lease about ready to go on production. The United Oil Company's Henderson No. 2 is near the final stages after some trouble with the water shutoff, and the Associated Oil Company expects to get its DeFrancis No. No. 5 on the production list this week. The Marland Oil Company's No. 5 is reported to be about ready to come in. In the older part of the field on the Reyes lease, several wells are drilling into the sand, after getting water shutoffs.

One of the interesting developments of the week was the discovery of fifteen feet of what is described as good oil sand in the Henderson Petroleum Corporation's Susana No. 1 well, north of the Shell company's Manuel No. 5.

Geologists had regarded the Susana No. 1 as likely to be in the same category with the Shell company's Childs No. 2, which is an edge well, or perhaps, the Superior Oil Company's Carpenter well, which was abandoned.

Because of the apparent tendency of the Dominguez sands to pinch out abruptly on the edges, many experts thought the Susana might not get any kind of a showing, but apparently the lower contours of the structure run more to the east and north than the experts had figured.

INCREASE IN PRODUCTION IS FORECAST

Petroleum News Expert Sees Daily Average Gain for Local Field

According to estimates made by Paul Wagner, production expert of the National Petroleum News, the new year opens with the California producing branch of the industry facing increased daily averages. These increases will not be large, but it is possible that production may react upward to as much as 615,000 to 625,000 barrels daily in February. He says:

"Dominguez and Rosecrans are largely responsible for the increases in the Los Angeles Basin fields, where Torrance also is holding up better than anticipated.

"A further dropping-off in the quantity of California crude that will move in tanker shipments to Atlantic and Gulf ports may be expected. Only spot sales are being made where contract requirements have been fulfilled and probably not to exceed an average of 40,000 to 50,000 barrels daily will move out in any one month of 1925. This contrasts with roundly 90,000 barrels daily in November and December and still greater quantities in the earlier months of 1924.

"Gasoline cargoes from California loading points, destined both to the Atlantic seaboard and foreign destinations will move in 1925. The larger companies on the Pacific Coast, with which these shipments will originate, are authority for the statement that the movement will total 'considerable quantities.' This may mean 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 barrels of motor fuel, as in 1923 and 1924, or it may mean an additional million barrels or so.

"The disposition of the Pacific Coast industrial units to conserve their own crude supply against the future and to ship only their surplus, which latter does not include fuel grades, means that in the face of the slightly increased production and the easing down of tanker shipments, the accumulation of overall stocks in California may be expected to continue.

"California production is estimated at 500,000 barrels daily, January 1, 1926, without giving consideration to fresh discoveries that conceivably might become effective in the meantime. The 500,000-barrel figure is based upon a broad measure of the prospective work in old fields in its relation to the normal declines of settled and semisettled wells in the currently productive areas."

WATER IS SHUT OFF IN TAYLOR-FULLER WELL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HOLBROOK (Ariz.) Jan. 11.—A complete water shutoff is reported to have been effected at the Taylor-Fuller well, in which drilling has been resumed from a depth of 3000 feet. At the Adamana well efforts to case off the water are being continued, under charge of E. F. Yarbrough of Los Angeles. Underreaming is being done at the Holbrook well of the Jerome-Navajo Company.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Jan. 11. Five automobiles were damaged in one wreck, but no one was injured, according to a report to police. The accident occurred at Commerce street and Santa Rosa avenue when John McKay is said to have lost control of his car. When fragments quit flying, police found McKay's car a wreck. Cars belonging to Sev West, soldier, Kelly Field; R. Ramos, Henry Guerra and H. E. Ruben also were damaged.

CHANGES CITED IN TAX BLANKS

Revenue Act of Last Year Effects Depletion

Factors of Market Value to Get Consideration

Repairs Column No Concern of Royalty Owner

BY S L GILDAN

The income tax blanks, recently mailed to taxpayers, are similar to those used in former years, but important changes in the Revenue Act of 1924 with respect to depletion allowable should not be overlooked in filling them out. They may be filed at any time from now on and must be filed by March 15.

Royalty income from oil property should be reported in the schedule labeled Income from Rents and Royalties. This schedule is found on the second page of the tax return and should be completely filled out before entries are made under Item No. 5 on page one. In the column headed Kind of Property, a brief description, such as oil or oil and gas, will suffice. Under the column headed Amount Received, report the total gross income received as royalties. Under Cost or Value March 1, 1913, show the cost of your royalty interest to you. If you owned it prior to March 1, 1913, state what it's fair market value then was instead of reporting the cost. If you acquired your royalty interest after March 1, 1913, and before the land became proved, you should report what the fair market value of your royalty interest was within thirty days of the discovery of oil.

The fair market value of your royalty interest within thirty days of discovery of oil or as of March 1, 1913, are estimates. The commissioner will lend due weight and consideration to any and all factors and evidence having a bearing on the fair market value, hence your estimate should be supported by facts. A special new blank form, designated as Form O-3, contains schedules for substantiating the value of oil and gas property. It should accompany the tax return.

Enter in the column headed Depreciation, the amount of depletion allowable during the year. A royalty owner is not concerned with depreciation. If column No. 2 shows cost or value as of March 1, 1913, the entire depletion sustained is allowable; if it shows a discovery value, the allowable depletion is limited to 50 per cent of the net income computed without allowance for depletion. The depletion is determined by multiplying the amount of royalty oil produced during the year by the unit cost or value. The unit cost or value is the amount of money shown in column No. 2 divided by the amount of royalty oil (barrels) which was in the property at the basic date.

The basic date is March 1, 1913, date of acquisition or date of discovery as the case may be. The oil content of any land of course is an estimate. The best basis for such an estimate is the past production record of the property, or in the absence of sufficient production records of the property in question, the production records of near-by or similar property. The production records, when plotted upon co-ordinate paper, establish a curve. This curve usually approaches a symetrical curve which may be extended or projected into the future. From the curve as thus projected, the production expected in the future may be estimated. The estimated future production added to the past production is the amount of oil which was in the property at the basic date.

The column headed repairs does not concern a royalty owner and should be left blank.

Under the column headed Other Expenses, other expenses such as taxes paid, may be entered unless the other expenses such as taxes are stated on page one of the tax return.

In the last column headed Net Income, the amount to be shown is the amount shown in column No. 2 minus the amounts in columns No. 4 and No. 6. The amount of net income thus arrived at should then be entered on page one as income under Item No. 5.

EDUCATING WORKER

Co-operative Home Study in Sweden Growing Rapidly

The rapid growth of the co-operative home study movement among Sweden's working classes is revealed in reports published in connection with the annual meeting of the Workmen's Educational Union just held at Stockholm. This association has now grown to a membership of 850,000, and includes twenty national trades unions. It maintains 723 libraries, and during last year managed 189 different lecture courses for its members. At present nearly 2000 study circles are being conducted within the union.

The activity of the Workmen's Educational Union is organized in districts and local circles, with centers in 766 different communities. The best available instructors and lecturers from all parts of the country are engaged for the teaching, which is mostly carried on in evening classes. The subjects of study include literature, languages, civil government, political science, mathematics, bookkeeping, history and the science of organization.

Educational service similar to that of the Workmen's Educational Union is provided for the public by the National Lecturing Association, supported by the government, which has local branches in practically every city, village and parish in Sweden. The association engages lecturers of prominence to travel all over the country, and only nominal fees are charged for admission to the lectures.

Other important facilities for home study in Sweden are the circulation libraries, which may be found in almost every parish and contain good selections from the literatures of foreign countries, as well as from that of Sweden. Books are loaned free of charge, and there is a constant demand for them. It is not unusual for country youths to read through almost entire libraries, thus gaining a remarkable acquaintance with the masterpieces of world literature.—[New York Times.

OIL INDICATED AT MAGDALENA

Geological Exploring Party Returns to Harbor

Relates Adventures With Man-Eating Sharks

Scientist Alone Three Days on Desert Coast

Favorable indications for oil north of Magdalena Bay, Baja California, have been found by a geological exploring party employed by the Superior Oil Company, it was reported yesterday when two members of the party returned to Los Angeles Harbor aboard the yawl-rigged yacht Dawn, in which they left for Magdalena last November.

The geologists, Toby Hoenshell and C. A. Haphold, were noncommittal about the result of their trip, but had a vivid tale of adventure to relate. Reports of the trip, emanating from Magdalena Bay, are to the effect that Magdalena Bay may soon be a West Coast rival of Tampico as an oil center.

TWO REMAIN

Glenn Stuart and Douglas Weatherston, two other geologists, are still in Lower California working north to meet another party which is working south from Salinas.

One of the adventures, in which Stuart, Weatherston and Capt. William Larsen, master of the Dawn, had a narrow escape from sharks was vouched for by Capt. Larsen. He said that the three were on their way out to the Dawn with supplies from Magdalena when their boat was swamped by a heavy sea. Instantly they were attacked by several sharks, but managed to gain the Dawn unhurt. The bay was thronged with man-eaters eighteen to twenty feet long, Capt. Larsen asserts, because of the presence of two Norwegian whalers in the vicinity.

Soon after their arrival at their destination, Weatherston was bitten by a large spider and was in a serious condition for more than a week. His life was saved, it was said, by snake-venom antitoxin. On another occasion Hoenshell, in a skiff, was blown ashore on a desert portion of the coast and was lost for three days. Fearing wild animals, he took refuge under his upturned boat and remained there until found.

EXPLORATORY CONCESSION

The Superior Oil Company has an exploratory concession, it is said, for a large area beginning at Magdalena Bay and extending to 27 deg. north latitude, clear across Baja California.

The Dawn left Magdalena on the return trip the 2nd inst., intending to stop at Salinas Bay for the other two geologists, but the gales she encountered were so stiff that Capt. Larsen was not able to put in till he reached Turtle Bay, where word was left with fishermen that the Dawn had gone on to Los Angeles. In one day, with a beam wind, she sailed 250 miles. She made most of the trip with a storm jib and double-reefed mainsail.

QUINN RANCH DRILLING IN NEW HANDS

Change Indicates Greater Activity in Low Foothills Near Bakersfield

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 11.—Announcement that the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company has taken over the drilling of the Sentinel well on the Harry Quinn ranch, in the vicinity of Jasmine, immediately following the recording of a new lease on the lands in favor of the latter company, is a matter of wide interest to oil operators.

It is an indication of probable activity by some of the larger companies to develop the oil possibilities between Porterville and Bakersfield and along the low foothills on the eastern side of the valley.

The agreement between the Santa Fe interests and the Sentinel interests has not been made public. First indication of the new deal as to the Quinn lease was seen in the arrival of Superintendent R. M. Smith and a crew from Fellows to arrange for the installation of a heavy rotary drilling outfit. The whole countryside from Delano to Jasmine is excited over the oil possibilities.

A few miles south of Jasmine the Standard Oil Company controls a number of sections in Poso Creek. The Midway, Premier, Pacific Oil and Associated also have interests.

Confirmation of oil showings in quantity in the Terra Bella wells and activity of new companies in testing out the prospects is but the beginning, according to some oil men, of an intensive campaign which would make Lerdo, Famase Jasmine, Ducor and Terra Bella the scene of a scramble for leases.

An early test of the oil possibilities in the district northwest of Beardsley school, and also in the Panama section south of Bakersfield, is expected as a result of the wild-catting operations during 1925.

An eighty-acre oil lease to Kern River Oilfields of California, Ltd., for land on Section 15, 29-28 where a test well is being drilled on Kern River Bluffs, has been placed on record in this county. Under the terms of the lease eight wells are to be drilled to a depth of 4000 feet. An oil bonus of $4000 is to be paid besides one-eighth oil royalty. The lease is from Edna M. Carney, Grinnell, Iowa, and Ada R. Tibbitts, Denver. The agreement was dated August 11, 1924, before drilling operations were commenced upon the test well.

Activities of the Marland Oil Company in acquiring oil leases in Kern county is shown by the assignment of the D. L. Brown lease obtained by B. B. Ellis, for 240 acres in Connor district.

An eighty-acre tract owned by Mary E. and Raymond Green has been transferred to the Standard for a consideration of $7000, according to a deed filed yesterday. The land is described as the east half of the southwest quarter of Section 34, 32-25.

DINUBA PLANS TO SINK WELL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DINUBA, Jan. 11.—At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Saturday a committee of five headed by E. S. Friend, president of the United States National Bank, and including John R. Locke of the Daily Sentinel, J. J. Jacobson of the Advocate, Tren Biswell and King S. Ford, prominent business men, was appointed on ways and means to formulate a plan whereby citizens of Dinuba may get behind a project to drill an oil test well on the Brians ranch a mile and a half west of here.

The project is being organized by J. T. Perkins, manager of a department-store here, and O. H. Brians, owner of the ranch on which the well is to be spudded in. A derrick of standard construction has been built by Contractor Dave Lightner of Bakersfield. The drilling machinery is to be rigged up and a well will probably be spudded in within ten days.

Geologists have examined the property and believe that oil may be found within 750 to 1000 feet. The oil situation and the probability of bringing in a well has created considerable excitement here.

NEW FINANCING HITS HIGH MARK

Records Broken With Total of $263,000,000

Left Over of $100,000,000 is Also Absorbed

Effect of Activity Benefits Bonds and Stocks

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—All records for new financing were broken last week when the total of bond offerings mounted to $263,000,000. This eclipsed the previous weekly record of $235,393,000 established in the week ended January 12, 1923, and represented an increase over the preceding week of approximately $238,000,000.

Timed to meet the usual January reinvestment demand the new issues were promptly absorbed, subscriptions in some cases exceeding two or three times the amount of the offering. Public utility financing bulked largest, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company heading the list of offerings with a $125,000,000 issue of 5 per cent debentures. The low interest charge gave the corporation a better credit rating than most foreign governments, which recently have borrowed here, and the offering was several times oversubscribed. A $30,000,000 note issue was sold for the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston.

BUYING RENEWED

At the same time an unusually large volume of tax-exempt securities was disposed of as savings banks and other institutions renewed buying on a large scale. In addition to about $80,000,000 in new issues of this class, it was estimated that more than $100,000,000 worth of State and municipal bonds held over from last year were marketed during the week.

Prices were shaded in many cases to clear dealers' shelves.

Although new financing overshadowed all other developments in bond circles, the effects of reinvestment buying were reflected in a moderate appreciation of prices in bond trading and an expansion in the volume of dealings. The ease in money rates was a contributing factor, influencing renewed accumulation of standard investment liens. For the first time in several weeks, Liberty Bonds moved to higher levels.

Another feature of trading was the recovery in bonds of corporations which have been in the process of reorganization, such as the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, Wilson & Co. and the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad Company. Many convertible bonds spurted upward in the trail of stocks, conspicuous examples being the New York Central convertible debentures and Federal Light and Traction 7s.

Further financial assistance by American bankers to German industry was given last week through the offerings of a $12,000,000 note issue for the August Thyssen Iron and Steel Works. Negotiations also were started for a loan of about $7,500,000 to the Hanniel Corporation, another Ruhr industrial factor. Assurances that new financing will continue in large volume are given by the scheduled offerings of all or a major part of a $50,000,000 Consolidated Gas issue, a $10,000,000 note issue for the Cuba Company and several other corporation loans.

Several public utility companies will turn to stock offerings for new financing. The Public Service Electric and Gas Company of New Jersey will sell $15,000,000 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and the Knoxville Power and Light Company 500 shares of 7 per cent cumulative preferred at $99 a share.

SLIGHT CUT IN PRICE OF MOTOR GAS

Crude Oil Situation in Mid-Continent Fields is Firm With Premiums

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Northwestern Pennsylvania refiners reduced the price of motor gasoline 1-4 cent a gallon late Saturday. The crude oil situation in the mid-continent field continues firm and premiums are still in vogue.

One of the large Oklahoma producers with a considerable production of high gravity crude reports an average price received on December sales of $1.65 a barrel, as against a posted price of $1.25 as a result of the premiums being paid.

The only disturbing factor is the new Wortham pool, now less than six weeks old, and producing in the neighborhood of 125,000 barrels daily. Peak production from this pool is expected at between 150,000 and 200,000 barrels and this early next month.

Increased activity in the speculative rails featured Saturday's trading in bonds on the stock exchange. Individual issues made sharp gains during the session, but irregularity developed in various departments of the market before the close.

Denver and Rio Grande 5s were active during most of the day at higher prices. Liberty Bonds continued to display firmness, the opening prices being at the highest for the day and the demand continuing active at that level.

BUSINESS GAINS SHOWN IN WEEK

Develpments Create Basis for Optimism

Rail Dividend Increases Seen as Significant

Steel Order Figures Mount to High of 1924

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Constructive business developments last week laid the groundwork for further advances in the securities markets and created a basis for more general optimism regarding the year's outlook.

Tangible evidence that the recent improvement in business is expected to continue indefinitely was provided by several important dividend increases. After maintaining a conservative 6 per cent dividend for fourteen years directors of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company, one of the few billion-dollar railroads, placed its stock on a 7 per cent annual basis, thereby adding about $2,300,000 to the yearly distribution to stockholders. At the same time a 1925 budget of $60,000,000 was announced.

COPPER IMPROVES

Satisfactory 1924 earnings, resulting from improvement in the copper industry and higher metal prices, together with good business prospects for 1925 were cited by the American Smelting and Refining Company as justification for increasing the common dividend from 5 to 6 per cent annually.

Favorable dividend action also was taken by several motor and sugar companies.

An increase of 784,787 tons in unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation on December 31 carried the total of unfilled tonnage to 4,816,756, a monthly figure which was eclipsed only once last year in February. The corporation's announcement confirmed the reports of the weekly steel trade journals that operations had shown steady expansion. For the remainder of the quarter, it was estimated, mills are assured of business which will keep them operating at 80 per cent of capacity. The pig-iron output of 2,961,702 tons in December, was the highest since last April, and the steel ingot output of 3,551,825 tons the largest since March.

CAR LOADINGS

A decrease in car loadings in the closing week in December to the lowest weekly total of 1924, was not considered significant because of the traditional slackening in freight traffic during that period. The total of 646,880 cars, however, was larger than for the corresponding week of 1923. The year's loadings of 48,527,227 cars represented the greatest movement in history with the exception of 1923, when traffic was 2.6 per cent heavier.

The price of refined sugar in the local market last week was cut almost a cent a pound at 6.10 cents, the lowest level in more than two years, as stocks of new raw sugar began to accumulate here. Trading in refined sugar futures, which have been on a nominal basis for several years, was discontinued. Price movements in the other commodities were mixed, wheat selling as high as $1.80 a bushel, but reacting later despite predictions of a world shortage by one of the leading grain authorities.

A slight increase in crude oil production during the week occasioned no alarm in view of the intensive drilling operations which were conducted in the new Wortham and other promising fields.

SLIGHT DROP IN OUTGOING PETROLEUM

Bulk of Shipments Go to Pacific Coast Ports for Domestic Trade

Exports of petroleum products from Los Angeles Harbor during the week beginning the 3rd inst. amounted to 1,614,531 barrels, which is slightly less than the previous week's shipments, the total of which was 1,648,822 barrels.

The bulk of last week's shipments went to the Pacific Coast domestic trade. There were twenty-nine tanker loads. Pacific domestic got 967,627 barrels; Atlantic Coast domestic took 273,804 barrels; Pacific foreign trade took 161,100 barrels, and Atlantic foreign absorbed 212,000 barrels. FIND HELIUM IN NATURAL GAS IN UTAH

Scientists Say Content is Unusually High in Emery County Well

Utah is one of the few States which can claim the distinction of possessing natural gas which contains what is considered a high percentage of helium. The only States, other than Utah, containing helium-bearing gases are Texas, Oklahoma, Ohio, Southern Illinois, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana.

The natural gas in none of these States shows as high a helium content as that which has just been discovered in a well recently drilled near Price, Emery county, Utah. This well struck a flow of noncombustible gas at a depth of about 3120 feet, which had a rock pressure of about 750 pounds per square inch and an estimated volume of from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 cubic feet for twenty-four hours.

The only plants which have been installed for the extraction of helium from natural gas were constructed by the government at Ft. Worth, Tex., for the purpose of taking helium from gas produced from what is known as the Petrola field, about 120 miles from Ft. Worth. Nothing has been done in the way of extracting helium gas from gas produced in the other States mentioned, as the helium content is rather small. When these plants were first operated during the year 1918 or 1919 they extracted from the natural gas from Petrola field about .96 per cent of helium, but the helium content has since decreased to about .56 per cent. An analysis recently made by Dr. Cady of the University of Kansas, of the gas from the Woodside well in Utah, shows helium content about 1.35 per cent or almost two and a half times as great a percentage of helium as the gas from Texas.

At the present time the only commercial use for helium is the inflation of balloons and the government is practically the only user. The balloons now in government service require only from about 18,000,000 to 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas and after they are once filled it would only be a matter of replacing the loss [illegible] would be only about [illegible] year. WORK SEEKS OIL MEN'S COUNSEL

Secretary Asks Views on Use of Reserve Resources

First Move by Government Board Against Waste

Co-operation on Important National Problem Aim

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The first definite move on the part of the government's oil board to open up the way for a free exchange of views relating to what has been described as an "alarming waste in the production of petroleum in this country" was taken today when Secretary of the Interior Work, as chairman of the Federal Oil Conservation Board, addressed a letter to a score or more of the leaders of the oil industry inviting them to furnish the board with constructive suggestions for the best use of the nation's reserve oil and gas resources.

In making public a copy of the letter sent to the oil industry Secretary Work explained that the board was desirous of obtaining the views of the practical-minded leaders of the industry in order that there might be the fullest co-operation between the industry and the board appointed by the President in arriving at a public understanding, if possible, of the present oil situation. The study of the petroleum industry, he added, has as its chief object the elimination of waste and the board, consisting of Secretary Weeks, Secretary Wilbur, Secretary Hoover and himself, feels that if greater efficiency and economy can be promoted in the industry the benefits will be equally enjoyed by the government and the industry.

The chairman asserted further that the oil industry itself could best furnish the government board with an authoritative view of the extent of the production of petroleum, the expense of the production and what, if any methods might be devised that would establish a more economic treatment of the whole problem which problem, he added, he understood already had been frequently under discussion by the representative leaders of the industry.

The government itself, Secretary Work pointed out, is no negligible factor in the current production of petroleum and the board would welcome suggestions that might be of benefit to the government in its opinion of Federal oil reserves.

The chairman further explained that the production of petroleum in the United States for the fiscal year 1923-24 was 742,109,000 barrels, and that the average price per barrel (estimated) was $1.30. The estimated production in the calendar year 1924 was 716,000,000 barrels, the first decline in production in the United States since 1906.

Oil production from public lands, exclusive of naval reserves and Indian lands, for the fiscal year 1924 amounted to 39,437,658 barrels the royalty oil on which amounted to 7,878,073 barrels.

On the naval petroleum reserves, the production was 12,605,519 barrels, and the royalty oil amounted to 2,863,999 barrels, while the value of such royalty was estimated at $14,726,517.03.

Oil produced on restricted Indian lands amounted to 49,640,468 barrels, for the fiscal year 1924, and the revenue received by the Indians was $28,145,517.

In this co-operative study of the oil situation, the chairman added, the industry through its vast experiences in the development of the oil industry was in an excellent position to point the way to better and more satisfactory methods of coping with a problem which means so much to the future welfare of the country.

Nationalista Tops Card in Harbor Bouts

Young Nationalista, Filipino flyweight, who caused so much excitement in local fight circles during the last year, is carded for the main event at the Chief Petty Officer's boxing show against Sailor Navarro at Los Angeles Harbor Thursday night. It will be an eight-round affair. Nationalista, one of the toughest punchers in his class, will go into the ring a top-heavy favorite over the sailor. The Filipino can hit hard with either hand and is fast and clever enough to provide plenty of chances to use them. Navarro is tough and can take punishment in big gobs. Whoever wins, it's certain that San Pedro bugs will see a fast fierce scrap.

Kayo Kelly, Los Angeles lightweight, features the six-round semi-wind-up with Kid Burmay in the opposite corner. Kelly has been a headliner at all the good fight clubs in Southern California for a long time, and always makes things interesting as long as he's conscious. Burmay is a harbor product and has a good record. Although less experienced and shifty, the latter is an aggressive fighter, who doesn't quit until the final bell.

Babe Harris and Max Compas, of Los Angeles and San Pedro, respectively, are carded for the special event in four rounds. With both men above the average in speed and ring craft, it would seem like a good bout. Harris packs a powerful punch, that may stop his opponent any moment. The rest of the card: Sailor Ostler vs. Sailor Mohler, 125 pounds; Sailor Mato vs. Young Ballamy, 112 pounds.

TARIFF BOARD CHANGE LIKELY

Developments Expected to Come Next Week

Marvin's Reappointment as Chairman Seen

Culbertson's Return Object of Speculation

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Developments in connection with the proposed reorganization of the Tariff Comission may come during the next week.

President Coolidge under the law must designate the chairman and vice-chairman of the commission annually. The date for such designation is January 15.

REAPPOINTMENT LIKELY

The expectation is that Thomas O. Marvin, who has served as chairman for the past two years, again will be named for that post. Reports have been in circulation that W. S. Culbertson, present vice-chairman, who has been at loggerheads with Chairman Marvin, would be eliminated by appointment to a diplomatic post. If such action is taken the logical time to do it would be this week.

Under the law not more than three of the six members of the commission may belong to one party. The present Republicans are Chairman Marvin, Vice-Chairman Culbertson and William Burgess. Marvin and Burgess are protectionists but Culbertson usually has lined up with the Democrats in support of proposals for reduction in duties. Appointment of a protectionist in place of Culbertson would give advocates of high duties at least an even break on the commission.

President Coolidge has failed to reappoint David S. Lewis, Democrat, whose term expired during the summer. It is understood that he will appoint a Democrat in his place who is less radical than Davis. Among those mentioned for the place are Senator Dial of South Carolina, who retires from office on March 4, and former Representative Whaley of the same State, now a member of the District Rent Commission.

OTHER MEMBERS

The other two members of the commission are H. H. Glassie, Democrat, appointed by the late President Harding, who has often times voted with Marvin and Burgess, and E. P. Costigan, a former Bull Moose party man who now classifies himself as an Independent and is regarded as a La Follette follower.

There are reports that President Coolidge also may announce his decision in the sugar case this week. Just why action in the case has been held up this long is a mystery.

HOLDS GIRL IN LIEU OF BOARD BILL

Act of Canadian Woman Threatens International Complications

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—The holding of 8-year-old Jewell Taylor, daughter of I. M. Taylor, Antioch barber, as security for a $185 board bill in Vancouver, B. C., has stirred up an international problem.

The United States Immigration Service, the Department of Labor and the British Consulate here have all been enlisted in an effort, so far unsuccessful, to get the child back to her father.

Jewell was taken to British Columbia by her mother, who was divorced from Taylor and given custody of the child. Early in 1923 Mrs. Taylor, who had meanwhile become Mrs. Joseph Dunn, wrote Taylor that she was dying of consumption and asked him to take their daughter. Taylor sent money for the ticket, but the child did not appear. Then both mother and daughter disappeared.

Taylor finally learned that the little girl was being cared for by a woman in Vancouver, B. C. He arranged with the Travelers' Aid Society to bring her to California. Today word was received from the society's Vancouver office that the woman refuses to give up the child until the board bill is paid.

Secretary Susan Gomez of the society has taken the matter up with the United States and Canadian authorities, declaring that it is unlawful to hold a human being for debt.

Dry Wave Sweeps Germany; Movement Seen Omen of Nation's Downfall

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—It is not prohibition, but it looks like it to all good drinkers in Germany. The country has beaten all its records of abstinence. During the year 1924, 60,000,000 Germans used only 25,000,000 gallons of alcohol, and much of this was used for industrial purposes, while the pre-war years frequently recorded a consumption of 100,000,000 gallons.

Alcohol statistics have been kept in Germany since 1828, when 30,000,000 Germans consumed 30,000,000 gallons yearly, and now 60,000,000 Germans consume only 25,000,000 gallons.

The Nationalist paper Deutsche Tageszeitung, seriously bewails the decrease in the consumption of alcohol and intimates that the decrease illustrates the downfall of the country.

JINX WRECKS KING TUT SKIT

Players Taking Part Have Bad Luck; Play Is Abandoned

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Tutenkh-amen's mother-in-law, Queen Nefritit, possesses the attributes of King Tut, it is concluded by a London vaudeville group, who were forced to abandon a skit in which that lady was rather humorously depicted. The players to take part suffered a series of personal mishaps, causing a repeated postponement in the Duke of York's Theater, until the management announced that the sketch was abandoned. Alfred Lester, cast for King Tut, was taken ill; and then Miss Gwen Farrar withdrew from the title role, declaring bad luck has followed her since she started rehearsals. The theater management, though regarding the sketch as good, became superstitious, disbanding the act.

ELECTORS IN CALIFORNIA VOTE TODAY

Thirteen Votes Will be Cast for Calvin Coolidge at Afternoon Session

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—With the California Legislature in recess and most of the law-makers present in the Assembly Chamber as spectators, the electoral college of this State will convene tomorrow at 2 o'clock in the afternoon to cast thirteen votes for Calvin Coolidge for President and Charles G. Dawes for Vice-President.

Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan will read the proclamation convoking the electors. This will be the fourth time that he has functioned at an electoral college, being one of four secretaries of a State of the United States, who participated in this ceremony in 1911, when electors chose Woodrow Wilson as President. The secretaries of the States of Florida, Virginia and Mississippi are the other three who have remained continuously in office since 1911, he stated today.

The California ballot will be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate through three channels, as provided by law, to assure its delivery. One copy goes by messenger who will be chosen from among the thirteen electors, by the electors; a second copy of the ballot will be deposited with the Postmaster of Sacramento, and a third is given to a resident justice of the Federal Court.

Naval Tender is to be Fitted for Research at Sea

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Plans for fitting out the Navy tender Rainbow to make scientific investigations at sea, recommended by the recent conference here on oceanography, were announced today by the Navy Department, Secretary Wilbur having already submitted estimates to the Budget Bureau for the necessary funds. The name, Maury U. S. Naval Oceanagraphic Research, suggested by the conference, has been approved and the first work undertaken will be in the Gulf of Mexico, to be followed by explorations in the North Pacific and North Atlantic.

The Rainbow has been ordered surveyed at the Philadelphia yard to determine her fitness for the work. Detailed plans for the research operations were worked out by an interdepartmental committee headed by Capt. E. B. Bassett, naval hydrographer.

MERCURY HAS EASY TIME WITH LOYOLA

Sweeping down the floor for tallies time after time, the Los Angeles Athletic Club casaba slingers ran roughshod over Loyola last night on the Club court, the final count being 32 to 15.

The Clubmen were in danger at no time, establishing themselves in the lead early in the game, topping their rivals by ten points at the half, and drawing still farther ahead in the second period. The Mercury five looked better than ever tonight, their passing being superb. Loyola fought hard, but was unable to cope with its heavier opponent. The line-ups:

Murphy is always a good name, but it dominated on the liner Calawaii the past week to an unusual extent. There were big Murphies, and little Murphies galore aboard the big ship, when she docked yesterday from Honolulu with 105 passengers and several thousand tons of island cargo.

Topping off the numerous descendants of old Erin was William K. Murphy, the daddy of them all; then Mrs. Murphy and seven little Murphies. In the same party were Mr. Murphy's sister, Mrs. Grace Kenney, and his niece, Miss Josephine Kenney of Milwaukee. Mr. Murphy is with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company at Los Angeles and hetook the family and relatives to the islands for a vacation a month ago.

Twenty members of the University of Colorado football squad also disembarked and took the Union Pacific train yesterday afternoon for Boulder, Colo. They have been two weeks on the islands, defeating the Navy eleven, 43 to 0, and losing to the University of Honolulu, 13 to 0. The mountaineers said the sunny island air was soothing for them; they couldn't keep their minds on the game.

Another yearly visitor is Laurence N. Merritt, his wife and their two sons. Mr. Merritt represents the British American Tobacco Company at Shanghai, and in Manchuria. China is becoming orderly again and business better, he said. Mr. Merritt complimented the ship's personnel as the finest on any liner he has ridden in his fifteen yearly trips back to the States.

The vessel was delayed a day by strong headwinds all the way, according to Capt. G. W. Mahoney. The Calawaii will sail next Saturday under Capt. A. A. Sawyer, Mahoney being expected to go as first officer with Capt. Hamma, now commanding the City of Los Angeles. Bookings for the Calawaii's next sailing already exceed 190 and indications are the vessel will have all accommodations taken.

On her initial voyage on the Pacific Coast-Gulf run the freight steamer Eastern Knight of the Columbia Pacific Steamship Company is due from New Orleans at daybreak today with 1500 tons of cast-iron pipe, 500 tons of sulphur and 500 tons of general cargo, regarded as a remarkably heavy cargo for a new service. The vessel is the first of several being placed on the run by Portland (Or.) line, according to F. B. Benjamin, dock agent for McCormick & McPherson, agents.

The round-the-world Japanese passenger and freight steamer Panama Maru of the Osaka Shoshen Kaisha Line arrived yesterday morning from New York with 900 tons of fertilizer and general cargo, and thirty passengers for here. She is taking on fifty passengers, mostly Japanese, and 1000 tons of paper and fish meal and will sail for the Orient today.

SWEET NEW MARINE EXCHANGE MANAGER

FORMER IMMIGRATNON MAN SUCCESSOR TO WOOD IN CHAMBER POST

The resignation of Howard J. Wood as marine editor and manager of the harbor offices of the Marine Exchange of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the appointment of George H. Sweet as successor was announced yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Sweet, who will take over the supervision of the lookout station, marine editorship and general supervision of the waterfront facilities of the Marine Exchange, until recently was an officer in the United States Immigration Service, both at this port and at San Diego. Prior to government service he had a wide experience in the newspaper field, including two complete trips around the world as a correspondent. His several years on the staff of the local immigration force has given him a wide field of acquaintance with the local waterfront and shipping fraternity.

Mr. Wood tendered his resignation, it is announced, in roder to return to newspaper work.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—Carrying some 3000 tons of general cargo and 141 passengers, the Panama Pacific liner Manchuria arrived here today from New York via Havana and the Panama Canal.

Two offshore steamships are scheduled for arrival here next Tuesday. They are the Matsonia of the Matson Navigation Company, from Honolulu, and the Pacific Mail liner President Pierce from Manila. The Matsonia is bringing a cargo of more than 5000 tons, including raw sugar and canned pineapple. One hundred passengers are making the trip from Honolulu.

The motorship Aorangi of the Union Steamship Company, said to be the largest and fastest craft of its kind, will arrive here the 24th inst., according to announcement today by the Matson Navigation Company, agents. The vessel will be thrown open for inspection to the public for a few hours before proceeding to Vancouver, B. C., on the 27th, it was stated. The Aorangi will be placed in the Northern Australian run.

TACOMA, Jan. 11.—Carrying fifteen tons of Cascara bark, 175,000 feet of spruce and general freight from Tacoma, the French steamer Biok sailed this morning for Antwerp and Hamburg via San Francisco.

To load 1,200,000 feet of lumber, the Robert Luckenbach arrived today from Boston. She will discharge general freight brought from the East Coast.

Bringing ore from South American ports, the Rotarian arrived at the smelter dock here this morning.

The Lake Francis, to load lumber for California ports, arrived this morning.

The Osiris, coming from Hamburg via Canal and California ports, to load lumber and general freight, is expected to dock tomorrow morning.

The Catsura Maru, from Muroran, is expected tomorrow morning to load lumber and general freight for the Orient.

The Alaskan arrived this morning with ore from Alaska.

The Sierra and Glymont are scheduled to arrive from San Francisco Monday.

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 11.—Bound for Yaquina Bay to take in tow the second big raft of spruce logs of the winter season for delivery at the Portland plant of the Multnomah Lumber and Box Company, the tug A. H. Douty, which left here yesterday, was due to arrive late today at Newport. The tug arrived here Friday afternoon with the first raft, said to contain 500,000 feet, and with a draft of eighteen feet. The next to arrive will contain 500,000 feet.

Scarcity of tonnage is connected with the continued upward tendency of freights for full-cargo lumber business to Japan, and it is said one Japanese steamer offered a few days ago was snapped up immediately, while previously there was only one in the market there were two or three companies bidding yesterday.

Freights were reported around $10.00 to $10.50, and the opinion is expressed that this week will witness a further advance to at least $11. In some quarters even higher levels are looked for. As to the lumber market itself, reports are that its activities are slowly expanding and it is hoped that the healthier tone in freights is the forerunner of increased buying.

SEATTLE, Jan. 11.—The tanker Sunbeam is expected here about the 25th inst. with 3000 tons of creosote from North European ports.

The Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Hawaii Maru is en route to Seattle with a heavy cargo, including a valuable shipment of silk, and will reach here the 18th, according to advices to local offices of the line. The Hawaii Maru and the Manila Maru are to be replaced in April by the new steamships Paris Maru and London Maru on the Puget Sound-Oriental service.

The steamship Atlantic of the Argonaut line will arrive here Wednesday with cargo from New York, Baltimore and other Atlantic ports.

On the 19th inst. the Robin Hood of the Argonaut Line will reach Seattle from the Atlantic and two days later the Steel Scientist.

Attempt to Rob Police, Charge Against Negro

Poor judgment or the effect of a blinding automobile headlight, probably the latter, landed W. Brown, 27 years of age, negro, of 1513½ Central avenue, in jail last night on a charge of attempted robbery.

According to Officers Towns and Curtis the suspect ran into the street at Compton avenue and Avenue Thirteen and tried to hold them up. When he saw they were policemen in uniform it was too late to escape, they said, and he surrendered. The police are inclined to think the headlights of their car blinded Brown temporarily and prevented him from seeing their uniforms.

MAID LAYS GUN THREAT TO DANCER

Evan Burrowes Fontaine is Sued for $2000 Damages by Negress

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Evan Burrowes Fontaine, the temperamental cabaret dancer, who recently lost her breach of promise action against young Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, will shortly appear in court again, this time as a defendant.

Charging that on New Year's Day Miss Fontaine struck her with a coat hanger and threatened her with a revolver when she persisted in demanding her wages as maid, Mrs. Jennie Harrison, young Harlem negress, brought suit in City Court today for $2000 damages.

According to the Harrison woman's version, she entered Miss Fontaine's boudoir on the 1st inst., in the early afternoon and woke up the dancer to inquire what she would like for breakfast.

The maid says she wished her mistress a happy new year, adding:

"And if you don't mind, Miss Evan, I sure would appreciate getting my three weeks' pay, together with 59 cents I laid out for you for newspapers."

The maid charges the dancer leapt from her bed and attacked her. As soon as she could escape, the maid hired a lawyer to bring suit.

Christine of the Hungry Heart

by Kathleen Norris

The story so far: After a few years of marriage Christine Knight, young, beautiful and rich, realizes that she is desperately unhappy. However, because she does not believe in divorce, she decides to make the best of her life with her adored little daughter Betty-Lou and her openly bored and neglectful husband Stuart. So she and Dr. Alan Monteagle, who have recently met, and found themselves in love with each other, decide not to see each other again. Then one day Stuart, driving with the woman whom gossip calls his mistress, runs into his mother's car and almost kills Christine. Alan Monteagle hurries to her side and by working night and day, pulls her back to life. She divorces her husband and marries Alan. But a few years find her jealous of the time her husband spends on his profession—especially on the Vianneys; young Ivan Vianney, wounded in the war, is one of his special interests.

Christine was playing her new part faithfully, earnestly, painfully. But a surprise, not wholly sweet, was that Alan liked it. He liked—he actually enjoyed, being a little ignored, being made sometimes secondary in her thoughts. He accepted the change thankfully, as if—Chris phrased it uncertainly—as if this way of living were a quite satisfactory and desirable end, in itself, rather than a means to a more glorious end.

Oh, well, she would muse, what mattered it how he interpreted her actions, as long as they were inevitably leading him toward the desired consummation? As long as he was so sure—so sure, some day, to suddenly awaken to the fact that he adored—idolized—his wife, in the old breathless way, needed her every instant? As long as he must presently return to that old ardent, thrilling, exacting mood—the mood of Washington, and of steamer days on the shining North Atlantic, and of Paris, the always rapturous and beloved?

So Chris was patient, and wise, and bided her time. She closed the country house, opened the town residence with more than her usual capability and concentration. Alan was lapped in luxury. He found himself free to rush to the hospital, after dinner, without reproach, free to go off on Saturday afternoons with his golf clubs.

Now and then they gave a dinner party, and upon these occasions Alan was always proud of his wife, and his children, and his home. Other men told him that Chris was beautiful, and there was deep satisfaction and pride in the fashion in which he would narrow his handsome eyes, as he looked at her, and nod, with a grave smile.

"They just seem to be crazy about each other!" the world would say, envious and admiring. And Alan always bore this out by his spontaneous praise of his wife, whenever occasion offered.

But Chris hungered in secret, and sometimes she felt that she would go mad under the strain of the prolonged farce. There was no room for her in his life.

Alan awakened every morning under strong protest, at quarter to eight.

"My gosh, is it that late?" he would ask. "How long you been awake?"

"Oh, I went in to look at the children, at seven," Chris usually responded. "But I dozed again!"

Alan would yawn, sigh, and rolling to his back shout loudly: "Betty Lou! Front and center!"

At this signal the children would burst in from the adjoining room. In winter they had their breakfasts in the nursery, at half past seven, but they would still be in wrappers and slippers, for baths and their airing came later in the morning.

They would climb upon Alan, touseling him, smothering him, slapping with all the violence of their small hands, and taking his random punishment all over their small bodies, in return. Through some fifteen minutes of this sort of thing, long ago christened "wuff-house," by Betty Lou, there were loud shrieks, and not infrequently tears and protests.

Christine meanwhile would slip into a loose robe and move from one bright bathroom to the other, starting Alan's shower as well as her own tub. When these were ready she dismissed the children, and telephoned downstairs for the breakfast tray, and by the time it came up, half an hour later, smoking, shining, odorous, with the newspapers and letters accompanying it, she and Alan were always ready.

At ten minutes to ten, after a delightful hour of sunlight or firelight, when news and mail and plans for the day were discussed, Alan kissed his wife, crammed a few letters into his pocket, hugged, strangled and squeezed Betty Lou, boxed for three hilarious minutes with his shouting, militant baby, and ran downstairs to his car.

Sometimes Chris did not see him again until dinner; indeed, that was the customary thing. He would lunch, tired, excited, interested, with a little group of his intimates and associates, at the University Club, have half an hour of leisure, in a big leather chair, over a cigarette, before the first of the afternoon appointments.

The courtesy, kindness, concern for everybody who came to him. The fearful mother, the frightened head of the family, the suffering the dying—these in the quiet of his big, luxurious office, were his company, hour after hour. The 5-o'clock, and "late rounds," which might mean two sick calls, and might mean twenty. If he could, he liked to slip into the Vianney's nondescript sitting-room at this time; sometimes—rarely—he got home before six, and Chris drew him eagerly into her beautiful drawing-room for tea.

More often he reached home exhausted, for a late half-past seven dinner, and went to bed at nine o'clock, with a heap of magazines, books, marked articles, to read. Even then the telephone was merciless; it interrupted their meals, it tore him from his warm bed in wintry nights, they were never free of it.

In the November of this particular year he operated once more upon Ivan, and Chrissie hated herself for feeling jealous. Jealous of Kate, with her affectionate anxiety for the foster son she really loved, jealous of Alan, who carried the responsibility so gravely and surely, jealous of the pain-racked, talkative, nervous Ivan, who so unenviably took the center of the stage for a few poignantly troubled days.

Alan met her and the children at a Christmas party, one afternoon and took them home. He came in handsome and ruddy, the women buzzed about him, and Chris felt proud and thrilled again. After all, she was his wife!

She loved the way he put them into the car; proprietary, proud, Jeffy, heavy with food and weariness and sleep, in her arms, Betty Lou cuddled in his. The world envied them, and the world might well!

But they were no sooner home than the stupid, heavy sense of something missing oppressed her again. Alan flung himself across his bed, and slept heavily. He said, waking at 7, heavy and dull, that he must have wrenched a tendon yesterday, on the fourth hole.

But he brightened during dinner, and interrupted her abruptly when she was talking about herbaceous borders, to ask her if Mitch had said anything about their Mexico scheme?

"Just a chance—" he went on, carving scrupulously, and with interest, as he always did. "Mitch wants to take a run in there—he's got some dope on it, says he could make us out an itinerary. I don't know—it would be a rough trip, just men, of course. I'd like it, if I could get away—whole thing wouldn't take ten days or two weeks!"

"When—when would this be, dear?" Chris asked, clearing her throat.

"Oh, late February. No trip for you, you know," he said suddenly, answering her thoughts. "It's going to be very rough. I wouldn't think of letting you try it—especially—" he paused. "No time to take chances!" he finished cheerfully.

Chris felt her face flame resentfully. She had been frankly appalled by the faint suspicion of approaching motherhood a few days earlier, and she had been cut to the very soul, upon imparting those suspicions to Alan, to have him say buoyantly:

"Good girl! I'm tickled to death!"

Now he was complacently anticipating a trip to wonderful Mexico while she, the independent, the lovely, the considered and adored, must stay at home with Jeffy and Betty Lou, with only this prospect of fresh responsibility, fresh chains to console her!

"I might just as well be anybody!" Chris told herself, sorely, in her soul. Alan was indeed in Mexico in February when a slip upon frozen iron in the street cost her a few days of sharp and frightening illness, and the new hopes and fears vanished together, and when Alan came home it was to a changed wife.

She recovered her color and her strength, but there was something that she did not recover; there was a reserve, a coolness, about her that was entirely new.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

NUMERO 13

por Heliodoro Dueñes

Tema: Galicismos en la Construcción, (Continúa).

"En circunstancias dadas". "dadas las actuales circunstancias", son frases incorrectas. La primera debe decir: "En circunstancias determinadas," y en la última: "En presencia de las circunstancias."

"Debes estar satisfecho," es un error; nunca debe omitirse la preposición "de" en casos en que exista cierta duda. "Debes de estar satisfecho:" así como debe decirse "Todos debemos morir", "el médico se debe a sus enfermos."

Comunmente vemos en los anuncios de espectáculos las palabras "debut, debutar", que no son castellanas sino francesas. Deben ser sustituidas por "estreno, estrenar."

"Decepción" es una palabra que frecuentemente encontramos aplicada en su significación francesa, que es "desengaño", mientras en castellano significa "engaño".

Con demasiada frecuencia leemos en los periódicos que el señor X, declinó la invitación que se le hizo para tal cosa, o que el funcionario H. declina toda responsabilidad sobre tal asunto. Declinar no tiene más acepciones en castellano que inclinarse, decaer o menguar en salud, bienes, etc., cambiar de naturaleza hasta tocar el extremo contrario, y el acto de la declinación gramatical, que es poner en sus casos las palabras declinables.

En castellano hay el verbo desilusionar; pero el sustantivo "desilusión" no existe. Debe decirse "desengaño".

Desmoralizarse, desmoralizado, son vocablos que con muchísima frecuencia son aplicados, aun por autores de cierta notoriedad, en el sentido de "desanimarse", siendo que en castellano significa corromper las costumbres con malos ejemplos o doctrinas perniciosas. Estar desmoralizado, por lo tanto, es confesar que se es "inmoral".

"Tiempos difíciles" es un error muy vulgar; aun hay una novela de Dickens cuya traducción al español ostenta dicho título. Difícil no puede aplicarse como equivalente de aciago.

Muy a menudo oímos decir o leemos en los periódicos que cierto militar fué llamado por el Ministerio de la Guerra y que ha quedado en disponibilidad. Que el artista Fulano ha terminado su contrata y está en disponibilidad. Disponibilidad, sin ser palabra incluida en el Diccionario Castellano acostumbra usarse, como un tecnicismo financiero, que se refiere (siempre en plural) a las existencias de dinero en Caja o a los créditos activos.

NUMERO 14

La palabra "enajenar", que en castellano significa pasar a otro el dominio de una cosa, o bien sacar a uno fuera de sí; privarle del uso de la razón o de los sentidos está mal aplicada cuando se dice: "con su mala conducta se enajenó los ánimos de sus amigos".

Son galicadas y deben evitarse frases en que el verbo "encontrar" se usa de manera distinta que con alguna de las acepciones que tiene en castellano; como muestra de galicismos muy usuales; mencionaré las frases siguientes: "¿Cómo se encuentra Ud.?" (cómo está, cómo se siente?) "Fuí a encontrar a Ud." (a verle) "encuentro justa esta medida" (me parece).

Muchos autores han dado en llamar "espíritu fuerte" al incrédulo; la razón es que traducen del francés el vocablo, sin buscarle su equivalente castellano.

En vez de "excentricidad", que no puede usarse en castellano en este caso, debe decirse "extravagancia".

Los periódicos nos dan muy a menudo la noticia de que una bomba "explotó" debiendo ser que "hizo explosión" pues el verbo explotar no es equivalente de hacer explosión, de reventar o de estallar.

"Las finanzas de Fulano están en malas condiciones" Es un error. Debe decirse "los negocios"; "la hacienda". Finanza, en castellano, solo tiene dos acepciones, ambas anticuadas: fianza y rescate.

Se dice que "el formato" de un periódico es bueno o es malo. Formato, no es palabra castellana.

Los lectores habrán oído alabar a un estudiante diciendo: "está muy fuerte en matemáticas" y en otro caso: "en lo más fuerte del combate . . ." El adjetivo fuerte" no es aplicable en estos casos. En el primero debe decirse "sabe mucho" o "es muy competente, apto, ducho" y otros muchos equivalentes que podrán encontrarse en nuestro rico idioma, sin necesidad de pedir prestado a otros.

Las palabras "fuete y fuetazo" que con tánta frecuencia oímos o leemos, no son castellanas; "látigo y latigazo son las que equivalen a las primeras.

"Un torero que hace furor"; "una tiple que está haciendo furor" son grandes disparates. En esos casos debe decirse "que está en boga o de moda o que entusiasma" y no incurrir en el error de decir algo completamente diverso de lo que se quiere expresar, por buscar términos que describan con exageración un sentimiento.

No terminaré sin recordar el manoseado "gesto" que tan en boga está hoy entre los autores modernos. "Tuvo un gesto generoso y obsequió una fuerte cantidad para la beneficencia". Gesto, en casos semejantes; expresa mueca y es poco elegante esa manera de expresar un rasgo noble.

GIRL GIVEN BUILDING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OMAHA, Jan. 11.—George W. Platner of Platner Brothers, lumber men, in announcing the purchase for $175,000 of the building occupied by the Douglas-street garage at Nineteenth and Douglas streets, and its gift to his daughter, Josephine, 22 years of age, declared his belief a man should not accumulate a lot of money and property and hold it for himself alone until he dies.

What is Intestinal Stasis?

Intestinal stasis (delay) is the greatest scourge that afflicts modern civilization. It is the ruthless wrecker, claiming more victims than any plague. It weakens tissues. It floods the system with poisons. It destroys beauty. It makes the young old. Nine out of ten unconsciously suffer from it—and blame other things.

The symptoms of intestinal stasis are many. These are clearly set forth in an illuminating free booklet—"Why We Should Bathe Internally"—procurable today at the druggist's whose name appears below. Stop in and get it. It also describes precisely the most effective method of combating Intestinal Stasis—the internal bath with the J. B. L. Cascade. It shows how thousands have regained health after this insidious ailment had given them nothing but misery for years. Don't fail to get your free copy—today.

CONVENTION OF DYERS TO OPEN TODAY

General Manager Asserts Men of Los Angeles Best Dressed in Nation

Los Angeles has the best-dressed men in the country, according to Ivan M. Tull, general manager of the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners, whose eighteenth annual convention opens in Los Angeles today.

And during the week of the convention there will be no excuse why all men shall not be spick and span in appearance even though their clothes may be just a bit worn.

As a feature of the convention allied trades exhibit, clothes will be pressed free. There has been established in the exhibit hall at the Alexandria what is known as the Valetorium and anybody and everybody may have valet service absolutely without cost.

All of which means that Los Angeles men for this week at least, will be more immaculate than ever, which will be going some, according to General Manager Tull.

In addition to the Valetorium there are about sixty other exhibits in the allied trades show. This exhibit is for the purpose of acquainting the delegates who come from all sections of the United States with the latest in cleaning and dyeing machinery, equipment and supplies.

STATE TO OPEN RUM-RING QUIZ

Turner's Death May Involve Highway Officials

Marsh Hints Shake-up Near; Rutter Here Today

Police Seek "Gene," Mystery Woman in Case

Sweeping investigation into the activities of State highway officials was promised here and in San Francisco yesterday following the discovery of documents purporting to give George Turner, the murdered "King of the Bootleggers," special consideration to enable him to better transact his illegal business.

The announcements of the forthcoming investigations and the information that the Federal authorities in Los Angeles have uncovered evidence tending to show that Turner was murdered as the result of a conspiracy to get him out of the way, were the two outstanding developments in the case yesterday.

The murder conspiracy angle came to light when it was learned that Federal Agent Walter Grant, working under special instructions from San Francisco, has been given the names of several witnesses whose stories, if obtained, are expected to show that Turner was killed because more than $20,000 in cash advanced by him to finance a huge liquor-smuggling operation was due him and was demanded by him from his associates. The names are known of two men who participated in heated arguments with Turner in his Los Angeles apartment, at 322 South Witmer street, the day of the murder. Their arrest is expected soon.

STATE QUIZ LOOMS

Threats of the investigation of the State highway officials were made in San Francisco and Los Angeles by Will H. Marsh, chief of the State Motor Vehicle Department, and General Manager Brown of the Los Angeles office. The publication in The Times yesterday morning of the letter found in Turner's possession at the time his body was discovered brought the statements from the State officials that the conduct of their subordinates will be made a subject of immediate inquiry.

The letter was addressed to Turner and asked all State traffic officers to extend all possible courtesies to Turner. It was signed "F. T. Zimmerman, inspector."

Last night, in San Francisco, Mr. Marsh said that Zimmerman is the State highway inspector for San Bernardino, Orange, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties.

"If he wrote that note and was connected with any illegal transactions he will be dismissed at once," the department chief added.

"Zimmerman was suspended from duty two months ago for being drunk, but was later restored."

SHAKEUP IMPENDS

The revelations brought about by discovery of the Zimmerman note may cause a shake-up of State highway officials in the southern districts, Marsh said.

SALOME FROG GIVES CITY O-O

Too Much of It His Only Criticism

Arizona Humorist at Work

Dick Wick Hall writing his impression of Los Angeles.

[Dick Wick Hall, Arizona Humorist and editor of the unique Salome Sun, whose whimsical comments upon life as he observes it from his desert home are extensively published, was a visitor at The Times' office yesterday and wrote the following account of his impressions gained from his visit to Los Angeles.—Ed.]

BY DICK WICK HALL

LOS ANGELES is ALL RIGHT—but there is TOO DAMN MUCH OF IT. When me and MY FROG get here amongst all these people we feel like a sick Jack Rabbit amongst a bunch of hungry Coyotes. A Swarm of Bees don't look like nothing—but if you can get hold of the tail of One Bee he sure can give you a Kick. That's the way I felt about Los Angeles and New York and Pittsburg and all these other Big Towns. They are the most Lonesome Places on Earth for a Regular He-man who don't know Nobody. Salome don't look like Much—in fact, lots of folks go right through There and never know it—but when I am in Salome I can do as I please.

I got into Los Angeles this Morning and I hadn't been here Fifteen Minutes until a great big Policeman looked at my Hat and asked me if I owned the Owens River Canal and I said, "My God, no!" I said all I want is Something to Eat—some Liver and Bacon or some Ham and Eggs. I come from Salome, Arizona, and I wish to God I was back there where I could do as I Pleased.

Some Long, Lean, Long-handled Bird about six axe-handles Tall and a Knife-blade wide between the Eyes come over to Salome the other day, (I think he must be crazy) and stuck a sign up about Three Miles east of Salome and it says: "Los Angeles City Limits 1930." I think he must be Working for Bill Garland.

The next day another Lean, Long, Lanky bird about seven axe handles Tall ('n he was about half a knife blade long between the eyes —a la Texas) he come up and Stuck a Sign up about Three Miles west of Salome and says "City limits of Phoenix 1930."

I don't know Where I am at. Maybe I am in Los Angeles and maybe I am in Phoenix. There are both Pretty good Towns anyway. They are like Salome. All they need is more folks and more Money—God only knows what Money is because I ain't seen none for a long time and I don't need none because my Credit is good, and Old Man Jones gives me all the Beans and Bacon and Black Coffee I need and what More can any Man ask. I kind of wish I had some Sardines or some Oysters or some Shrimp or some Lobster or something WET like that and the first time I can sell some Mining Stock or a Thousands Acres of Land I am going to buy me a Can Opener and buy me some of this SEA FOOD that I hear all of these folks talking about and see what it Tastes like.

Well, if I get out of this Place alive and don't get Run Over by no Automobile I sure will be glad to get back to Salome, Arizona, where she danced. A lot of these folks in Los Angeles will be a Doggoned Sight better off it seems to me, if they was Rasin some Spuds and Cabbages out in the Back Yard and getting a little closer to Nature instead of Spending so much Time trying to make some Money and then Working spending it trying to have a Good Time and not gettin' Nowhere. At the end of the year they ain't got Nothin'—neither have I but I don't Work half so Hard and I have a good time Doing Nothing—and I have a pretty good time, too—doing nothin'—and I have a good time too—ME AND MY FROG.

Yours until the frog learns to swim,
DICK WICK HALL.

P.S.—Neither can I—swim.

POLICE TAG FOUND ON STILL

Card on Seized Moonshine Equipment Indicates Pipe Was Evidence in Liquor Case; Inquiry to Follow

How a length of copper pipe with a police-evidence tag attached came to 7806 Maie street, Nadeau, where it was seized by county detectives on a liquor raid, will be the subject of an investigation, it was announced yesterday by George Contreras, head of the District Attorney's prohibition squad.

Contreras reported that his men found a 500-gallon still, a smaller still, labels of well-known Scotch whiskies and several hundred gallons of moonshine. Sidney Miller, declared to have been on the premises, was arrested and bail set at $3000. Mrs. Margaret Hutchings, 7746 Maie street, was arrested for asserted possession of liquor, bail being placed at $1000.

The tag, said Contreras, was attached to a pipe presumably a part of a disassembled still. It appeared to read: "July 7, 1924, arrested by Beehia, 325, et al., address, 1329 Biggy street. Evidence." Search of the police blotter last night showed that Nick Nicassno was sentenced to eighty days in jail or to a fine of $1500.

Sergt. W. A. Girard of Hollenbeck division lives next door to the raided house and is the owner of the property, according to Contreras. The sergeant could not be found for a statement last night.

Three large concrete vats, buried underground, were connected with the large still, the officers said. A new feature in stills was a dishpanful of agate marbles of all sizes, which the officers shook out of the condenser. Much of the whisky seized was in five-gallon cans, wrapped and apparently ready for delivery.

HOUSES TO BE AUCTIONED

Exceptional bargains in houses, both large and small, are to be offered at a house auction to be conducted Wednesday by the Board of Education. The houses will sell for prices ranging from $25 to $1000. There are seventeen of them. They are on property bought by the board for school sites.

HIGH SCHOOL BOOTLEGGER RING HUNTED

Student is Arrested for Having Bottle of Liquor in His Possession

A special squad of officers has assigned to arrest high school bootleggers, Capt. McClary of the crime prevention bureau said yesterday following the announcement that William George Allison, 16 years of age, of 166 North Avenue 66, had been arrested with liquor in his possession. He is a student at Lincoln High School and was held for the juvenile court.

He was arrested by Detectives Thompson and Bradley of the Eagle Rock Division, who said they had received information that a Lincoln High School student was to deliver liquor at a certain time and place and receive money for it. Allison did not deliver or sell any liquor, the detectives said, and denied any knowledge of or connection with bootlegegrs. He said the liquor, which was said to be reinforced wine of whisky potency, had been left over from a "party" he attended and he intended presenting it to another boy who had asked for it.

Allison will be questioned farther today, it was said, in an effort to learn the source of the liquor. Capt. McClary said he believes a bootleggers' ring is making use of high-school youths as peddlers of their wares.

SUICIDE IS POINTED IN GAS DEATH

Washington Farmer Found With Tube Connected to Heater in His Mouth

A victim of gas fumes but, police say, by his own choice was Frank Barnes, 50 years of age, said to be a well-to-do farmer of the Columbia River district in Washington. His body with a tube connected to a gas heater in his mouth and with bed clothes tightly pulled about his body was found yesterday in his room at 560 North Hill street.

The detectives entered the room through a transom after the landlady, Mrs. M. Dale, complained of smelling gas.

Among the man's effects the police found papers showing he owned eighty acres of farm land on the Columbia River in Washington. The body was taken to the Wilshire Undertaking rooms.

ORIENTAL THESPIANS FLEE FIRE

Leading Lady of Chinese Company Discovers Blaze in Court Street

Members of a Chinese theatrical troupe living in a rooming-house at 118 Court street were routed from their rooms yesterday by a fire that partly destroyed the building, causing damage estimated at $3000. The fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered by the leading woman, Miss Yin Quai Hin. The players escaped in scanty attire but lost most of their wardrobes.

The salvage squad of the fire department prevented damage by water to the dry-goods stock of the International Exchange, 152 North Spring street, on the first floor of the same building, by spreading covering over the merchandise.

"DR." STEELE IS FOUND ABROAD

Woman "Beauty Surgeon" is Reported in Germany

Fled City Following Death of Patient Here

Extradition Will be Asked by Local Officers

"Dr." Gertrude Steele, naturopath and "beauty specialist," who performed operations in plastic surgery aided by prayer till she fled from Los Angeles following the death of a patient, has been located in Oberhausen, Germany, according to Detective Lieutenants Finn and Thompson. Her extradition to face a manslaughter charge will be asked, Asst. Capt. Bean of the police homicide squad, said.

"Dr." Steele was indicted in October, charged with causing the death of Mrs. Christina Leslie of 1251 Westmoreland Place by a facial operation which she had no right to perform, not being licensed to practice surgery. After her disappearance it was discovered that scores of her former patients had suffered disfigurement as a result of her lack of skill and that many had had to be operated upon.

Dr Gertrude Steele

FACE LIFTED

Mrs. Leslie, 67 years of age, had her face "lifted" in "Dr." Steele's beauty institute at 1369 Winfield street. Infection followed. She was treated by "Dr." Steele, but got steadily worse and finally was removed to St. Vincent's Hospital, where she died of blood poisoning.

This was not the first case in which "Dr." Steele was charged with causing a patient's death. Three years ago George Blaha, her son-in-law, died of chloroform poisoning during a facial operation. She was charged with murder, but the case was dismissed on the ground that her license as a naturopath did not define what she was permitted to do. Subsequently the Supreme Court held that naturopaths are not permitted to give medical or surgical treatment.

DAUGHTER WITNESS

Mrs. Gertrude Solomon, Blaha's widow and daughter of "Dr." Steele, assisted her mother in the operation on Mrs. Leslie and was one of the witnesses before the grand jury.

While police were searching for "Dr." Steele, suit was filed against her for $50,000 damages by Mrs. Katie McPherson of Los Angeles and San Diego, who said she had been permanently disfigured by an operation performed on her nose by the beauty doctor. Pauline Hall, a motion-picture actress, obtained a judgment of $2500 against her for an asserted mutilation.

"Dr." Steele was last seen here, boarding a motor stage for San Francisco.

MATE IS HERO OF TANKER

Dragged Two Overcome Out of Gas-filled Chamber; Sailors Die, Rescuer is Revived

The heroism of Kosti Taviola, chief mate of the Cities Service tanker Watertown, was the principal subject of discussion along the Los Angeles waterfront yesterday when the Watertown arrived from Boston, her flag at half mast. Taviola's exploit consisted in thrice venturing into a gas-filled compartment which could be reached only through a tube forty feet long and twenty inches in diameter, to bring out Michael Meehan, machinist, and James Courtney, seaman, who were overcome.

His work was in vain, as Meehan and Courtney could not be revived. They were buried at sea the 7th inst., off Manzanillo. The two men had gone into the forward port cofferdam to make changes in a discharge pipe line. Taviola heard Courtney call out there was gas in the compartment, but got no response to hails, and descended himself. He found Meehan had been overcome and had fallen twenty feet from the top of the tank, and that Courtney had dropped near the entrance to the tank.

One at a time he dragged the two men out, falling unconscious himself as he got them to the deck. It took half an hour to revive the mate. The men were overcome on the 6th inst.

Five years before, to a day, according to the ship's records, a man met death in the same tank in the same manner.

STATE SOCIETY TO MEET

The Washington State Society will have a reunion Thursday evening at Disabled Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street. There will be a program and dancing.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

OUR Leviathan of the air—the Zeppelin Los Angeles—was diverted from its course yesterday so a new papa, on board, could wave down to a new mama convalescing in a hospital.

We all knew, sooner or later, that this giant airship would prove to be good for something. It will be just great for entertaining mamas of new babies. But I can't see that it will be good for anything else.

The day the big Zep flew over The Times Building I saw a sight that spelled the doom of that pale fish of the air. All around it flew airplanes in swarms—like gnats around a horse's head. Suppose they had been dropping bombs on it!

In a war that old gas bag wouldn't last long enough to entertain even one mama of one new baby.

THE MASSACRE OF TREES

With a sigh of regret, we should read the interesting historical notes of Mr. Brininstool on Los Angeles as it was in 1875. In those days, the city planners had brains enough to plant trees.

One of his paragraphs tells of a great arch of pepper trees where Third street runs from Spring street to Fort street (now Broadway.)

Except for the inconceivable stupidity of a long succession of blind and dumb city governments, this would now be a city of broad boulevards lined with beautiful trees—of beautiful vistas and charming park places. But especially of trees.

The real estaters snort with derision; and say that Los Angeles is too big to have business streets with trees. But Berlin—about four times the size—has a solid mile of magnificent linden trees growing right down the middle of its main street.

The worst of it is that the real estaters seem to have gained nothing in wisdom with the years. A horrible massacre of trees is going on right now in this city. Every time I go to Hollywood I ride eight blocks out of the way to avoid seeing the murdered trees of Melrose avenue lying there, shattered and torn.

CHILDREN ON FARMS

The Sacramento legislators who solemnly propose to except children who work on farms from the provisions of the child labor law apparently haven't read recent sociological statistics.

The effect of farm drudgery on children is so terrible that their lives are frequently shortened. This "wholesome outdoor work"—as the legislators call it—is wholesome only for those who like it.

There is some kind of work that every child—from the ages of 6 to 60—likes to do. And they should do it. I believe that it is literal, mental, moral and physical poison to keep on doing, for any protracted period of time, anything you don't like.

A child who likes to work at a sewing machine in a foul cellar and hates to milk the cows in the pure air of a farm would get less harm out of the sewing machine.

Having fresh air in your cosmic consciousness is more important than fresh air in your bellows.

PURE AIR—WELL

There's a good deal of bunk about pure air anyhow. Some years ago scientists made a comparative test of air bottled in the arctic regions, hundreds of miles from the nearest habitation and air taken at Forty-second and Broadway in New York City. There was very little difference when they came to analyze it.

YOUNG PLAYERS IN KHJ PROGRAM

Cornetist, Pianist, Flutist and Violinist Please

Russian Operatic Tenor Has Remarkable Voice

Luboviski's Numbers Marked by Style and Verve

BY CLAIRE FORBES CRANE

It takes a company with vision, idealism and the courage and their convictions to step from the beaten track of their predecessors and blaze new trails into the wilderness of minds artistically untutored until the indifference to art gradually disappears and is replaced by a zeal that carries them to a realization of new-born ambitions.

We of Los Angeles are fortunate enough to have in our midst such a pioneer in the Martin Music Company. It has been said many times that an organization reflects its head, and no more forceable example of this truth can be presented than this particular company of which John D. Martin is president. With the co-operation of J. Howard Johnson, who is his program arranger, Mr. Martin has played host to Radioland for over half a year, each program surpassing the other, each concert adding another stone to the foundation upon which have been reared some of the loftiest ideals known to radio broadcasting.

YOUNG MUSICIANS

With last night's program was laid the keystone for this temple of music, an edifice erected to show the entire world that the American realizes that the future traditions of our country depend upon the encouragement and stimulation given to the younger members of each community. And as their contribution to this great need the Martin Music Company last night for the first time in the history of KHJ sponsored an hour's program from 8 to 9 of four gifted children of the city, ranging from 13 to 17 years of age, primarily to inspire budding young musicians to greater efforts and reveal to them the inevitable result of concentration, application and loyalty to their respective instruments.

We might say without exaggeration that the young people who comprised list night's program were far beyond the average talent. They were Walter Kuns, 13 years of age, cornet pupil of Bert Teazle; Celia Lewis, 15, pianist, pupil of Will Galloway; Harold Lewis, 13, flute, pupil of Miss Jones, and Howard Griffon, 17, violinist, pupil of Calmon Luboviski. It is fitting to mention the names of the teachers of these pupils because of the effort and attention expended upon these children to bring them to such t state of efficiency.

Celia Lewis played the first movement of the Grieg Sonata and Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso." Time was when every famous pianist placed this latter piece on their programs. Last night this young girl, who some day may be a second Carreno, revived its traditions and revealed a true Mendelssohn soul with her ability to sing a melodic phrase, and at the same time employ her dextrous fingers to spin the web of gossamer technique which was a characteristic of the composer's style.

It seems almost unfair that there should be so much talent given to one family, but Celia Lewis's brother, Harold, showed apparently as much genius for the flute as she did for the piano. It is exceptionally difficult for a 13-year-old child to acquire a firm embouchure for a wind instrument, but Master Harold produced a tone that did not break nor tremble, and his instinctive penchant for color asserted itself throughout his entire performance.

YOUNG VIOLINIST

Numerous requirements enter into the creation of a successful violinist, but the thing that children seldom have is a teacher with an exquisite tone by which to train their mind and ear. The quality displayed by Howard Griffin, 17, violinist, bore the unmistakeable stamp of his teacher, Calmon Luboviski, whose tone is of the same quality as his famous confrere, Fritz Kreisler.

Walter Kuns was discovered in our first Saturday morning broadcasting class and since that time has created a sensation in Radioland. Only 13 years of age, his playing over the air cannot be distinguished from the interpretations of a mature artist. His tones are never overbrilliant, he maintains a perfect legato through each number, his phrasing is excellent and his exhibition of triple-tongueing last night was amazing.

After this delightful and ofttimes breath-taking hour devoted to the children, the Martin Music Company entertained the grown-ups with several of their favorite artists such as Calmon Luboviski, violinist; Ruth Pitts, soprano; William E. Hullinger, flute, and John Martin at the Gulbransen registering piano.

Usually this god-mother brings some special gift to surprise us, and last night we were not disappointed. The Martin Music Company had the honor of presenting the most perfect broadcasting tenor voice it has been our privilege to hear. This artist was Eugene Petrovsky, an operatic tenor who comes to us from Russia. Mr. Petrovsky gave a group of Russian songs, each of which was a never-to-be-forgotten memory. His voice, which is a full dramatic tenor of the Caruso type, was a vindication of KHJ's policy of broadcasting. As Uncle John says to you daily, only a great artist who can sing a perfect pianissimo throughout his entire range can attain lasting fame in the great world of radio. Mr. Petrovsky sang such gems as Lenska's aria from Tschaikowsky's opera, "Eugen Oniegin," with such exquisite soft tone that it sounded like a single thread which he had chosen at random from the golden tapestry of his art. Songs by Gretchaninoff, Gliere and others followed each other in all too rapid succession, and from now on we hope to have Mr. Petrovsky with us frequently. Los Angeles has long waited for a tenor with such flawless voice placeme and as Mr. Petrovsky was a successful teacher in Petrograd we know he will find many pupils here which will make our city home to him.

Some one else besides myself must write a review of Calmon Luboviski's playing as I always feel that my words are inadequate to express the impression made by his art. Last night he gave a group of numbers with the same style and verve which are common birthright of the great violinists of the world. His rendition of the Pagnani-Kreisler "Preludium and Allegro" is an epic built of tone, and his mastery of its intricacies is unique among the many performances I have heard.

TRIUMPH OF BROADCASTING

The soprano voice of Ruth Pitts is another triumph of broadcasting. Perhaps many of her family would be surprised at the power and volume which it assumes in an auditorium, but she controls it in the studio with the skill born of careful study. Accompanied by that king among accompanists, John D. Martin, at the Gulbransen registering piano, she sang songs ranging from the liquid notes of Bishop's "Lo, Hear the Gentle Lark," to Campbell-Tipton's "Spirit Flower." I wonder how many people sent Ruth Pitts such loving grateful thoughts as I did for her exquisite yet subtle interpretation of Chaminade's "The Silver Ring."

William Hullinger, with whom familiarity breeds respect, is gifted with a pleasant personality that has become an integral part of his performances; this, combined with excellent musicianship and a constant striving to increase his repertoire, which he keeps abreast of the times, makes Mr. Hullinger an addition to any program.

In addition to his splendid accompaniments, John Martin contributed with equal artistry several solos on the Gulbransen registering piano. Upon the occasion of his next appearance we hope to acquaint Radioland with several and interesting mechanical features of his instrument.

RANGER BOYS HAVE ANNUAL GATHERING

PLAN FOR 1925 ACTIVITIES AND MEMBERSHIP'S GAIN TOLD AT BANQUET

The Western Rangers, a boys' organization, held its annual business meeting and banquet at the new City Club Saturday evening. E. R. Bohan, president of the organization, presided.

Chief Ranger Harry James made his annual report, showing about 2200 boys as active members of the organization divided among thirty councils in and near Los Angeles. The organization has gained over 600 active members during the last year and plans are being made to increase its activities in 1925.

The speaker of the evening, W. H. Holland, county probation officer and head of the Juvenile Court of Los Angeles county, stated that he had never had a single Western Ranger boy come to his attention.

TRAFFIC IS HELD UP BY DOWNTOWN ROOF FIRE

A chimney fire on the roof of the Douglas Building, 257 South Spring street, shortly before 6 o'clock last night, caused a spectacular blaze in the downtown district. The fire, although it caused little damage, was a stubborn one to subdue, and traffic was halted on Spring street for half an hour while firemen drew several lines of hose to the top of the building. Slight damage from water was caused to studios and offices in the upper floors of the building.

SAYS DE MILLE TO JOIN UNITED

ings of Paramount stock at one time, but a year ago rumors were about that he was gradually disposing of them.

Another friend of De Mille's declared yesterday: "The break certainly left no hard feelings between De Mille, Lasky and Zukor. It was merely a business disagreement and the relations between the principals will remain friendly."

Lew Goodstadt, business manager for De Mille, is uncommunicative: "I only know what came from New York in the official announcement of the break," he said. "As for Mr. De Mille's future activities I know he has certain plans, but I don't know the details of them and really am as much in the dark as anybody else."

At the Lasky Studio, officials declare they have only the New York announcement.

If De Mille aligns himself with the United Artists, the combine will present one of the strongest fronts in the motion-picture industry. Already this organization includes Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, D. W. Griffith, Joseph Schenck with his two stars, Norma and Constance Talmadge, and Charles Chaplin.

In reference to the probability of De Mille's going with United Artists, Fairbanks declared: "Negotiations are under way. I can't say yes or no yet, but I think Mr. De Mille could look a long way before he would find as good an affiliation as we offer."

STATE TO OPEN RUM-RING QUIZ

trouble with inspectors and traffic officers accused of mixing with rum-runners," Marsh continued. "There is now one inspector serving from one to ten years in prison for having, within two months, accepted $1100 in protection money from a run-runner.

"Another official in San Diego county has been arrested on a similar charge and his case is pending. A third man in Imperial county is under investigation."

If Mr. Zimmerman wrote such a note he exceeded his authority and will be accountable for it, Mr. Brown said here last night.

The disclosure of the fact the Federal authorities are working in Los Angeles on the Turner case came after Agent Grant held a long conference with Acting Captain Davis of the vice division of the Los Angeles police. It was Davis and his men who located the slain man's apartment here.

RUTTER HERE TODAY

Agent Grant refused to discuss the details of the case pending the arrival here today of Samuel F. Rutter, prohibition director for California. It is known, however, that Grant had been given considerable information and that several men are to be questioned.

"I am also anxious to learn the names of the several women known to have been close to Turner while he operated in Los Angeles," Mr. Grant said. "These women," Grant continued, "knew of some of the ramifications of the booze ring in Los Angeles."

A photograph of a woman whose name is known to the authorities only as "Gene," is in the possession of Grant and every effort to learn her identity will be made today, Mr. Grant said. This photograph was in Turner's apartment in Los Angeles. The picture was framed so as to cover up some writing on the edge. This writing, it was disclosed, was in ink invisible under ordinary circumstances. Only under strong light did the name "Gene" come into view, when Mr. Grant examined the picture, it was learned.

BANKER TO ADDRESS CLUB

At today's luncheon of the Los Angeles Co-operative Club at the Biltmore, J. R. Douglas of the Security Trust and Savings Bank will speak on the "Business Outlook for 1925." Larry Gray will furnish the entertainment feature of the day.

NEBRASKANS TO MEET

The monthly reunion of the Nebraska Society will take place at Music Arts Hall, 233 South Broadway, Wednesday evening. Dancing will follow the program. A special invitation is extended to Nebraska tourists.

[illegible]STOR DECLARES WORLD DANCES ON OWN COFFIN

[illegible]. Palmer in Radio Sermon From "The Times" Station Pleads for Revival of Family Religion

"The world is dancing on its own coffin," declared Rev. [illegible] Palmer, pastor of the South Park Baptist Church, in [illegible] preached yesterday from The Times broadcasting [illegible] in which he called attention to juvenile crimes, [illegible] the blame on "parental delinquency" and pleaded for a [illegible] of "the only religion that can save the individual, the [illegible] and the nation." Preaching on "Rebuilding the Altars," [illegible] Palmer spoke in part as follows:

"The year 1924 has become history. [illegible] a year of accomplishment and achievement, but with [illegible] educational advancement, [illegible] industrial, commercial and political progress, its [illegible] triumphs and material [illegible], a sickening shadow has [illegible] story. A somber light [illegible] across its page. The [illegible] of 1924 became murky [illegible], lawlessness and [illegible] of passion. Incompatibility and infidelity swept thousands of homes to ruin. Divorce [illegible], leaving thousands of [illegible] sufferers. With the storms [illegible] a tidal wave of juvenile [illegible].

[illegible] NEED

[illegible] in need. Christendom [illegible]. And the supreme need [illegible] is a revival—a revival of [illegible] religion; a religion that shall make [illegible] women honest—honest [illegible] honest with themselves, [illegible] and their fellowmen. We need a revival that shall [illegible] individuals, transform [illegible] society on a loftier plane and remake the world; [illegible] that shall permeate our [illegible] institutions with the [illegible] of Christ; that shall [illegible] the business world, purify [illegible] of politics, banish in[illegible] and sanctify government; a [illegible] that shall purge the church [illegible] and narrow sectarianism, awaken it from its lethargy [illegible] it with a holy zeal for [illegible]. We need a revival [illegible] abolish class hatreds and [illegible], annihilate bigotry [illegible] and fill the world [illegible] of God and the spirit [illegible]. If we hope for a [illegible], if we want the revival [illegible], we must rebuild the [illegible] that are broken down.

[illegible] IN GOD

[illegible] in God stabilizes government, makes permanent the [illegible] righteousness and guarantees the ultimate overthrow of evil. '[illegible] We Trust' must be more [illegible] motto on our coins. It [illegible] is a vital impulse to world [illegible], a living motive to Christian civilization.

[illegible] is a warning of godlessness. They have not only driven [illegible] of their counsels and calculations, but they have mocked [illegible] to His face. It matters not [illegible] it be men or nations that [illegible] God, history records their [illegible].

[illegible] government has its foundation [illegible] the rock of the Christian [illegible]. Our pioneers and leaders [illegible] their faith, their [illegible] their lives on 'the God and [illegible] of our Lord, Jesus Christ.' [illegible] has not failed them.

[illegible] is one fact more than [illegible] indelibly written on the [illegible] history, it is the fact that [illegible] of government has persisted [illegible] that failed to [illegible] on the reliability [illegible] and righteousness of [illegible] God. America cannot [illegible] to ignore the counsels of [illegible].

[illegible] ALTARS

[illegible] would save the fair future of the United States and solve [illegible] criminal problems for [illegible] generations, we must re[illegible] altars of family religion [illegible] home.

[illegible] delinquency is largely [illegible] for the misdeeds of [illegible]. The world is quick to [illegible], but the sin lies [illegible] door of men and women [illegible] of harmony among parents, [illegible] children, discordant [illegible]. Dishonesty in parents [illegible] thievery in children. [illegible] between father and [illegible] about lawlessness in [illegible]. Scolding parents [illegible] cruel children. Parents [illegible] upon life's low level [illegible] their children to [illegible] morality. The river does [illegible] higher than its source. [illegible] and you go a long [illegible] keeping the children [illegible]. Save the family [illegible] save the nation. We need [illegible] of family religion and [illegible] in the home. Rebuild [illegible] altar and the disturb[illegible] question will largely be [illegible]."

[illegible] WAY FOR YOUTH TO SERVE HUMANITY

[illegible] A. Francis, pastor of [illegible] Church, preached [illegible] on "The Wonder Boy of [illegible]." He said in part:

"[illegible] we not give for [illegible] biography of the world's [illegible]. We have the birth story, [illegible] years of silence. Then [illegible] precious incident, [illegible] one sentence from [illegible] unknown years of si[illegible] the story of that mar[illegible] ministry begins. God [illegible] a great undertaking [illegible] this human world, [illegible] can have a hand [illegible] this business that [illegible] the heart, mind and [illegible] eternal? It is nothing [illegible] making over of hu[illegible], both in individuals [illegible], in all its complex [illegible], until human life [illegible] the kingdom of God."

[illegible]TISTS NOT [illegible] APPRECIATED

[illegible], rabbi of the [illegible], preached last [illegible] "The Value of Science."

"[illegible] mind is not suffi[illegible]. There are en[illegible] scientists in the [illegible] only a few men [illegible] speaking, [illegible] their entire time [illegible] in one field [illegible]. These people have a [illegible]. Most of them [illegible]. The scientific [illegible] open mind. Preju[illegible] notions [illegible] to new discoveries [illegible]. These good [illegible] our standards of liv[illegible] comforts, give [illegible] work with, make [illegible]. Let us pay tribute to these men and women, whether they be great or small, known or unknown. While at times they upset our outworn creeds and false religious notions, in the main they make men more religious by showng the wonders of the universe."

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE PRAISED FOR IDEALS

"Affirming the Miraculous" was the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Rev. E. F. Daugherty at the First Christian Church. Mr. Daugherty said, in part:

"When President Coolidge attributed his election to Divine Providence in whose working he is but one instrument, he did a thing no other American President has ever done and expressed a working faith, becoming of a descendant of the Puritans. His choice by the American electorate was their expression of faith in his personal character and ability, a part register of the world reaction against radicalism, and justified by his most significant campaign expression at the unveiling of the equestrian statue of Francis Asbury when he said, 'Our government rests upon religion. It is from that source we derive our reverence for truth and justice, for equality and liberty, and for the rights of mankind, unless the people believe in these principles they cannot believe in our government; one theory of government rests on righteousness, the other on force; one appeals to reason, the other to the sword; one is exemplified in a republic, the other in a despotism.' Notable words, deeply significant from a man in supreme position."

PASTOR SAYS JESUS WAS NONSECTARIAN

Rev. William C. Isett, pastor of Amanda Chapel, preached yesterday on "What Jesus Taught About a Nonsectarian Church." He spoke in part as follows:

"The Jewish church in the time of Jesus Christ was a sectarian church; so was the Samaritan church. The Pantheon at Rome was an interdenominational church. Jesus emphasized the permeating influence of God into all life at all times everywhere. Worship is the important thing, not its form. That is the reason we have based our church upon worship. In worship all can meet, if they worship in spirit and truth and not only in form. Christianity is not sectarian. I would like to have you ponder that statement. The Old Testament of the Jews clearly taught that a Messiah was expected. It clearly revealed the character of that person, and foretold what He would do and what would happen to Him. The Jews and others do not believe that Jesus fulfilled that prophecy. But the truth of Christianity, the truth about Christ, is not disputed. Christianity teaches no new doctrines, and sects are founded upon doctrine. Jesus, in teaching that God is a spirit, and that the spirit and truth of worship is the thing He accepts, and not the place and form, was only giving emphasis to a fact which had been forgotten in the midst of a multitude of ceremonies. But that is only another way of saying that sectarianism is not godliness. The spirit is accessible to all everywhere, and not confined to one sect or denomination."

BLAMES CRIMES OF YOUTH UPON ELDERS

Rev. George Witte of Bethany Lutheran Church preached yesterday on "Juvenile Delinquency." He said in part:

"The cause for the alarming increase in the waywardness and delinquency on the part of the youth of today is usually to be traced to the neglect of parents in exercising proper control and restraint in the home. One of the saddest, though not most infrequent, states of affairs is that children come to the world unwanted and unloved. Therefore, parents do not want to be bothered with their training and upbringing. We find also the other extreme. Foolish, misguided, dangerous love prompts parents to be too lenient and indulgent with their children. When they finally realize that their control over their children is slipping away, they are afraid to employ stern measures of discipline."

SAYS SIX KINGDOMS COMPRISE UNIVERSE

Rev. F. A. Ross of Portland, Or., preached at the South Park Christian Church last night on "The Six Kingdoms." He said in part:

"The universe of God is divided into six great kingdoms. The human race has lived, does live or will live in some one of these kingdoms. The six kingdoms are: The Kingdom of Innocence; the Kingdom of Heaven (the church;) the Kingdom of this World; the Kingdom of Apostasy; the Kingdom of Hell (Gehenna) and the Kingdom of Heaven Eternal. Into the Kingdom of Innocency all are born of the flesh. Opening from this first kingdom are three ways. The doorway of death, the gate of obedience and birth into the church kingdom of the broad way into the kingdom of this world. Through the gate of death the child spirit returns unto the God who gave it. If, however, the child lives to the age of accountability he or she must choose the straight way into the church or the broad way into the world."

MINISTER PROCLAIMS CROSS PRICE OF PEACE

"The Cross of Christ is the Price of the Peace of Christ," declared Rev. B. H. Saager in his sermon yesterday at the El Sereno Lutheran Church. Mr. Saager said in part:

"When Jesus was born the angels sang 'Peace to the earth, and He is called the Prince of Peace.' But the peace which Jesus proclaimed is not that kind which the world often calls peace. The peace which Christ preaches is the result of His conflict and victory. Christ first made peace; then He preached it. His work ever stands as the solid background of His word. Many persons fail to see this ground-work in the Gospel. They see the peace which Christ proclaims, and the pardon which He offers, but they fail to see the cross."

Theater to Have National Guard Night Festival

National Guard night will be celebrated in Hollywood on next Thursday evening when Col. Walter P. Story, commanding the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry will head a detachment of officers and enlisted men to participate in the festivities at Grauman's Egyptian Theater.

Col Walter P Story

Lieut. Charles W. Hoffman, commanding Company D, of which Sid Grauman is an enlisted member, and Maj. Seth Howard, directing the battalion, will be Col. Story's aides for the invasion of the film capital. In addition to Mr. Grauman's company, Col. Story has added the regimental band to those who will be personal guests of the theater man on this occasion.

The company and the band will form in the regimental armory, Thirty-fifth street and Vermont avenue, and will be transported to the theater.

The band will play selections in the forecourt before the performance and will appear on the stage to play the music for "The Lilliputians," in their "March of the Wooden Soldiers," which immediately follows the intermission in the combined presentation of a ten-act prologue and Henry King's production of "Romola," starring Lillian and Dorothy Gish.

NEGRO SERVICE INSPIRES

Sermon, Girl Choir, Fervor of Prayers are Revelation to Visitor at New Hope Baptist Church

BY ALMA WHITAKER

A colored woman friend of mine sent me to the New Hope Baptist Church at Sixteenth and Paloma streets yesterday morning and I am indebted to her for so doing.

There is not a pastor in town who could have preached the doctrine of obedience, humility and loving kindness better than Rev. A. Lively presented it to his large congregation.

The service opens with the entrance of the crisp, white surpliced choir, in single file, singing a joyous hymn. Twelve young women, some with bobbed heads, some with long, straight black hair, framing their faces like dusky madonnas, and all with sparkling eyes, and four men, formed the chorus. Mrs. C. S. Lindsey, presided at the organ. Mrs. V. H. Brandon directed the choir. And Miss Ruth Robinson contributed a violin accompaniment to the music throughout.

MUSIC IMPORTANT BASIS

Music formed an important basis of the whole service. After the choir were seated, we sang a hymn, and after the pastor had offered an impassioned prayer of thanksgiving—during which ardent voices called out, "Oh, Lord, we thank Thee," or "Yes, indeed, sirree," the entire congregation took up a musical response to the prayer. And the tiny piccaninnies—there were many—behaved excellently, and sang with the grown-ups with jubilant abandon.

We had no hymn books, but everyone seemed to know all the words and tunes.

Rev. Blackwell read the Scripture lesson from Christ's Sermon on the Mount, and we listened to a recital of the beatitudes with quite enthralled interest. "Blessed are the meek . . . Blessed are the pure in heart . . . Blessed are the peacemakers . . . Blessed are those that are persecuted for righteousness sake . . ." made doubly significant by the choir's anthem, into which it seemed to blend, "Praise the Lord, Praise the Lord . . ."

Most dramatic was the introduction of Brother George Washington Arnte, by Deacon Bowles. For Brother Arnte is 102 years of age, straight, smiling, kindly-eyed, keen, with all his faculties unimpaired. Born in 1822, in North Carolina, he was formerly a slave of "Pitchfork" Ben Tillman's father—and he is preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ today.

OBEDIENCE HIS CREED

The fine old man stood before that congregation and preached obedience, ever and always obedience; not only to God's will, which came first, but to parents and all in authority over us. This, he maintained, is the secret of long life. And his voice quavered with pride as he traced negro conditions and said, "I find my people greatly improved in wisdom and knowledge and responsibility."

Here followed a peculiarly exquisite tenor solo by the pastor's son, L. B. Lively, whose voice has many qualities of John McCormack's.

It was then that Pastor Lively launched into his sermon, his text being from Mathew XXV.

"If life means anything," he said, "it means geting ready for the final judgment, and it behooves us to make every step count. For the righteous there shall be life eternal.'"

It was a sermon of one hour's duration—but the precious kernel of it was based upon the thirty-first chapter of Mathew:

"I was anhungered and ye gave me meat. I was naked and ye clothed Me. I was a stranger and ye took Me in. I was sick and ye visited Me. I was in prison and ye came unto Me."

Graphically he pictured the puzzled attitude of Christ's listeners, asking when, where, on what occasions had they thus served the Master, and poignantly he quoted Christ's answer:

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto Me."

"Those people," pointed out the pastor, "were unaware of their goodness. When we know our goodness, when we think we are doing enough, when we think we are doing too much, we are doing nothing."

"When we wish to prove our love for anyone we always want to give them something," said the pastor, "and so we must prove our love for Jesus by giving—preaching the gospel with our actions, serving all that come within our ken. How close we can come to Jesus every day," he said, "just by helping all those in need."

He admonished his congregation to show greater friendliness to all, for thus were they entertaining angels, Jesus Christ Himself, unawares.

He quoted Ella Wheeler Wilcox's "One ship sails East and another West, by the self-same wind that blows—'Tis the set of the sails, and not the gales, that point the way to go," followed by "Sail On."

This latter he chanted with a strange rythm, so reminiscent of his people in Africa, yet oddly reminiscent of oriental music, too—and soon the whole congregation had taken up the chant and were swaying, singing, stamping their feet, as voices would rise above the rest, crying out "Right on, Jesus—we're Sailing on!" Dramatic, eerie harmony, almost hypnotic in its rythm.

Son, Brother and Sister Brown, from Redlands, came forward. Brother Brown shyly admitted that he had absented himself from the fold for some time, but that now he and his wife were right back with Jesus. They were publicly accepted into the church with parliamentary precision—the ayes had it unanimously.

Not until the conclusion of the services was the offertory taken, and then without exhortation to giving—but these people were generous, and the choir and congregation all sang with joyous heartiness as they gave.

A remarkable and inspiring experience.

EASY

An Illinois scientist believes he can convert dirt into gold. Well, that trick has been turned often in Los Angeles.

SO SORRY

We are going to have a mild winter, the prophets said, because the animals were growing light coats of fur. We are sorry for those mistaken animals.

HUH!

According to a Federal reserve bulletin, $2.50 gold pieces are scarce. Among other scarce bits are $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100. Verily, even the two-bit pieces.

ON WITH THE DANCE

A real Russian princess is dancing in a new musical production in New York. Russian princesses haven't much to dance over, but, if they can do it for a living, they are in luck.

RUNNING STRONG

Motor sales have been more than enough for one for every family in America and now the slogan is: "Two cars for every family." Soon the American household will consist of a double garage and twin beds.

VALUES

They gave a Kentucky mountaineer ten years in the penitentiary for stealing 50 cents and imposed the same sentence on another man for murder. This gives an accurate figure for the value of one human life in Kentucky.

LIKE TO KNOW

A convention of scientists decided that mankind's domination of the world is coming to an end. But they didn't tell us whether English sparrows or emancipated typhoid germs were to be the new lords of creation.

STOP!

Any autoist who finds himself in collision with law for failure to obey the boulevard stop ordinance has in all probability only himself to blame. Conspicuous stop signs are placed at every corner to jog listless memories. It is sheer carelessness or sheer indifference to law that causes its violation. Traffic officers and municipal judges have decided that the time is here now for strict enforcement. A good New Year's resolution for autoists would be to stop when and where the law says stop.

MEXICAN ECONOMY

The Mexican government is starting to economize and naturally has turned its attention to its superabundant supply of generals. In its years of civil strife generals sprang up on Mexican soil like mushrooms overnight. By last reports 400 of these incumbrances had left the official ax and 1000 other near-generals were wiped off the army pay roll. All signs today point to an era of peace and development in the ancient country of the Aztecs.

AIR LINE SERVICE

California is getting into line, a little tardily, perhaps, in furnishing the public air service between its two principal cities. On the Pacific Coast here we have atmospheric conditions for flying unexcelled by any other part of the globe and equalled by few. Paris, London and Berlin are far ahead of us in providing airplane service as a regular public convenience. Moreover, they have been successfully attending to this branch of travel for many years. Nor is the northwest of Europe blessed with so equable and storm-free a climate as the southwest coast of California. Everyone interested in the future of this section must hope the proposed fleet of six airplanes will speedily materialize and will furnish an incentive to improved air-line service throughout Western America.

MIND IN BUSINESS

Today business conditions are about as favorable as they could be. But they can be changed completely and instantly by a mere change in mental attitude.

It is a certainty that business will be active during the early part of 1925, but as to what will take place during the remainder of the year there is probability, but, of course, no certainty. The heavy vote of confidence in the existing order which people registered last November, the recent rise in the prices of farm products, the large number of car loadings, great activity in building, impregnability of our credit position, the belief that sanity will rule at Washington—these and many other kindred signs or symptoms all point to continuance of prosperity throughout the whole year.

So also do the corresponding symptoms abroad. The acceptance of the Dawes plan, the elections in England and Germany and many other overseas events indicate that there, as well as here, is promise of better days. When people generally get tired of driving and feel they would rather take it easy than strive for more things business activities decrease. Both prosperity and adversity come more largely from attitude of mind than from anything else.

THE CITY HALL SITE

The City Council is to be commended for its effective work in acquiring a site in the civic center for the $5,000,000 City Hall, and City Attorney Stephens is to be congratulated in completing the necessary legal steps so that a court award on the value of the land will, it is hoped, be returned next month.

So far, so good.

Now has come the time for some careful planning so that the City Hall will be so located in the civic center that it will fit in with the other public buildings to be built there to the end that there will grow up, through the course of the years, a group of public buildings which will be beautiful in design and accessible from all parts of the Greater Los Angeles metropolitan district. There must be the proper landscaping in the civic center and adequate streets, parking space and approaches of all kinds.

The people of Los Angeles have reached the point where they realize that the future growth of Los Angeles must be systematic, scientific, modern. They showed it when they approved of the establishment of a civic center north of First street. They showed it when they approved of the Major Traffic Street Plan. They have shown it when they have given, constantly, their unofficial but whole-hearted approval to the zoning and set-back regulations. The days of helter-skelter growth are gone. The time has come for an orderly upbuilding of Los Angeles.

Should a City Council majority proceed in a bull-headed fashion to locate the City Hall on the site independently and without regard to the new streets that must be laid out to serve the civic center and the other city, county, State and Federal buildings to be built there in years to come the Council will be acting against the best interests of the city. It will be acting against the wishes of the people, who pay the bills, who benefit by the wise acts of its officials and are the victims of the errors of judgment or lack of foresight and wisdom displayed by the representatives of the people.

As President Tatum and former President Brent of the Realty Board said, in letters to the City Council, everything can be gained and nothing can be lost by careful consideration at this time of the locating of the City Hall building. The Council is constantly scoring those selfish property owners who block public improvements, including those who build great buildings in the paths of streets that are to be widened. Now the Council should not deliberately do that which it has been condemning private property owners for doing—namely, so locating the City Hall that it will block the development of a real civic center instead of being one of its principal assets.

The Allied Architects' Association has given, as a community contribution, its plan for the grouping of buildings in a civic center. There is nothing ironbound about this plan. It can be modified to meet conditions that must be met. The City Council should realize that much more is at stake here than a City Hall. We have waited many years for the new municipal building. We can wait a little longer if by waiting we shall get what we want and need and if haste means an irreparable mistake. This is the time for getting together on a plan which will be permanent.

The men who drafted the civic-center plan have envisioned the Los Angeles of 100 years from now. They are building for generations and with apparently a fuller realization than exists at the City Hall of the fact that a city must not be allowed to grow haphazard, following the same old lines of lots and narrow, crooked streets that characterized the village from which it sprang. As a matter of fact, no important public building to be erected in the older part of Los Angeles can be built to conform with any present lot or street line without sooner or later coming into fatal conflict with a sane system of city planning.

The civic-center plan as drawn by the Allied Architects' Association may not be correct in all details—details can be changed without difficulty—but it is correct in principle. It is upon some such plan that we must proceed, for, if we do not, we shall bitterly regret it and our descendants increasingly will regret it for centuries to come.

A GREAT PUBLIC SERVANT

The new year has brought in its first national surprise in the unexpected resignation of Secretary of State Hughes; unexpected, that is to say, by the country at large. Whatever the cumulative reasons that decided Charles Evans Hughes to relinquish the Cabinet post he has filled for four years with consummate success and world-wide recognized ability, there is no hint of any disagreement between the Secretary of State and any members of the Cabinet.

His letter to the President announcing his intention and the President's reply are no mere formal interchange of courtesies, but display genuine expressions of mutual regard and friendship, a proof—if such were needed—that the Secretary's resignation was a cause of real regret to both himself and his chief.

The four years through which Mr. Hughes guided the foreign affairs of the nation were four of the most difficult ones, internationally considered, through which the United States has ever passed. That Europe has advanced at all in that period toward the solution of its post-war problems is to a large degree attributable to the foreign policies of America, applied with tact and determination by this great international lawyer.

On many occasions when relations with foreign countries approached an impasse (to mention one the deadlock at one time threatened by our dispute with Great Britain over oil concessions in the Near East,) Mr. Hughes was able to assert America's rights without impairing friendly relations with the opposing nation. Indeed, the leading characteristic of Mr. Hughes's stewardship was his uncompromising attitude whenever the rights of America were questioned or American interests were unfairly assailed.

In the many adjustments of the last four years, while all nations were scrambling for whatever of reconstruction value was left after the war, the opportunities for friction and misunderstanding were innumerable. In not a few of these disputes our own country was involved. Yet Secretary Hughes carried the nation through these endless bickerings and heartbreaks—that were always aligning the European powers in fresh strange groups—with dignity to his own people and with the maintenance of friendly feelings toward America by the many conflicting elements.

We have had many famous men to fill the second most important position in the national government since the mantle first fell on the shoulders of John Jay, John Marshall, Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, Calhoun, William H. Seward, James G. Blaine, John Hay, Elihu Root; all names that are household words in our schools and homes. And that illustrious company loses nothing of its splendid prestige by the addition of the name of Charles Evans Hughes.

Good Luck, David!

Just About It
by James J. Montague

DISENCHANTMENT

I fancied the Borgias were thoroughly bad,
  Much given to dreadful carouses;
I thought that a sinister habit they had
  Of poisoning guests in their houses.
I had read that they ran people through every day,
  When bursts of ferocity fired 'em,
And though all such doings are wrong—in a way
  I own that I rather admired 'em.

But the Borgias I find, were the gentlest of folk,
  Who always were pious and placid,
And wouldn't—not even by way of a joke—
  Drop a foe in a vat of hot acid.
And since I've found out they were humdrum and tame,
  And the subject of vast veneration,
I am down on the lot, for their terrible name
  Has lost all its old fascination.

I heard that Will Shakespeare, when he was a child
  In spite of tutorial coaching,
And teaching of parents, would often run wild
  And was sadly addicted to poaching.
I had heard other tales of this Stratford-born youth,
  Of ways which were rough and unseemly,
Which, when I supposed they were wholly the truth
  Had led me to like him extremely.

But recent biographers say that the lad
  Had not a wrong thought in his noddle,
That he never was wayward, or wicked, or bad,
  But always held up as a model.
This may, in the minds of some people I know,
  Redound to the great playwright's credit,
But the whitewashing volume hit me like a blow
  And I'll always be sorry I read it!

LIBERAL WITH PUBLIC FUNDS

A bunch of liberal financiers may be usually found in public jobs who, if they were spending their own money, would be the most careful guardians of their own exchequer. Having figured that "time and a half" for inspectors for overtime meant two times and a half, city inspectors who worked on holidays have been paid at that rate until the Council decided that one-and-a-half meant one-and-a-half.

Inspector Rook has given notice that they are "very much dissatisfied and complaining bitterly." That is too bad, of course, but possibly the people who pay the taxes are in the same state of mind. But Mr. Rook goes further, according to the news report, and says that this action in paying the inspectors all they are entitled to gives the contractors on public work an "opportunity to pay the inspector a sum of money secretly to make it worth the inspector's while to stay on the job" on a holiday.

An inspector who will take money from a contractor when he is getting pay-and-a-half from the city probably would not suffer from nervous prostration if the bribe was handed to him should he be getting two-pays-and-a-half from the city for a day's work. It might be well to look up such susceptible inspectors and replace them with upright men who are perfectly willing to work for the good salary and be honest about it.

On top of this we notice a number of clerks in city departments coming forward with demands for salary increases about equal to the salary the Mayor has received for many years. The recent decision that the salaries of city employees are not exempt from income taxation and that they must be accounted for back as far as 1918 may in a measure be responsible for the sudden onslaught upon city sources of compensation. The positions occupied are by no means as onerous as like positions in private business, and all the latter have paid the tax during the six years cited.

Good salaries are desirable and are encouraged, but no business house would for a moment tolerate in its employees the attitude maintained by some of those who are so fortunate as to be seated tight in city jobs.

WOMAN AT CROSSROADS

Sir Arthur Keith, conservator of the museum of the Royal College of Surgeons, in England, has made the interesting discovery that men steadily are growing handsomer, for the simple reason that nowadays they don't use their jaws so much as they used to. Less maxillary development than in bygone days is causing masculine faces to grow narrower at the bottom and more and more pleasing in contour.

Unfortunately, Sir Arthur doesn't say anything about women. It would be interesting to know if his silence on that subject is due to gallantry—or merely to fear. Everybody knows that one reason men don't use their jaws so much nowadays is that women use theirs more, and the effects of the new political and social order must be important.

Even without an authoritative pronouncement from Sir Arthur, however, a good many men will draw their own inferences and strive to delicately suggest that their spouses substitute golden silence, at nothing a week, for visits to the beauty parlors, at several dollars a sitting.

And those who imagine they are modern Mr. Caudles will have a powerful weapon, if they are discreet enough to use it rightly.

And those with superior spouses, like the lady in "Professor, How Could You?" may improve their situation with a little applied hintology. For, no matter how much they may admire him, few women yearn to look like William J. Bryan.

Ah! woman, indeed, is at the crossroads. The time has come when she must make the great decision. One way, it seems, lies beauty and the other way public preferment, command, dictatorship. For Sir Arthur makes it clear that a thing of beauty cannot be a "jaw" forever.

THE RULING PASSION

Burglars who broke open a safe the other night got seven postage stamps for their pains. This at least will enable them to write home for money.

Britain's Debt

Englishmen feel that the people of the United States have done a mean and shabby thing by requiring Great Britain to settle her war debts of something like $4,000,000,000. This is an important count in the indictment, as all recent American visitors to England have been made to feel. We issued bonds to raise money for England and now we are taxing ourselves to pay the interest on these bonds. What would our British friends have us do when they are next drawn into a European war: lend them money, decline to lend them money, or give them money? Why remit $4,000,000,000 to be spent in subjugating Egypt and holding down other dusky lands productive of riches in oil, cotton and opium? —[McNaught's Monthly.

HOW IT STARTED

BY JEAN NEWTON

The Mortuary Chapel

Today the mortuary chapel is in use because of the greater convenience and better facilities which make sometimes preferable to perform there, instead of in the home, the last services for the departed. This, however, was not the reason for its origin, for which we must go back to a sad and tragic time.

The first mortuary chapels are said to have been those established in the late eighteenth century in Vienna, Austria, during one of the terrible epidemics of cholera which have been known to rage there in former centuries. Their purpose was to avoid, as far as possible, the chances of contagion and spread of the frightful disease. From this beginning the convenience of the mortuary became evident and it found its way first to Germany and then into other countries.

A Serious Business

Advocates of a uniform system of severing marriage ties may be merely seeking to apply to the divorce mills the principles of standardization that have been applied to other big business enterprises.—[Boston Transcript.

EN PASSANT

BY J. J. LOWMAN

By birth she was a Patagonian and had lived Los Angeles. She had great wealth, personal mag questioned social leadership.

The beautiful grounds of her estate, with the nese lanterns, the purring of an Italian fountain and of a concealed orchestra were not readily effaced

The fountain would purr softly and a tiny brook gurgled as a violin playing. Stars twinkled roguishly, there were faint perfumes, caught breaths, nodding heads and muffled exclamations.

Mrs. D'Oil was in her element and she would present the Baron Von Zimmerototsky, famous big-game hunter, explorer, raconteur and scion of one of the oldest houses of Simplemania.

As he was introduced, admiring glances followed him. Unquestionably, he was a man of the world. He talked interestingly and entertainingly of recent books, the theater, his travels, and at repartee he was scintillating.

The Baron adjusted a cigarette to a long, ebony holder and, with an easy grace, lit the tube. As he placed the burned match into an ash tray his fingers came into contact with a delicate fan inlaid in ivory.

He carelessly toyed with it for a second or two and, with the greatest composure, carefully folded it and placed it in the inside pocket of his coat.

Mrs. D'Oil admired the fan for the Watteau figures upon it. As she watched she felt confident that the Baron would replace it.

The Baron paid his respects to his hostess for a most delightful evening and made his departure.

Mrs. James Henry Nuveau D'Oil became quite upset over the affair. She would write very diplomatically requesting the return of her property.

The Baron regretted the incident most poignantly and by special messenger he was returning the beautiful fan to his charming hostess.

The messenger delivered a long, narrow package. Helene, the maid, carried the package to her mistress in her boudoir.

From an exquisitely laquered box there emanated an odor of sandalwood and old lace. In the depths, reposing on faded ivory plush, was an old-fashioned brass door key.

Unquestionably it is one of the most attractive residence streets in all Los Angeles; it has an air of material well-being and comfort; beautiful and well-kept lawns and gardens.

Coming through this street of the beautiful lawns but recently I could not help but recall Charles Baudelaire and what he would have said about the things I met in front of lawns on sunny days. There on a grassy couch, with pebbles set, a loathsome receptacle lay, a garbage can. The bulging sides stiff-stretched into the air, steaming with exhalations. A garbage can.

The sky smiled down upon the horror there as a flower that opens to the day; so awful an infection smote the air I almost swooned away.

And, like a wave, maggots rose and fell, the murmuring flies swirled around in busy strife; it seemed as though a vague breath came to swell and multiply with life.

These garbage cans are always filled to overflowing with white bread, brown bread, sweetbreads, fricassees, gravy soup, soft bread, caporotadoes, loins of veal, zinziberine, toast, cabbage, hash, sausages, neat's tongues, beef, peas, Scotch collops, puddings, cervelats, hams, mutton, olias, capons, caponets, caviar, deer, hares, partridges, plovers, dwarf herons, ducks, peacocks, storks, woodcocks, snipes, flamingoes, pigeons, peach stones, artichokes, quails, thrushes, sea ravens, turtles, humming-bird wings, jellies, macaroons, tarts, wafers, cream cheese and coffee . . . relics of a prosperous city.

Immaculate linen, trousers pressed as if by a razor, efficient and courteous, but not in the least obsequious . . . he took charge of my traveling bag, procured the key from the desk clerk and showed me to my room at the Ambassador Hotel.

He did the expected by throwing open the window, raising the shades, turning on the lights and bringing drinking water.

In the elevator I noticed that he carried a book. I casually asked the name of the book. He told me that it was Darwin's "Origin of Species."

He went on to tell me that he needed books of comfort and solace, books that fitted his particular moods.

He was on most intimate terms with Copernicus, Newton and Emerson. He spoke of Gibbons as an intimate friend.

The "Leben Jesu" of Straus and the "Vie de Jesus" of Renan and the "Kapital" of Karl Marx were, it seemed, friends of long standing.

Casually he mentioned Giuseppe Mazzini, Humboldt, Hegel, Compte, Schopenhauer and Herbert Spencer.

He esteemed highly Plato, Spinoza, Berkeley and Kant and Pericles had great inducements.

He found daily strength for his daily needs in Chaucer and Keats, Browning, Longfellow and Shakespeare. He admired Dr. Johnson and Robert Louis Stevenson, Hawthorne and Edgar Allan Poe.

Hardy, Sherwood Anderson, Kipling and Conrad were very close and really worth while.

When the house physician found me crumpled in the middle of the floor he told me kindly and with great assurance that my recovery would be but a question of time. "Buttons" of Hotel Ambassador was a Los Angeles boy who had but recently been a Cecil Rhodes scholar.

Uneasy Heads

There is a hat shop just off Fifth avenue, New York, that does a thriving business in the renting of fashionable hats. Women visitors in town for a few days pay a small sum to wear a hat from this shop to the theater or a dinner.—[New York World.

The Woman and Her Job

by [illegible] Watrous

concerning the problems of women will be answered in this column if addressed to Mrs. Watrous at The Times.)

THE AIMS OF YOUTH

the mature women were only as sure of what they want to do But they are not. That's one of the penalties of maturity. girls are always so eager about taking up their chosen profession. is rarely a question of what to do, but how to get the money to the training. And always it's the urge for artistic expression. stage-craft, music, or some form of art.

When I read the letters of these ambitious ones, I am reminded of the charming woman I met last summer. She had national recognition in her —it is not art.

"I was so sure of myself by the I'd finished high school that to go to college. Why four years at the university I was destined to become a artist? I was deeply troubled the particular branch of art follow. If I chose land- the world of portraiture suffer a great loss. I dearly animals and wanted to paint . . . no one had filled the left vacant by Bonheur . . . why should not I carry the torch of feminine ? One can't be every-, and I loved faces and forms. studies were my choice.

"My indulgent daddy patiently my bills for nearly four years. he left us, and there was money for our living. I faced problem of earning money for family.

"I turned to fashion drawing . . . my knowledge of anatomy helped me with the modes. I expected to go back to my canvases. My belief was that I yet would make the figure painters tremble for their assured position on 'the line.'

"After a while I found employment with one of the big department stores of Chicago. My job was to draw the designs for the basement advertising. Shortly after I began they assigned me the work of making the layouts for the advertising.

"Occasionally I was sent out to sketch special exhibitions. I had to bring back descriptions of the gowns I had pictured. At first they were quite conventional, but as I grew more sure of myself I gave freedom to my expression . . . I thought they were pretty spiffy!

"After I had been working two years—still looking forward to startling the world of art as a portraitist—I was called into the office one day.

"I was horrified to be told that my pictures were not satisfactory. If I recall the conversation correctly I think that man told me they were 'rotten'!

"When I had been reduced to the pit of humiliation, my manager told me that my descriptions were so much better than my pictures, any my layouts so excellent, he was going to bring me in and give me a chance to understudy the assistant's job.

"Any other girl would have been delighted. I was enraged. Was I not an artist? Fortunately, I didn't resign on the spot. I went home to think it over . . . I found we had just enough money to meet the rent! I didn't resign.

"Almost to my disgust I found myself actually interested in the new work. My ambition to become a great painter somehow shriveled under the intensity of my desire to plan effective advertising."

That she did succeed is evidenced by the fact that she became first assistant, and when the advertising manager went to Europe for a vacation, which was prolonged to a year's leave, she carried the whole burden alone.

About that time she was offered an important position in a small department store. That was seventeen years ago. It has become one of the greatest merchandising houses on the Pacific Coast. She has grown with her job, and now has more than a dozen men and women who assist her.

"It took me a long time to appreciate the discernment of that advertising manager. I am wiser now. Whenever I turn longing eyes toward my lost career, I unearth some of my precious 'studies.' I recover at once . . . they were really terrible!"

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Dear Mrs. M.: I am always skeptical about those long-distance promises of employment when this or that course of training is finished. Can you not find something the people in your town will buy? So many women have succeeded with some fine food product made and sold from their own homes. I know of a woman in Stockton who added to her income by making enchiladas every Thursday. Her customers clamored for them every day, but she was too wise to satiate their appetite and spoil her market. Look within your own town and catalogue your present abilities before risking your money on instruction in some line that may prove worthless.

Dear R. G. L.: After fifteen years as a teacher my suggestion would be that you reach out for advanced work in your own line. Perhaps your work has grown monotonous, and a leave of absence would refresh your viewpoint. If you tried insurance I would suggest that you make your preparation before vacation; when it comes begin your work. Any one of the old sound companies would give you the opportunity. Life and endowment policies are the kinds sold by the women I have known. I also know a woman who has succeeded with fire insurance in a town of 200,000 in which she had always lived. I think a woman needs a wide circle of friends to sell this kind of insurance.

Fry the required number of slices of ham in a hot frying pan, when the ham is cooked break over it two eggs for each person to be served; cook until the eggs are set; slide the hams and eggs onto a hot platter and pour over them the fat in the pan.

DEVILED MEAT BALLS

Chop enough cooked beef to fill three cupfuls and add to it one cupful of bread crumbs, half a teaspoonful salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful paprika, one tablespoonful melted butter, two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped parsley, and one well beaten egg; mix well and form into six even flat round cakes. Mix one tablespoonful of dry mustard with three tablespoonfuls of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt, a few grains of cayenne pepper, two teaspoonfuls of vinegar, one teaspoonful of olive oil and two beaten eggs; thoroughly cover the meat cakes with the batter and fry a nice brown in hot butter. Pour the remaining batter into a small saucepan, add one tablespoonful of butter, one cupful of hot milk or meat stock and heat and pour over the cooked meat balls which have been placed on a hot platter.

CELERY AND TOMATOE PUREE

Chop fine one bunch of well-washed celery, place in a saucepan, add one and a half cupfuls of beef stock and one and a half cupfuls of cold water; bring slowly to a boil, add one and a half teaspoonfuls of salt and simmer one hour. Fry in a saucepan three tablespoonfuls of finely chopped salt pork, add one sliced onion, one scraped and sliced carrot, one mashed clove of garlic, half a bay leaf, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of mace, two teaspoonfuls of chopped parsley, and half a teaspoonful of black pepper; stir and cook ten minutes; add two cupfuls of cooked tomatoes, the celery mixture, and one and a half tablespoonfuls of butter rubbed to a smooth paste with three tablespoonfuls of flour, and a seasoning of salt and pepper; cover and simmer for one and half hours; rub through a sieve, reheat, add one and a half tablespoonfuls of butter and serve with croutons and grated cheese.

ORANGES SAN EMIDIO

Cut three oranges in halves and carefully remove the pulp so as to leave the skins in perfect cups. Soak half a package of granulated gelatine in half a cupful of cold water, add half a cupful of boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add to the dissolved gelatine one cupful of sugar, the juice of half a lemon, and two cupfuls of strained orange juice; strain into a bowl, add six tablespoonfuls of chopped blanched almonds, six tablespoonfuls of seedless raisins and four tablespoonfuls of chopped red cherries. Let stand until firm, break in small pieces with a fork and fill the orange cups with the mixture; cover the filled orange cups with a stiff meringue and brown lightly in a hot oven.

"MINOR" CONSEQUENCES OF OBESITY

In one of last week's papers I told you of some of the serious disorders that threaten those who are much overweight—diabetes, heart and kidney diseases, hardening of the arteries and apoplexy being the more serious of these.

These grave disorders do not come on suddenly although the consequences may apparently appear suddenly. Before they arise there are usually a series of what are considered minor disturbances that cause a lot of aches, pains and suffering, that apparently cannot be accounted for by the patient and sometimes not by the doctor. Today we will talk on these so-called minor disturbances and give the reasons for them.

The obese person is always tired. The least exertion makes him still more tired. This often is attributed to laziness but in reality it is a profound toxemic condition—an auto-intoxication plus, in most cases, a profound weakening of the muscles, including the muscles of the heart. (I'll go into this phase of the subject in a paper on exercises.)

The internal, as well as the external, mechanism of the O. P. is all cluttered with fat masses. These masses are apt to press upon the nerves and a countless variety of reflex symptoms may be caused which may seem like true organic disorders. However, they are just as real to the sufferer and if they continue there may result true organic disorders. Symptoms of colic, gastritis, appendicitis, angina pectoris (heart pain,) etcetera, may be but these reflex symptoms from pressure and auto-intoxication. I cannot tell you mow many hundreds of letters I have had from the followers of my reducing instructions telling me that different forms of neuritis, rheumatic pains, indigestion, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, lame backs, stiff and painful joints, etcetera, have been entirely relieved after the weight was reduced.

In those much overweight, the skin is apt to become thickened and rough and its secretions become offensive and irritating, often causing eruptions. The small capillaries in the skin are strained and become enlarged. The vitality of the skin becomes lowered so that it is more apt to become infected, and acne, pimples and boils result.

Among the so-called minor disturbances (but they are not so minor) is the effect of overweight upon the mental condition. There is a sluggishness of thought, a lack of ambition, and a sensitiveness which greatly affect the social life of a sufferer.

All of these things I have enumerated are the initial stages of the more serious diseases. Wood calls obesity the scourge of civilization that "should be tracked down and fought in its initial stages, for by so dong not only the individual, but the future of the race will be saved." He calls overweight a "physiological disequilibrium" and he believes that the offspring begot during such physiological risequilibrium will age quickly and its life be shortened by almost half.

We all agree with Dr. Wood that overweight should be fought in its beginning. Then the reduction can be accomplished in a few weeks instead of months or years. Better yet, overweight should be prevented. This can better be done if the weight is taken systematically and regularly. For this reason a good household scale should be considered an indispensable article of furniture. There are several bathroom scales on the market that are accurate enough for this purpose. If there is a baby in the family, instead of a baby scales, a good grade of scales that will weigh the whole family, should be bought. They won't cost much more than a baby scale. (The bathroom scales would not do for weighing a baby because its weight has to be taken by ounces.) You will save enough on your food bill to buy a good bathroom scale within a short time, and those of you who have a tendency to overweight, may always have to fight this tendency. So get yourself a scale if you possibly can.

Tomorrow: Mechanical Exercises While Reducing.

My dear followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Farewell Party

One of the delightful affairs of recent date was the dinner-dance given Friday evening at the Los Angeles Athletic Club by Mr. and Mrs. Conley Shoemaker of Philadelphia, who are enjoying the winter in Southern California. The affair was a farewell courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Julian Franklin, who returned yesterday to their home in New York City after several months' visit in Los Angeles. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Herman, Edward Herts and Harry Watson. Mr. and Mrs. Franklin entertained Thursday evening with a dinner for twelve guests at the Biltmore and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker were hosts at a dinner-dance at the Encino Country Club honoring Mr. and Mrs. Franklin several days ago.

Church Wedding

One of the prettily arranged weddings of the month was that of last Wednesday when Miss Katherine Hazel Kemp, daughter of Mrs. M. J. Kemp of 1129 West Twenty-first street, plighted her troth to Marion R. Deyo, son of Judge and Mrs. Frank Deyo of Buffalo, N. Y., the ceremony taking place in St. James's Methodist Church, Rev. A. F. Haffie officiating. The decorations were carried out with a profusion of ferns and the bridal party stood beneath an arch of ferns, from the center of which was suspended an immense wedding bell.

Miss Emmelina Kemp assisted her sister as maid of honor, while Miss Agnes Wood was bridesmaid. The bride was charming in her gown of white charmeuse satin with trimmings of pearls, the veil of tulle caught by sprays of orange blossoms and she carried an arm shower of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore rose-colored chiffon, while the bridesmaid, who is a cousin from Wakefield, Kan., was attired in Nile green and they both carried bouquets of pink sweet peas. Little Katherine Wrinkle in Nile green was the dainty flower girl and Junior Coleman in white Fauntleroy suit carried the ring on a white satin cushion.

Charles A. Rambo served Mr. Deyo as best man and the ushers were Dale Newton and Richard Sutton. Preceding the ceremony Miss Ruth Petterson Miller sang "Because," while Miss Mary Patterson presided at the pipe organ.

After the ceremony a wedding reception was given at the home of the bride's mother, where the decorations were carried out with flowers and ferns. Assisting Mrs. Kemp in receiving her guests was her mother, Mrs. C. H. Wood, who recently passed her eighty-eighth birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Deyo are away on their honeymoon and after their return will make their home with the bride's mother. The going-away gown was of Burgundy-hued cloth, with a velour coat to match and smart toque was of taffeta in the same colors.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Colored Handkerchiefs

So many of the brightly colored linen handkerchiefs wash absolutely white in a few launderings. When next you are tinting underwear drop in a few of these plain white hankies and produce a few in pastelle shades. They will be more interesting.

Straw Flowers

When our gardens are not a-blooming most of us who love flowers miss them in our homes. Perhaps the best substitute, that does not mean a florist bill, is the perky, cheerful little straw flower. They can be put in a vase or arranged in a holder in a bowl and add a touch of color where needed.

La Mode Shoes, Inc., is having their second annual clearance featuring fine footwear regularly priced to $20 for $10. Sale at 722 So. Flower St.

DOG GIVEN ONE BITE UNDER LAW

Ancient Rule Causes Loss of Damage Suit

Canine's Good Reputation is Testified To

Sum of $10,045 Sought by Bitten Baker Boy

"Every dog is entitled to one bite."

Coke wrote it down as a legal maxim centuries ago; Judge Thompson of the Superior Court applied it in Garrett vs. Rapp, in a judgment for the defendant.

Prior to the day that Charles Garrett, baker's salesman, stirred the suspicions of Max, highly pedigreed Dobermann Pinscher, belonging to Beulah T. Rapp, by entering his mistress's gate to vend his fragrant wares, Max had led a blameless life. And his innocent past came into the courtroom with him successfully to defend him against the indignation of his accuser.

For no one denied that Max had, as a matter of fact, helped himself to a nip out of the baker boy's arm. The proceedings never got that far. When the court was informed, without refutation, that the nip, even if indulged in by Max, had been his first, Judge Thompson promptly threw the proceedings out by way of a nonsuit.

GREAT ANGUISH

Garrett told his story, though. Max bit him in the arm, he said, immediately after he had entered the Rapp premises in the Wilshire district. The results, according to Garrett, were momentous. He was kept from his work a week by the wound, whereby he lost $40 in wages. He had to have a doctor dress it, charges $5. And the terror, fear and anguish he suffered during the episode and thereafter could be assuaged by no less sum than $10,000. Total, $10,045, in which amount judgment was prayed.

Defendant moved a nonsuit. Ponderous tomes were borne to the bench. The court read, pondered and delivered himself of the following finding:

"It is an ancient rule of the law that every dog is entitled to one bite. Superficially, indeed, a curious enough expression of that human wisdom of which the law is supposed to be the code, but entirely justified upon examination. For the law explicitly states that the owner of a dog of known vicious character is charged with responsibility for its acts. Failure to keep such a dog chained would be negligence, no doubt.

"But how shall a dog who never has manifested any vice, be supposed by its owner to be a dog of vicious character? There must be a first bite obviously, and hard as it may be upon the unfortunate victim of this, so to speak, maiden bite, he apparently is left without recourse.

"No showing has been made here that the dog Max had ever bitten before. Motion for nonsuit is therefore granted."

ROLLING GROCERIES TO BE TOPIC AT PARLEY

To discuss the problem of "rolling grocery stores," the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association will meet tomorrow night at the Express Auditorium, 240 South Hill street. J. A. Daley will be the principal speaker. Bread from a business and from a food value standpoint will be discussed by John H. Meyers of the Holsum Company, and by Prof. J. Lorenz Sporer.

WOMAN WINS HOMESTEAD

Sixteen Years of Toil to Reclaim Desert Tract Rewarded by Title to Land

Sixteen years of heart-rending toil to obtain final proof on a desert homestead claim in the Lucerne Valley were rewarded on New Year's Day when Mrs. Rose Koehly was granted title to 320 acres of land twenty-five miles east of Victorville. In announcing to the register and receiver of the local Land Office that he had dismissed a protest of the field division of the Land Office against granting final proof on the Koehly claim, the Commissioner of the Land Office wrote that Mrs. Koehly deserved title to the land inasmuch as she had been industrious and had shown good faith in efforts to comply with the law.

Year after year fortune was against Mrs. Koehly in her efforts to comply with the strict letter of the law. After various extensions of time in the procedure to qualify for final proof on her desert claim, Mrs. Koehly last summer faced the possibility of failure. Although formal action was taken by the field division to show that the terms of the law had not been met, J. H. Favorite, chief of the field division in California, Register Valentine and Receiver Smith recommended that Mrs. Koehly be granted title to her land.

Affidavits submitted to the commissioner of the Land Office showed Mrs. Koehly's husband in 1921 obtained title to 320 acres adjoining his wife's claim. Thereafter, it was shown, Mr. Koehly did what he could to assist in cultivating Mrs. Koehly's land. In the course of that work he was injured so that he was not able to work for two years. Meanwhile Mrs. Koehly cared for her husband and seven children while carrying on the outdoor work of the two ranches. Her cheerful and tireless effort to hold the land won the co-operation of the Land Office officials.

Police Charge Man Attempted to Pass One-Dollar Bill Raised to Ten; Assert Tools Found

With the arrest of two men late Saturday night, police believe they have put a stop to an asserted counterfeiting plot in which a number of Mexicans have been swindled.

Pedro Montoya, 27 years of age, was arrested by Officers Richards and Rayher after he had attempted to cash a bill on a North Main street dance hall.

The cashier detected that the bill was a $1 instead of a $10 bill, as Montoya claimed. The numbers had been erased from the $1 bill and the number ten pasted on it.

Montoya attempted to escape from the dance hall after he discovered that the cashier had detected the counterfeit, but was stopped by Officers Richards and Rayher, who were stationed at the entrance. Later the officers went to 420 Temple street and arrested Frank Brown, 22, room-mate of Montoya. There they confiscated a crude set of tools with which, it is asserted, the $1 bills had been raised. The two men will be turned over to Federal authorities.

GOVERNMENT SUES BANK

Would Recover Money Paid on Insurance Draft Asserting Payee's Name Forged

Action to recover $2689.52 asserted to have been paid on a forged government draft has been filed with the United States Court by John E. Simpson, assistant United States Attorney, against the Citizens' State Bank of Sawtelle.

The action grows out of the issuance of the draft in January, 1923, to John Simpson, a World War veteran residing at the Soldiers' Home. The name of the payee, it is asserted, was forged by another John Simpson, who was being cared for at the Home as a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

The Simpson to whom the money was paid, was arrested at Prescott, Ariz., in June, 1923, and was brought to Los Angeles by William Ashe of the United States secret service to answer a charge of forging a government obligation. According to Ashe, the defendant admitted having stolen and cashed the draft and having spent all the money for liquor purchased from bootleggers in Sawtelle. Simpson was indicted and pleaded guilty. He died in the County Hospital before being sentenced.

The draft, issued to Simpson, the World War veteran, was in payment of an insurance claim. Simpson, now at the Veterans' Hospital at Tucson, Ariz., will not receive the money due him from the government until the amount of the forged draft is recovered. The case pending against the Sawtelle bank involves a question of law hitherto unsettled, as to the ability of the government to recover money paid by banks on forged government checks.

MAN HURT BY FALLING CEMENT BRINGS SUIT

Suit for $10,000 damages for asserted personal injuries has been filed with the United States District Court by T. A. Wroth against the Port of Los Angeles Stevedoring and Ballast Company. The plaintiff charges the defendant company with negligence in the handling of cement that was being unloaded from the steamship Emma Maerck last April. He was struck, he avers, by several sacks of cement that fell from a sling.

LIBERTY PERCH OF SLAYER

Statue is Also Serving as Banquet Place for Hawk That Preys on Courthouse Pigeon Colony

Wild parties, according to many witnesses, are being held daily within a stone's throw of the Hall of Records! Not only that, but murder is being committed within sight of the windows of the District Attorney's office!

The parties are absolutely guaranteed to be wild because the host thereof is none other than a large duck hawk, a strange and unaccustomed visitor from far northern skies, which has, for reasons of his own, decided to settle among the pigeon colony that frequents the Courthouse roof.

Just how long he will stay is indefinite. Probably until he has made a meal from the last pigeon, County Forester Flintham, who first observed the strange visitor, thinks, or until a gun ends his daily number of fatalities.

For days, now, the big slate-colored bird, weighing many pounds and with a wing-spread designed to help him catch the fast-flying wild duck in full flight, has loitered near the Hall of Records, seemingly drawing a great deal of satisfaction out of the perturbation his appearance causes in the pigeon colony.

Not three, but about six meals a day seem to be the dining-room capacity of the big bird. Seating himself on the top of the Statue of Liberty that adorns one of the buildings he watches until some unwary bird flits away from the protective eaves of the Courthouse. Then he drops bullet-like, strikes his victim dead in the air and catches the falling body in vice-like talons. The Statue of Liberty also servise as a banquet table, County Forester Flintham observed.

The presence of the big hawk is most unusual, Flintham declared, its habitat being Alaska, and specimens are seldom seen farther south than Oregon. Driven by a large appetite, this one probably flew south with migrating ducks and, these failing him, looked for more abundant game. Others are inclined to give Southern California climate the credit for the new tourist influx, but the hawk remains silent on the matter.

Flintham has been informed by the museum at Exposition Park that they are desirous of the duck hawk as an exhibit, but when the Forester brought a shot gun into his offices on the ninth floor and raised the window for a good shot, Mr. Duck Hawk promptly flew away and spent the week-end elsewhere. However, he returned and yesterday took his usual toll among the pigeons. Today, though, he had best be wary, for plans are well under way that will end in his being stuffed with material other than pigeon flesh.

"OH DOCTOR!" FUNNY

REGINALD DENNY AMUSING IN WILSON STORY

By Grace Kingsley

If you don't get a laugh out of "Oh, Doctor!" you had better see a doctor!

"Oh, Doctor" is a film version of Harry Leon Wilson's story, and is showing at the California. It is all about the hypochondriacal Rufus Billup, and as a bright subtitle by Harvey Thew, remarks, "A hypochondriac is a person who is always sure he is dying, and spends his whole life proving it."

Harry Leon Wilson has always a rich undercurrent of whimsical humor and penetrating philosophy for all the farcical character of his plots. I felt vaguely disappointed, deep down in me somewhere, that for the most part these qualities were neglected in the film. But maybe Harry Pollard figured in translating everything into action. And, anyhow, "Oh, Doctor!" as I said before, is a very funny picture. I wonder, though, how Wilson liked the rough-and-tumble comedy of, say, the osteopath scenes.

Reginald Denny gives a capital performance of the youth who had imaginary ills wished on him in childhood, carried the burden into manhood, and then got an inferiority complex which ended in curing him when he finally decided to be like the movie brave, strong heroes whom his pretty nurse admired. Certainly it was amusing enough in itself to see the vigorous Denny playing those half-effeminate invalid scenes.

Just one flaw: Why, oh why, did Denny turn into a sap the minute he saw his pretty nurse? Rufus Billup was a person who took himself and his ills very seriously. And he had an acrid philosophy about women, too. All that delightful fun, and the way his nurse felt about his ideas of women, is left out. Yet, strangely enough, it was Mary Astor as the nurse, who more completely fulfilled than anybody else in the picture the spirit of the character she played. One felt all that dry humor, that charming, brisk good sense, yet that warm-hearted sympathy underneath, which Wilson put into the part.

Anyhow the most carping critic—if carping can be done with the meter on—couldn't help being delighted when the invalid begins to sit up and take notice. He drives a car wildly, gets hurt, sneaks off when his nurse isn't looking and rides a motorcycle, comes to grief, but all the time is looking for a bigger thrill. This he finds in painting a flagpole on a skyscraper!

Not since Harold Lloyd's "High and Dizzy," have we had a greater thrill than in the suspense of Denny clinging to that mast.

Right there comes in an ingenious touch, when the nurse gets those three guardians of the hero's fortune, who have loaned him money on it, to sign back their rights, as they view him about to topple from his lofty perch.

Denny is a most fascinating young actor, full of pep, and should reach great fame in such roles as this. He has a captivating smile, huge vitality, and no end of acting ability. Others besides himself and Miss Astor, who distinguish themselves, are Otis Harlan, William Mong, Tom Ricketts, Lucille Ward, Mike Donlin, Helen Lynch, Martha Mattox, Clarence Geldert, Blanche Payson, and George Kuwa.

Bobby Vernon and "French Pastry" are very, very amusing; Coster and Hewlett have exquisite voices and sang a grand-opera selection and a musical comedy number delightfully, and the remainder of the bill is good.

CORINNE GRIFFITH CHARMS AT LOEW'S

Corinne Griffith is so lovely that, when she is on the screen, you just can't care whether you like the story or her acting or not! That's an awful confession to make, of course, but let's tell the truth, let the chips fall where they may.

So in any case I liked her in "Love's Wilderness" at Loew's.

But I really don't believe that Corinne belongs to Love's or anybody else's wilderness. She is essentially of the sophisticated elite. I shall adore her in "Declasse," because there her taste, her fine sense of drama, her power of expressing delicate shades of emotion, will find full play.

In "Love's Wilderness" she is an exquisite oriental perfume wasted on a swamp; an orchid in the Main street of Picturedom. Yet she does really manage to look 15!

Miss Griffith has a power, a delicate, but tremendous potentiality, for sustaining the spirit of a character and story. And she can do it even when her acting is overacting or under-acting, as it often is. I don't know what this power is, unless it arises from an imagination more powerful than her ability to express herself—an ability to send thought and feeling across to an audience even when her technique is wrong, even when she is miscast in a part. And she has flashes of genius, and puts herself forth in moments of inspired acting. You forgive her the rest.

"Love's Wilderness" has a great smashing melodramatic climax. It arises from the situation in which the heroine finds herself when she is rescued by her convict husband who is supposed to be dead from storm and crocodile in the jungle, and faces, inarticulately and full of horror, her present husband, who comes to rescue her. Miss Griffith is simply superb here.

That jungle was most cunningly devised, with its swamps, its snakes and crocodiles, and most of all with its picturesque naked blacks with their slim, lithe bodies.

The picture is atmospheric in every scene, and the atmosphere really means something to each mood of the picture. Robert Leonard directed and we have to thank him for this excellent symbolic atmosphere. I think he is a master of this trick of the trade.

If you are looking for a good melodrama, you will find this one excellently made, most faithfully played, and entertaining every minute.

Ian Keith shows himself a fine instrument in the hands of drama—subtly effective as the fascinating ne'er-do-well who marries the young girl who is looking for romance. There are moments when he overacts—is actory—but maybe this is due to direction.

A very truthful portraiture of David Tenant is given us by Holmes Herbert; while Emily Fitzroy, Anne Schaffer, Frank Elliott and the others are entirely satisfactory.

I think there are moments when the action is a little bewildering. For instance, you aren't shown quite sufficiently that the heroine has gone into the jungle and is lost. She appears to have stepped out of her back door into the jaws of the crocodile.

"Wedding Showers" is a nice little comedy featuring Lige Conley, and Lipschulz's music is pleasing. But the Fanchon and Marco revue seemed not at all to fill the great open spaces of the Loew's stage. It was slow and stupid.

"BANDOLERO" PLEASES ON ALHAMBRA SCREEN

"The Bandolero," Tom Terriss' Metro-Goldwyn production, which was filmed abroad, is on view at the Alhambra Theater this week. It is a story of love and vendetta photographed in beautiful settings in Cuba, Spain and the United States.

The cast includes Pedro de Cordoba, in the title role, Renee Adoree, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Paul Ellis, Gordon Begg, Dorothy Ruth, Arthur Donaldson, Maria Valray and Jose Rueda. It is based on the novel by Paul Gwynne. Adapted and directed by Mr. Terriss.

WASPS ELECT OFFICERS

The Women's Association of Screen Publicists held its first meeting of the new year last Tuesday evening. After dinner officers who will serve during 1925 were installed, Carolyn Wagner, president; Agnes O'Malley of the Mack Sennett Studio, vice-president; Fanchon Royer, secretary; Lyn Bell of the Hal Roach Studio, treasurer and Elizabeth Riordan of the Fox studios, press representative.

MYSTERY FAILS TO MYSTIFY

BY KENNETH TAYLOR

A hasty flight through Florida's Everglades with the hero, who is doing the fleeing, running into all kinds of snakes and crocodiles, is the one novel touch in "Ramshackle House," showing this week at the Cameo. Even though he is shown in actual danger only once, the flashes of coiled reptiles and flashing teeth are capable of providing a thrill at times.

"Ramshackle House" stars Betty Compson. It has a good-looking young chap named Robert Lowing as the male lead, and John Davidson does the villaining. All are capable players. But unfortunately, there is little for them to do. The hero has no backbone; the heroine knows all, sees all infallibly, and the villain is a sneaking specimen, who couldn't get by in real life half as long as he does on the screen. Thoroughly cut and dried, all of them.

The plot is of the type known as a mystery story. Which means, usually, and this is no exception, that the audience is fully aware of the solution the moment the major situation is given. It remains seated merely as a matter of courtesy, or possibly, curiosity, as to whether it might by chance be mistaken. Incidentally, the title means nothing.

Century comedies as a rule are nothing to get excited over. Once in a while you will strike one that is funny. The one on the Cameo bill this week tags along with the rest in this respect. It has a few laughs, well scattered. It also has Wanda Wiley, who possesses one of the most expressive sets of features in comedy today. A series of situations that ramble around aimlessly forms the plot. And while Miss Wiley is not exceptional as a comedienne, she has personality enough to bind all the many parts into one compact whole.

Mrs. Carter to Give First of Concert Series

Mrs. J. J. Carter, devotee of music and art, whose aim is making the best music a part of the people, and who has won international attention, will present the first of her morning musicales at the Biltmore Hotel today at 10 a.m. This is the music department of the American College Salon, of which Mrs. Carter is associate president and chairman of music.

Mrs. Carter is beginning, at this first event, with Beethoven, and she will give a review of Romaine Rolland's book on this composer. Also she will tell some of her own experiences as a student in Vienna in the Beethoven haunts.

"For the first time in years," Mrs. Carter stated during a recent conversation, "I am playing four-hand arrangements of some of the best-known symphonies. Mrs. Kenneth Bissel will play the other part. We shall give the themes from the Eroica, the Fifth, and the Andante from the First symphony."

Mr. A. J. Kisselbirgh is singing the beautiful bass aria from "Fidelio," with May MacDonald Hope at the piano. Mme. Lili Petschnikoff will play the Romanza in G from a violin concerto.

The study of Beethoven will be continued at the February meeting, when the immortal Ninth Symphony will be discussed. Mrs. Carter stated that an effort will be made to produce this work at the Hollywood Bowl Summer Symphony Concerts this year. The two most important purposes of the club are to create appreciative listeners and to help and foster creative talent.

PLAIN GIRL FEATURED IN RIALTO PHOTOPLAY

All girls are not beautiful—or vampish. And as most dramas center about beauty, many are enjoying the novelty of witnessing the triumphant romance of a plain girl as developed by "The Dark Swan" at the Rialto Theater. This is the Warner Brothers picturization of Ernest Pascal's novel directed by Millard Webb.

Monte Blue as the "one man in the world," is entirely human, and Marie Prevost as Eve, the pretty but shallow sister, acts her role so well that she is genuinely hated by every woman in the audience. It is a real tribute to Helene Chadwick to say that she is great as the plain sister, Cornelia. John Patrick brings a light touch to the role of the "play boy" that makes it agreeable. Arthur Rankin, Lilyan Tashman and Vera Lewis also play important parts.

DENNY, LA PLANTE SCORE AT TALLY'S

George Barr McCutcheon, always versatile, may have won fame with his "Graustark" stories, but it was cinched for him so far as the screen drama is concerned when Reginald Denny and Laura La Plante romped through "The Fast Worker," now showing at Tally's Theater.

The story deals with a man who agrees, to help a friend wage a commercial fight, to assume his friend's identity and prove an alibi. Richard Tucker plays the harassed financier; Denny is the friend.

Others in the cast include Ethel Grey Terry, Muriel Frances Dana, Betty Morrissey, Lee Moran.

CHANEY AT FINEST

"HE WHO GETS SLAPPED" HAS MARK OF QUALITY

By Edwin Schallert

Magic evidently has been exerted by the arrival of "He Who Gets Slapped" on the screen here. For the crowds thronged to the Criterion Theater yesterday and Saturday to behold the opening showings of this production.

Lon Chaney's presence as the featured player, and the widely proclaimed attractions of the picture undoubtedly provided a beacon for popular interest, and deservedly so. "He Who Gets Slapped" makes a deep impression through its gemlike pictorial beauty, its rare theatrical effectiveness and the splendid smoothness of the individual players' performances.

It may not be in every sense a great picture by virtue of the consistency of its plot unfoldment, though few objections are to be raised even in this regard, but it is indeed an achievement of remarkable quality and beauty. For many, in truth, its possession of this quality and this beauty will dignify it as one of the finest achievements of the films.

"He Who Gets Slapped" is the second picture made by Victor Seastrom since he came to this country. The first was "Name the Man," which is well remembered.

Seastrom's direction is distinctive. It has a certain melancholy, and something of cutting irony, but the art values run high. You do not forget the impression that his work makes immediately after you leave the theater, and especially is this true of some of those scenes in which Chaney triumphs.

I do not know that this production will touch the heart deeply, though it may. It is a certainty, at any rate, that it will fascinate the imagination.

While the theme of the clown suffering and sorrowing, but forced to present a semblance of gayety to the world, is rather threadbare in its appeal, it survives a repetition with such clever treatment as that of Mr. Seastrom. Some credit belongs, too, no doubt, to Carey Wilson who collaborated on the scenario.

Those who know Andreyev's play will find it changed in some particulars. There is a love interest between Consuelo and Bezano, the two circus riders" that is carried through to a happy culmination that never existed definitely in the original tragedy. Count Mancini still tries to sell his lovely daughter to Baron Regnard, however. But instead of killing Consuelo and then poisoning himself as in the stage play "He" turns the plots and plans of the grasping father, and the dissolute nobleman into a Roman holiday when he manages to place them at the mercy of a lion from the show.

To have put "He Who Gets Slapper" on the screen as it was originally written would have been difficult. As a matter of fact, it would probably not have been so pictorial as the present version. The only detriment to the Seastrom adaptation is that somewhat too much interest goes to Bezano and Consuelo to keep the drama properly centralized, but even this phase has been very cleverly managed.

Chaney is at his very finest. He proves that he is just as much the finished actor, as he is the clever creator of masks and makeups. His death scene is as vivid as anything I have viewed in a long time, and the glimpse where the light fades out on him as he is looking at the prop heart earlier in the picture is tremendously fine.

Norma Shearer has never appeared lovelier than in hte white, airy garb of the circus rider. Her beauty apparently gains by such fluffiness. Her acting is on the par with the very best that she has offered in charming expressions.

Jack Gilbert will not be the sensation in this picture that he has been in certain others of recent date, but that is chiefly because of lack of opportunities. Tully Marshall and Marc MacDermott do two of the finest character portrayals of the current season.

The presentation with orchestral numbers, and an excerpt from "Pagliacci" is in the appropriate mood, while the Van Bibber comedy, featuring Earle Foxe, is good for many laughs.

CROCODILE TRAILS TORRENCE AROUND

Pursued by a man-eating crocodile! Such was the experience of Ernest Torrence in the picturization of J. M. Barrie's "Peter Pan," at Grauman's Million Dollar Theater. Followed from sea to sea by a ferocious creature who had already eaten one of his hands and liked the experience so well as to want the rest, Torrence knew no rest as Capt. Hook in Herbert Brenon's production.

Once, while the jaws of the crocodile gaped wide open to swallow him, Hook threw a clock into the opening. As the crocodile follows him, the ticking of the clock is the only thing which warns the pirate in time to escape. The crocodile finally aids "Peter Pan" in rescuing the group of Little Lost Boys who have been captured by the pirates.

"NIGHTIE NIGHT" IN THIRD WEEK OF RUN

The third week of "Nightie Night" the Martha M. Mathews and Adelaide Stanley success at the Morosco Theater, began yesterday. "Nightie Night" is one of the funniest dramas seen here for a long time.

Charlotte Treadway, Harland Tucker, Gayne Whitman, Fannie Yantis, Jane Morgan, Symona Boniface, John O'Connell, Joseph Eggenton and Harry Hoyt comprise the cast.

Augustin J. Glassmire directed this and the scenic effects add to the play noticeably.

CHOIR MAKES FINAL APPEARANCE TONIGHT

The second and farewell program of the St. Olaf choir tonight at the Philharmonic Auditorium promises to be another treat for local music lovers.

Dr. F. Melius Christiansen, the leader and director of this choir, introduced masterpieces that have existed for hundreds of years through their innate qualities of greatness. He understands the human voice in choral singing and has produced the finest results that have ever been achieved in this country.

WOULD YOU INVEST
IF YOU COULD REALIZE
WITHOUT YOUR SERVICES?
The above is a rather unusual offer, but this company has an unusual piece of merchandise which has a national demand, and a larger market than any other article going into the same field. Its plan of distribution excels any plan ever conceived and successfully applied to any similar merchandise. The investment is not stock, but is a royalty on the manufacture of its product. The company manufacturing has been established 18 years in Los Angeles, owns its building and all equipment paid for. The distributor has offices all over the United States. Production is well established and large returns have been paid right along to investors. There is only $10,000 left and this amount is being offered on the same basis as the original capital that has already been paid in. You cannot afford to pass judgment on this unusual offering without investigation. Any lawyer, banker or financial friend will indorse it for you. In your reply state amount you can have available for investment; whether it is one, five or the whole ten thousand that remains. Also give address and phone number so appointment can be made for personal interview and investigation. Address E, box 409, TIMES BRANCH.

IF YOUR present business is not paying you $150 per week, why not take up something that will. This is a closed corporation, with fast-selling product, and business method for marketing that makes a success for you. JUDGE TO LOOK OVER ROAD SITE

Will Make Personal Survey of Malibu Ranch Tract

Widely Different Estimates of Damages Made

Judge F. H. Valentine of Superior Court, accompanied by attorneys, will make a personal survey today and tomorrow of the strip of land, nineteen miles long, running through the Malibu Ranch north of Santa Monica, which the county is seeking to condemn for State highway purposes.

The survey will be made preliminary to the taking of testimony in connection with the condemnation suit instituted by the county against the Marblehead Land Company and other owners of the land involved.

Appraisers for the county have fixed the value of the strip at approximately $50,000, while the defendants assert they will be damaged to the extent of $9,410,000 by the condemnation.

The county took possession of the land early last year after a sum considered commensurate to the damages of condemnation had been deposited in a local bank for the protection of the ranch owners.

The defendants assert the county plans to take approximately 180 acres of the most valuable land in the ranch, which extends along the coast line for a distance of more than twenty miles.

The land owners, in their answer, valued 132 acres of this land at $7,390,000 and the remainder at $300,000. They also assert it will cost $54,000 to construct the fences along the right of way to prevent the public trespassing on the ranch lands.

SENTIMENT IN CANDY IS NEW ANGLE

Idea Will be Introduced at Western Association Convention Here

For the first time, it is believed by local members of the Western Confectioners' Association, the element of sentiment in merchandising of a manufactured product will be introduced at their convention here.

Introduction of this subject will be made, E. A. Hoffman, Los Angeles member of the convention program committee, said yesterday, when the Western Confectioners hold their tenth annual convention in the Biltmore for four days beginning next Monday.

"Candy expresses sentiment, like flowers," Hoffman said. "During the convention our membership will be urged to prepare and pack their products with that idea in mind. Throughout, the production of confectionery will be elevated to a higher scale when this precept has been adopted by every person, who handles a box of candy before it reaches the ultimate purchaser."

More than 150 confectioners, owners of plants, total valuations of which reach more than $20,000,000, will attend the meeting. They will be drawn here from eight Western States, and it is predicted by Hoffman that whatever action the convention takes will be adopted by the eastern confectioners when their convention is held this summer.

RESERVISTS EXPECTING BUSY YEAR

Newly Elected Officers Will be Installed at Banquet Friday

Notable developments in military affairs in Southern California are expected to occur during the coming year in the Los Angeles sector, Association of the Army of the United States, new officers for which will be installed at a banquet Friday at 6 p.m. at the City Club.

The work of the association is expected to have an important part in the military movements in this section, due to the fact that Los Angeles is the center for organization work in Southern California under the National Defense Act. Several thousand civic leaders, business and professional men in Southern California now hold commissions in the Officers' Reserve Corps.

Officers to be installed by Los Angeles Sector, the parent body of the national association, include Lieut.-Col. Perry W. Weidner, president; Maj. Hewett Callender, first vice-president; Lieut. Roy Gradle, second vice-president; Maj. Edward Arthur Evans, third vice-president; Maj. Frank Drake, secretary; Lieut. L. A. Farnum, assistant secretary; Capt. Clayton C. Luckey, treasurer; Capt. Gordon Palmer, chaplain, and Maj. E. S. Longley, judge-advocate.

Maj. Reginald H. Kelley, infantry, United States Army, will address the meeting on the solution of a map problem involving the defense of the Pacific Coast region. Dean William MacCormack will deliver an address on "Impression."

CHEER FOR 33,785 AT YULETIDE

Clearing Bureau Reports on Families Aided During Holiday Season

Report of work of the Christmas Clearing Bureau as announced Saturday by the City Social Service Commission shows that an estimated total of 33,785 needy persons, representing thirty-eight nationalities, were reached during the holiday season. Of this number approximately 20,000 were Mexicans, the report shows.

Christmas baskets were given to 6757 families, almost 2000 more than were distributed in 1923, according to the report. Through the work of the bureau duplication of gifts to families was avoided in 18 per cent of the cases.

Special gifts, including 584 toys and dolls, were given to children during the season. Other articles included clothing, books, quilts, milk, groceries and candy. Donations amounting to $21 were received by the bureau to apply on the purchase of a set of artificial limbs for a cripple.

More than $200 was raised through efforts of the bureau to assist in making a real Christmas for the 250 children at the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Clinic.

M'Coy Bribery Suspect Egged on, Says Friend

Only because of the persuasion of friends did Wilbur Campbell, indicted for attempting to influence a member of the Kid McCoy jury, call Juror John J. Apffel on the telephone, according to Raymond Wells, a friend of Campbell's, who was quoted in a report made out yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Collins and King, who have been seeking the indicted man.

The report concludes the first phase of the hunt, which began last Friday after the grand jury decided Campbell must face a jury for asserted offers of "big money" to Apffel.

The deputies reported that Friday morning they went to Campbell's parking station at Thirty-fourth street and Central avenue, where they were told by Ellis Davis, the man's partner, that he had not seen him for two days. At Campbell's home, 810 South Alvarado street, the officers were told that Campbell was gone, without leaving any clew to his destination.

They then went to La Mesa, near San Diego, where Wells, a motion-picture producer, gave them his opinion of Campbell's asserted conduct.

YOUNG MAN ARRESTED AS BURGLAR SUSPECT

IDENTIFICATION OF ASSERTED PROWLER IS MADE BY APARTMENT TENANT

Found loitering in the vicinity of 349 South Rampart Boulevard where tenants of an apartment-house had told the police they had seen a prowler, E. Jarmon, alias J. E. Emiles, 27 years of age, of 1984 Park Grove avenue, was arrested early yesterday by Detectives Grant and Towne of Wilshire division.

The officers had answered the prowler call and were looking for the man when they ran across Jarmon. He was taken by them to the apartment-house and was reported to have been identified by Mrs. E. F. Jean, one of the tenants, as the man she had seen in a corridor. The officers booked him at the City Jail on suspicion of burglary.

LOUIS IS CONSUL FROM PERU TO SAN DIEGO

E. J. Louis, whose complaint regarding the asserted attempts of a Los Angeles woman to blackmail him caused an investigation by the District Attorney's office, is Consul from Peru to San Diego instead of to Los Angeles as stated in an article appearing in The Times. The inadvertent error was pointed out in a letter from Manual L. Ayulo, Peruvian Consul to Los Angeles. Louis, however, is secretary of the Consular Corps in Los Angeles, the local Consul's office stated.

BANK BANDIT SCHOOL SEEN

Robbery of West Side Institution Indicates Gang of Novices Being Trained by Expert Leaders

That they are coping with a newly-organized gang of bandits whose crimes include bank hold-ups as a branch of criminal activity was the conclusion of police and deputy sheriffs yesterday as they set to work to apprehend the men who escaped with approximately $5000 from the West Side State Bank at 4600 West Washington street Saturday evening.

The police assumption is based upon the actions of the four men who entered the bank shortly before the closing hour and held customers and bank employees at bay while they scooped up all the currency in sight, in addition to a small amount which they forced Manager W. M. Butler to take from a vault.

CRIME SCHOOL SEEN

Victims of the hold-up recounted to Detective Lieutenants Ryan and Williams and Officer Dustin of Wilshire division, and Deputy Sheriff Marty Brooks that the leader of the gang continually admonished one of his "men" to "keep cool."

This led to the belief that experienced criminals have taken less experienced youths in tow for the purpose of teaching them the "ethics" of criminal careers.

In addition to this, the method of procedure employed was similar to that used by bandits in several other bank hold-ups in Los Angeles and vicinity, and police think that the remnants of other bandit gangs disrupted by them have formed a new combination with "recruits" to fill out their depleted ranks.

As in previous instances, however, good descriptions of the men, taken in conjunction with more or less familiar actions, lead police to the belief that arrests may be expected soon.

DEPOSITOR ROBBED

A. R. Collins and James Marine, teller and book-keeper, respectively, were made to lie face down upon the floor when the bandits entered. Mrs. E. P. Harris, assistant cashier, J. Kurland of 1641 Norwood avenue, and two other customers awaiting service, were forced to the rear of the bank. Kurland, who had $140 in his hand to deposit, was robbed of it but the other depositors were not molested. While this was being done, another of the bandits drew the window shades so passers-by would not realize that a hold-up was in progress and then all the currency in view was taken.

NEAR CENTENARIAN IS DEAD

H. A. Williams, Azusa Pioneer, Lacked Twenty-five Days of Reaching Century Mark

With only twenty-five days to elapse before his one-hundredth birthday, Henry A. Williams, pioneer grocer of Azusa, died yesterday after a life of service to the community in which he served as the first Mayor and the chairman of the first School Board of Azusa.

During the funeral services, which will be conducted at 2 p.m. today from the White Funeral Home in Azusa, all the business houses of the town will be closed in respect to the passing of one of its most prominent citizens. Interment will be at the Oakdale Cemetery near Azusa.

Mr. Williams was 99 years, 11 months and four days old at the time of his death. He was born in Chelsea, Vt., February 6, 1825, moved to Wisconsin in his early boyhood and then to California in 1887. After living a year at Santa Ana he moved to Azusa, then a trading point for miners, and established a grocery store.

The same building in which he operated in 1888 houses Williams's grocery store now. Mr. Williams had remained in active charge until shortly before his death, which was due to old age.

As first Mayor of Azusa, Mr. Williams served two years. Later he became chairman of the school board when the first school was established. He was continuously interested in civic matters.

Mr. Williams leaves three grandchildren, Henry O. and Fred E. Williams and Mrs. Oliver S. Powell of Azusa.

The pioneer grocer will be buried beside his late wife, Julia Ann Williams, who died two years ago.

WIFE, GIRL SISTERS IN SORROW

Wedded Man With Three Children Asserted to Have Deceived Maid, Leading Her to Believe He Was Single; Divorce Granted Wife; Other Seeks Annulment

Sisters in sorrow, they came into court together to seek what remedy the law might afford two victims of one man's weakness—the wife and the girl he is accused of having deceived.

The man was Eugene G. Bryant. Mrs. Verda M. Bryant told her story first.

"I could not believe it when I heard it," she said. "But friends told me he had married a young girl, and told me where I could find her. All he could say when I asked him about it was 'I know I did wrong but it's too late now.'"

Then the girl took the stand, Virginia M. Boyd. She is 19 years of age.

"He asked me to marry him. I loved him and I did. Then after several months I learned he had a wife and three children. And now I have a baby, too," she told Judge Gates, who heard the stories in Mrs. Bryant's suit for divorce.

"And what is this man doing about these four children?" the court inquired.

"He is doing the best he can to support them all," Mrs. Bryant said. The girl at her side nodded in confirmation.

"Seven lives blighted by one man's folly," the court remarked. "Decree granted."

Miss Boyd told the court that she plans to bring a suit for annulment as soon as she can.

Pidgin-German Plea Put Up to Puzzle Experts

City Electrician Manahan will this morning find on his desk a strange letter which was handed around at the City Hall for several days and finally referred to the electrical department. The letter was as follows:

"Dier sier number 1115; est 28 st Electric lithe is very danger Pleas sand ingespattr for vestichetin."

City Hall clerks, stenographers, City Councilmen, draftsmen, engineers—all took a whack at trying to figure out what the letter was about. A conference was held which was attended by the champion cross-word puzzle solvers at the Hall and it was decided that the letter, which was unsigned, was a complaint about a dangerous electric street light near 1115 East Twenty-eighth street.

The City Electrician will send an inspector to that address and if he finds no electric light there, then the letter will become a City Hall mystery until the writer appears at the Hall to translate it.

HERMIT'S PEACE IS THREATENED

Arroyo Seco Recluse Under Official Quiz

Woman Objects to Building of Tin Shacks

Health Department Sleuth to Stalk Victim

Who is the hermit of the Arroyo Seco? Why is he a hermit? Did he, years ago, have a love affair that went on the rocks or do the automobile horns of Los Angeles annoy him? Has he long, moth-eaten whiskers that need a thorough dry-cleaning, as have all journeymen members of the Hermits' Union? And, why in the world does he have three shacks and divide his time between them instead of having one real house?

Some of these perplexing questions which have long been bothering the residents of the northeast section of the city may be answered today when the investigator of the Health Department fares forth to trap the hermit.

Up to this time, the hermit has been left alone and undisturbed for years. This is apparently the very thing he wanted when he bade good-bye to lavender pajamas, worries with street cars and spark plugs that refused to spark, landlords who demanded rents and mail carriers who delivered those miserable letters with windows in them from which peeked "please remit" billet doux from loving tradesmen, and hied himself to the rocks of the Arroyo.

The hermit can blame his troubles on Mrs. Mary Libby Gerry of 215 Baldwin street.

She had stood the hermit for years as he leaped from crag to crag in the Arroyo and had said nothing, until he finally began to build himself not one but three shacks, she said, out of tin cans and other debris. One of them is near her home. It is a nuisance, she reported to the City Council, and an eyesore.

Mind you, she does not hate the hermit, she said. If he wants to do his hermiting in the Arroyo, it is O. K. with Mrs. Gerry, but she does object to those shacks.

Now the Council had never heard of the hermit until Mrs. Gerry's letter was read. The Council had heard of civic centers, and district representation, pay roll patriots, who are always seeking salary increases, traffic congestion, pavements that wear out before they are paid for, the frantic cries of police chiefs for more policemen, and divers other matters of municipal concern, but it had never heard of the Arroyo Seco hermit.

And so, when Mrs. Gerry's letter arrived and was read it aroused interest as something new and refreshing amid the drab routine of trying to make the city's income of $18,000,000 do the work of $22,000,000. So the Health Department was instructed to make an investigation and report.

The Health Department will try to trap the hermit, give him a good talking to, make him tear down his shacks and live in a real house. But maybe news of the discovery of the hermit has reached him ere this and by the time the inspector arrives, the hermit will be far way from the Arroyo crying as he left, "Why could not that woman leave a poor hermit alone?" and asking, if there was no way in which a man could have peace and quiet in this world without being bothered by a woman!

Eight new city playgrounds will be opened for public use within the near future, C. B. Raitt, superintendent of the Playground Commission, has announced. Sites for the areas have been secured, Raitt said, and the transactions virtually closed.

NEW "EPIDEMIC" IS UNDER FIRE

Officials Join Hands to Halt Two Foreign Games of Chance

City Prosecutor Friedlander and Lieut. Davis of the police vice squad, have joined hands to repress two new epidemics.

It was revealed in the City Prosecutor's annual report that thirty-two persons had been arrested for playing Pangini and six for playing Barbudi.

"If these games get a start here they will sweep the city like cross-word puzzles," the officials explained.

Pangini is said to be a game of Greek origin in which seven decks of cards, minus the eights, nines and tens, are used. It is a very fast game from a gambler's standpoint. Barbudi is said to have originated in Turkey and to be as rapid as Pangini in transferring money from losers to winners. Pangini is winning many adherents at Deauville, France, it is said.

CITY BOARD TO TAKE UP COURT ACT

Measure to Authorize Creating Tribunal to be Discussed Today

The Mayor's committee on municipal Courts will meet at the City Hall at 1 o'clock this afternoon to organize and begin work on an enabling act to present to the Legislature under which Los Angeles will be authorized to create a municipal court in accordance with a constitutional amendment approved by the voters at the last State election.

The members of the committee are President Workman of the City Council, Police Judges Chambers and Frederickson, Special Counsel Mathews of the Public Service Commission, City Attorney Stephens, former Judge Leslie R. Hewitt and City Prosecutor Friedlander. Workman stated his opposition to any enabling act that would transfer control of the municipal court to the county government so that the city would lose the fines from the police courts, which this year will amount to $1,000,000.

Committee Sees University Site on Palos Verdes

Henry W O'Melveny

Investigation of the possibilities of the proposed site on the Palos Verdes Hills for the new Southern Branch of the University of California, was made yesterday by the committee headed by Henry W. O'Melveny, which is acting in the matter for the regents of the university. Five members from the sixteen chambers of commerce which are urging the Palos Verdes site met them at Redondo and accompanied them in a thorough inspection of the 1000-acre tract. J. H. Kibler of Hermosa Beach headed the committee from the chambers of commerce and the other members were A. E. Henning of San Pedro; James F. Collins, Long Beach; Dick Whittington, Gardena; J. W. Waite, Lomita, and H. G. Cooper of Redondo.

The land in question is owned at present by a syndicate of New Yorkers. Through their Los Angeles representative, Jay Lawyer, an option has been secured by the representatives of the chambers of commerce for a period long enough for the university and Legislature to take action.

OXFORD DEBATE HERE THURSDAY

What is expected to be the most thrilling college debate in the West for many years will be the forensic contest at the University of Southern California next Thursday evening when the debating team of that institution will debate with the team sent to this country by Oxford College of England, representing the leading college debaters in England.

Another point of interest in the debate will be the subject of prohibition, the subject to be: "Resolved: that this house is opposed to the principles of prohibition," it being understood that each team will endeavor to present the national ideals of each country, the Americans where prohibition is in force to present that side and the English to present the opposition. The title of the debate is worded to conform to the English custom which allows the audience to judge the winners rather than the system of judges, as used in American college debates.

The debate, which will be open to the public on a small admission fee, will be held in Bovard Auditorium of the university. Mayor Cryer will preside. Coach Allan Nichols of the U.S.C. debating department has selected well-known U.S.C. debators to represent that institution, including Ned Lewis, president of the Associated Students of the university, Bernard Brennan and William Barber.
